

Three Words of Strength.

There are three lessons I would write—
Three words as with a burning pen—
In tracings of eternal light,
Upon the hearts of men.

Have HOPE. Though clouds environ now,
And gladness hides her face in scorn,
Put thou the shadow from thy brow;
No night but hath its morn.

Have FAITH. Where e'er thy bark is driven—
The calm's disport, the tempest's mirth—
Know this: God rules the host of heaven,
The inhabitants of earth.

Have LOVE; and not alone for one,
But man as man, thy brother call;
And scatter like the circling sun,
Thy charities on all.

Engrave these lessons on thy soul—
Hope, Faith and Love—and thou shalt find
Strength where life's surges rudest roll,
Light where thou else were blind.

GIVE.

Give, as God hath given thee,
With a bounty full and free;
If He hath with liberal hand
Given wealth to thy command,
From the fulness of thy store
Give thy needy brother more.
If the lot his love doth give,
Is by earnest toil to live;
If with nerve and sinew strong
Thou dost labor hard and long,
Then e'en from thy slender store
Give! and God shall give thee more.

— Good Times

Explosion at Stellarton.

STELLARTON, Dec 16.—There was another explosion in the Cage Pit last evening, the flames from which almost reached the pit head. Men were employed during yesterday putting earth and rubbish down the shaft, a large portion of which was blown in the air with the force of the explosion. An engine has been placed in a small pond near by, and water is being forced down the shaft to prevent the flames getting the mastery, and save the buildings and machinery around the pit, as well as a number of miner's houses in close proximity to the works. Much fear is entertained to-day lest the devouring element of destruction, so near the surface, should gain headway. The feelings of those in the vicinity may be imagined, as the smoke after the blast settled down so thickly upon them that they could not see each other. All is quiet just now, but many fear further explosions during the night. To-day was pay day, notable only for its great stillness, and the absence of any money circulation, no work of any consequence being done during the last month. It is said that fourteen thousand dollars less money was paid from the Company's office to-day than last reckoning. This is a very serious falling off, and tells heavily upon the business community. The whole country will feel the depression which this state of matters will eventually bring about. No industry was so important to the welfare of the country as the valuable works of the Halifax Company, but which now unfortunately are laid waste for a long time to come. Men are employed opening a trial slope on a seam not previously worked, known as the Gregory seam. Should this prove successful and the coal suit for coeking, it will furnish work for a few men during the winter. The work of clearing out the Foord Pit shaft is being still carried on, but it is not known how long it will be continued.

The December moon is an important member of the planetary fraternity. There are two new moons, one on the 1st and one on the 31st. On both occasions, as the moon passes between the sun and the earth, her path lies so nearly in the plane of our orbit that she causes partial eclipses of the sun. She is, therefore, the cause of our having two solar eclipses in one month. The eclipse of the 1st is invisible in the United States. That of the 31st is partially visible. The sun will rise eclipsed and the eclipse will end soon after nine o'clock, a little more than seven-tenths of the sun's disc being hidden at the time of its greatest obscurity; the last morning of the year will therefore be a dark one. The moon fulls on the 16th and passes near Uranus on the 23rd. The waning moon on the morning of the 29th passes within twenty-seven minutes of Mars and on the 30th within thirteen minutes of Mercury.

REVOLT.—The details of the attempt at revolt of Cuban negroes, aided by alleged reinforcement from Central, have been received from Havana. Two hundred and seventy-five mulattoes and negroes were seized in fourteen towns and villages and conveyed and escorted to Santiago, where they embarked on the frigate Almausa. Arms and ammunition were seized, with papers that revealed the date fixed and plans for the wholesale burning of plantations. The leaders have been executed. The rest will be transported to Fernando, south coast of Africa.

The London "Land and Water" of November 27 says:—"Mr. Edwin Booth has, as Richelieu, redeemed the reputation that his Hamlet had well nigh forfeited. For there is in the arts, or at least should exist, such a thing as international courtesy. Year after year America steals away our best actors and alike applauds and retains them. So I am glad to see that England appreciates an artist who is possessed of such rare talents, cultivated with such consummate skill as Mr. Edwin Booth. I only wish that many of our younger actors would go and hear him roll out his lines without effort and affectation, and with splendid effect."

An interesting relic of Charles Lamb was lately sold in London. This consisted of a portrait of the essayist by his friend Haxlitt. Originally in the possession of S. T. Coleridge, the portrait passed at his death into the hands of Mrs. Gillman, from whom it was purchased by the late Mr. Edward Moxon. Started at $50 the portrait was ultimately sold for $200.
