

RIPLEY'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT

OTTAWA (CP)—Elevator storage ought to be built in Newfoundland for Prairie grain, Harry Jones (PC—Saskatoon) said Monday.

Mr. Jones, speaking in the Commons throne speech debate, said such storage would enable year-round shipments of grain by ship, obviating winter-long tie-ups at the Lakehead and Montreal.

"Grain could be shipped from Churchill during the northern navigation season," he said. The plan would contribute to the solution of many Prairie economic problems.

Urging a speedy start on construction of the projected South Saskatchewan dam, Mr. Jones said it is time the central provinces realize that development of Western Canada strengthens their own economy.

Prairie residents were consumers of the central provinces' production. Therefore Ontario and Quebec had a great interest in the welfare of the west.

The bidding:
North East South West
1 ♠ 2 ♣ 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 4 ♠

Opening lead—nine of hearts.

Some hands are more difficult to play correctly than others. Here is one of the tougher variety. South was playing four spades on the bidding sequence shown. East had made a strong jump overall, marking him with the ace of diamonds as well as the heart suit.

A heart was opened and continued, declarer ruffing the second one. Since a spade and diamond loser were inevitable, the whole problem was how to avoid a second diamond loser.

Declarer realized that if he led a diamond to the king without drawing trumps, in order to be able to ruff his third diamond in dummy, he would be subject to an overruff when East played another round of hearts.

So declarer first drew two rounds of trumps and then led a diamond, losing the king to the ace. East cashed the spade queen and South later had to lose a diamond and went down one.

Perfect play will make the contract. After ruffing the second heart lead, the king and ace of spades are cashed, followed by the lead of the nine of diamonds from dummy. If East goes up with the ace declarer makes the contract easily. So let's assume East ducks and South wins with the queen.

South still has two trumps left and all he has to do is utilize them to the best advantage. He plays a low club to the ten and ruffs a heart.

Next he leads a club to the queen, which East may ruff or not, as he pleases. If East does not ruff, South trumps dummy's last heart and keeps on leading clubs. The net effect is that ten tricks are made, only a spade, a heart and a diamond being lost.

If East ruffs the queen of clubs the result is the same. South still has a trump left to ruff dummy's last heart.

The suggested line of play would succeed also if West were the player with the three trumps. It's all a question of getting maximum mileage out of the trump suit.

Liberal Charges Gov't. Is Both Kicking, Kissing U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal August Brassard Monday fired a metaphorical broadside against the Progressive Conservative government, charging it with kissing and kicking the United States.

Mr. Brassard, member for Lapointe, Que., said during the Commons throne speech debate that the government is causing ill feeling in the U.S. on trade matters, but bends over backwards to co-operate in defence.

"In the field of trade and commerce," he said, "the (the government) make unfriendly statements and arouse ill feeling, and on the other hand, in the military field they seem to want to bend over backwards in an effort to co-operate."

TRADE DIVERSION

He was referring to what he described as the government's policy to divert to Britain 15 per cent of Canadian purchases from the U.S., and the placing of elements of the RCAF under an American commander for North American air defence.

"Why, on the one hand, do we salute them by a kiss on both cheeks and on the other hand do we give them the boot?"

In other developments in the Commons:

1. Trade Minister Churchill announced a final payment averaging 6.28 cents a bushel for the 1956-57 barley pool, on which the initial delivery payment was 96 cents a bushel basis No. 3 CW barley. The final payment on the 1956-57 wheat pool would be announced in a few days.

2. External Affairs Minister Smith said Canada is "delighted" with proposals by President Eisenhower, apparently accepted by Russia, for a meeting of experts in Geneva on inspection and control of atomic tests.

3. Ernie Broome (PC—Vancouver South) introduced a bill to require companies incorporated by Parliament to have a majority of Canadians on their boards of directors.

Mr. Brassard attacked the government's "so-called trade policy" to "buy more goods in Britain and fewer imports in the U.S. to correct an imbalance of trade. This was inviting retaliation from the U.S. A first sign of such retaliation was a 15-per-cent reduction announced in Washington in U.S. imports of Canadian crude oil.

He said he opposes "sentimental" pro-British trade policies. They would not be good business for Canada. Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain had said last autumn, "we have no friends, we have interests."

"In this whole question of trade, this government has ignored the interests of the Canadian people," Mr. Brassard said. "Under no circumstances should we try to trade with any country on a sentimental basis."

The throne speech debate produced several other suggestions from members.

Maurice Bourget (L—Levis) said the government should stimulate the shipbuilding industry, whose 17 yards now employed 15,000 workers.

The situation was not bad at the present time, "but in fact the future looks still less bright," he said. This was due to the announcement last week that Canadian National Steamships is putting up for sale its eight-quebec West Indies fleet.

Jacques Flynn (PC—Quebec South) blamed the current recession on the "tight money" policy of the former Liberal government.

Federal-provincial fiscal relationships, he said, had been handicapped by the former Liberal administration's refusal to return to the provinces taxation powers rented out to them as a temporary measure during the Second World War.

G. Roy McWilliams (Northumberland-Miramichi) said the government's proposed bill of rights, limited to matters under federal jurisdiction appears to be superfluous. This restriction "would mean that little if any improvement will be made."

J. G. Ratelle (L—Montreal LaFontaine) said that each time Progressive Conservatives come to power "poor times develop quickly."

Ostias J. Godin (L—Nickel Belt) said that persons who build their own homes under the National Housing Act should be allowed deductions for income tax purposes.

Harry Jones (PC—Saskatoon) said present treatment methods for mentally ill persons represent "economic wastage." There were 70,000 persons in 75 overcrowded mental hospitals throughout Canada. Much mental sickness could be effectively treated without hospital care if out-patient facilities were made available.

Roland English (PC—Gaspé) called for extension of agricultural price supports to fish.

H. Russell MacEwan (PC—Pictou) said he endorses a request by the United Steelworkers' Union for a 40-per-cent increase in unemployment insurance benefits.

MUNICIPALITIES IN THE RED

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's municipalities are going deeper into debt. The money they owe for schools, roads and other essentials rose to $3,128,300,000 at the end of 1957 from $2,785,200,000 at the end of 1956, the Bank of Canada reported Tuesday. The bonded school debt increased to $916,600,000 from $802,600,000; the highways debt to $457,800,000 from $387,200,000. Money borrowed from banks rose to $196,800,000 from $180,500,000.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
