

Photographed above is a winter view of the roadside table area at Bill's Hill, a few miles from Montague. This area has been cleared for a picnic area by the Junior Board of Trade of Montague and every effort has been made to make it an attractive place for travellers to stop for lunch. Last summer four tables were placed in the area and a pump was installed for the convenience of the public. Many favorable comments were made regarding this site. This year the Board plans to erect a paling fence around the back of the area to give it the necessary finishing touch.

HEATHER LINDA CUDMORE

At Winsloe North on January 16th, 1956, in the early dawn of the morning, the gentle spirit of Heather Linda Cudmore, little daughter of Preston and Helan Stewart. Cudmore left its earthly tabernacle to be forever with the Lord. Although scarcely over three years of age, she bravely bore her sufferings of over a year which necessitated repeated trips to hospital at home and Toronto.

All that loving hands could do was done but to no avail. Jesus in his wisdom reached down and released her from her infirmities and took her home.

We'll know why clouds instead of sun were over many a cherished plan. Why song has ceased, when scarce begun.

Up there, some day, we'll understand.

Of a cheerful and friendly disposition, she endeared herself to all who had the privilege of knowing her. Her loss in the home will be keenly felt by Daddy, Mommy, Arthur and Guy. Also left to mourn are four grandparents, uncles and aunts.

The service was held in the little church nearby and although the weather and the roads were very disagreeable, many gathered from far and near to pay their last respects to a little child.

Heber Hardy, took to his text, "He shall not return to me." 11 Samuel 12:23. He spoke many words of comfort to the bereaved family.

Miss Doris Younker sang feelingly "There's a friend for little children above the bright blue sky." Other hymns sung were, "Jesus bids us shine," "When the roll is called up yonder," and "Safe in the arms of Jesus," all favorites with little Heather.

Pallbearers were four uncles: Clayton and Keith Cudmore, Guy and Wilfred Stewart.

Flowerbearers were: Allison Stewart, Winston Stewart, Malcolm Darrach, George A. D. M., James Cudmore and Glydon Maund.

The remains were laid to rest in the church cemetery.

Inquest Exonerates Snow Plow Operators In Fatality

A coroner's jury last night found that Glenwood Harold Joseph Redmond came to his death at the Kings County Hospital on February 8, 1956, as the result of injuries sustained on accidentally falling from a Department of Highways snowplow at Cardigan on February 7, 1956. We believe that the operators of the said plow should be exonerated of all blame in this incident.

The inquest was held at the Legion Hall at Montague with coroner Dr. G.S.A. Inman presiding. Crown Prosecutor, J.P. Nicholson, conducted the enquiry.

The first witness, Dr. P. McIntyre of Montague stated that he had seen Redmond at the hospital about 6 p.m. and that he was in a state of severe shock. He said that he did not seem to be suffering much pain and did not complain of pain. Dr. McIntyre said he was unable to find any signs of external injury, and was called again when Mr. Redmond passed away.

The report of the pathologist who conducted the autopsy was read by Dr. Inman. It said in part that there were only a few external marks, but that a number of ribs on the left side had been fractured which had lacerated the lung, causing extensive bleeding. Death, the report said, was due to continuous internal haemorrhage.

Mr. Ira MacMillan of Corraville said he had seen Redmond that day around 5 p.m. near Cardross School. He said Redmond told him he had been hauling pulp with his truck. He later got in MacMillan's car and the two left to find a Mr. Sharkey's car which was supposed to be coming from Cardigan and which have run into difficulties because of the heavy snowstorm. The witness said they met Sharkey and came back following his car.

Redmond then got in his truck and followed him (MacMillan) for some distance. At Flynn's Hill, Redmond could not get his truck up the hill, so he left the truck there and joined MacMillan, and the two after a visit at the home of Thomas Flynn went to Cardigan. At All Saints Church the car got stuck.

They went to Cardigan for help and he asked Mr. Francis Sheppard plow dispatcher for a plow to get the car out. Mr. Sheppard refused as it was contrary to policy. Later when he saw that the car might be a danger on the highway, he gave permission and the two plow operators, Cecil Rice, and Mack MacKenzie, and himself and Mr. Redmond left for Mr. Rice's home where the plow was located. They all had a drink of whiskey, and then all got in the cab and started out for the car. They arrived about five yards from the car and Mr. Rice stopped to change gears.

NOT IN CAB

The witness said that it was only then that he noticed that Mr. Redmond was not in the cab and immediately shouted to the operator to hold the plow. He said he had been standing in front of Redmond and had been unable to see him since they had left Mr. Rice's home. The witness said he jumped out of the plow, saw Redmond between the wheels and tried to get him out. He and Mr. MacKenzie were unsuccessful and Mr. Rice moved the plow ahead a couple of inches which freed the victim's clothing and permitted them to pull him out.

The witness said he went for Rev. J.P.E. O'Hanley at the Parochial House. They put Redmond in MacMillan's car and followed the plow to the Montague Hospital.

Cattle Breeders Meeting Held At Souris Yesterday

Mr. Robert Pierce, agricultural representative for Kings County, presided at the cattle breeders meeting held at St. Mary's parish hall, Souris, yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the formation of an Artificial Insemination Unit Club in this area. Dr. George Fisher, Provincial Animal Pathologist and Director of Veterinary Service, was the guest speaker. He spoke in detail on the arguments for and against artificial insemination and also on the organization of a unit in the Souris area.

He traced the history of Artificial Insemination in Canada and specifically in the Maritimes, and its growth in P.E.I. "the provinces" he said, "Receives its supplies from Fredericton, N.B., which is placed as a first class unit". He explained the details of the organization of a group of East Prince County, and further substantiated his remarks by statistics. He also explained that there was no veterinarian in North Kings at the present time owing to conditions, but that every effort was being made to have this situation rectified.

A board of directors was appointed and consisted of the following: Fred Aitken, Fortune, Howard Campbell, Campbell's Cove; Charles MacDonald, Souris River; Ernest Underway, Eglington; Major Reid, Rollo Bay; Peter MacAulay, Chepstow; Ernest Morrow, Elmira Charles Ching, Red Point and Bernard MacDonald, Bear River.

One man in each of the thirty-three school districts was appointed to complete a survey of those who are interested in having such a club formed, and their report will be sent to Dr. Fisher, who, if sufficient show interest and there are sufficient cattle, will proceed to set up the organization.

was similar to that of the previous witness. He said that four did not overcrowd the cab. He stated that it would have been possible for Redmond to grasp the handle of the door without MacMillan seeing him and on opening the door the high wind would whip open the door carrying Redmond with it. He said he operated a maintainer plow with the grader blade. He said he did not know exactly where the position of the blade was at that particular time and could have been in line with the step or ahead of it. He said he stopped the machine as soon as he heard MacMillan's shout and later got out to help them remove him from between the wheels.

Mack MacKenzie, assistant operator, gave much the same evidence, stating that he had last seen Redmond on the seat when the plow was some distance away from the car, but had then watched the side of the plow to prevent the plow running into the car. He said he only noticed the door open when MacMillan shouted.

Francis Sheppard, snow plow dispatcher, said that MacMillan had come to him for the plow, but that he had refused permission, but later when asked by Mr. Redmond who explained the hazard on the highway, he permitted the plow to go to that point to clear the road, a distance of about a half mile. He said he gave permission, when he learned of the accident, for the plow to precede the car to the hospital.

The jurors then retired to bring in the above verdict.

The members of the jury were: Ralph Beck foreman, Doug Coffin Ken Clements, Peter Sinclair, James Cudmore, Claude Nicholson Neil Hooley.
