Will Campaign In Maine And Vermont

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, July 29.—If the New York State Athletic Commission approved, the September heavyweight title bout between James J. Braddock and Max Baer will be fought in the afternoon, the first time a heavyweight championship has been so decided since Dempsey outpointed Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., in July, 1923.

James J. Johnston, Madison Square Garden promoter, conferred today with Braddock's manager, Joe Gould. Sept. 29 was selected as the tentative date for the bout.

Johnston said if his plan goes through he will open the show at four o'clock, put on the main bout at six and have everybody home in time for an eight o'clock dinner.

Warn Ships Of Tropical Storm

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) PENSACOLA, Fla., July 30.—Hurricane warnings blinked through rain squalls along the extreme western Florida and eastern Alabama gulf coast tonight.

A tropical storm slowly whirled its way northwestward through the Gulf of Mexico, kicking up high tides and fanning the west Florida coastline with winds which reached momentary gusts of 50 miles an hour.

Warnings issued yesterday, when the storm first entered the gulf, sent all ships to cover. This deprived the United States weather bureau of the usual reports from vessels in the storm's path. Observers were uncertain where and when the disturbance would touch land.

However, the weather bureau's late afternoon advisory said the storm probably would strike the northern gulf coast between Apalachicola, Fla., and Mobile, Ala., sometime tonight. It warned of hurricane winds near the center of the storm and of dangerous high tides all along the coastline.

Rain squalls, blustery winds and falling barometers were reported all along the coast during the afternoon. The tide at Apalachicola swept through the streets for blocks around the waterfront and overflowed the Apalachicola River through miles of marshlands.

Panama City, midway between here and Apalachicola, reported similar conditions without the overflow.

Waterfront property and shipping were prepared for the storm. The naval air station here quartered more than 300 planes in safe hangars. Fort Barrancas on the mainland boarded up for the blow and Fort Pickens at the entrance to the harbor was evacuated.

Fearful that the high tides would damage the recently completed $1,500,000 bridge across the bay at Apalachicola, state road department crews reinforced the 6 1/2 mile span with sandbags.

INDIAN RECALLS OX-CART JOURNEY

EDMONTON, July 30.—(C.P.)—On the Indian Reserve at Winterburn, near here, Charlie Paplin still spry and active, celebrated his 78th birthday by recalling days of Red River carts and Yukon gold camps.

As a young Indian guide he accompanied the late Hon. Frank Oliver, well known newspaper publisher and statesman, and his Oliver on their ox-cart journey from Winnipeg. Later he became one of Edmonton's first newspaper delivery boys.

Today Paplin and his wife are in the old people's colony on the reserve, while their three sons operate a farm nearby.

Paplin joined the Klondyke gold rush. There was plenty of work at $50 a day, he said, but this was no good because supplies and provisions were so costly nothing could be saved.

He went to the Boer War, where he was rescued from death by a fellow Indian after lying two days and nights wounded on the field.

During his residence on the reserve Paplin has lived under five chiefs and four British overlords.

Fix Minimum Wage For Restaurants

(Canadian Press) MONTREAL, July 30.—Material betterment of living conditions for the thousands of women working in restaurants, and in hotels, of the province of Quebec is expected by the Women's Minimum Wage Commission with the advent of Aug. 1, for on that day the two awards of the Commission come into effect. The Gazette says:

"Not since the advent of the Commission have wage awards in regard to women's occupations been so strenuously, and even bitterly, combated as the two orders of the Commission in regard to these two classifications. At the outset, it was realized by the Commission the situation was more than ordinarily complicated because of the fact that the matter of 'tips,' of uniforms, of meals, and, in the case of hotels, of sleeping accommodation, play a part.

"The Commission proceeded cautiously, and it was almost two years before awards were made. They were made last fall, and the Commission to the awards became an issue, and the Government was appealed to time and again not to publish the awards. Various hotel associations protested this was a time to fix minimum wages, but under the persistence of the Commission the awards were promulgated in the Quebec Official Gazette by Hon. Edgar Rochette, Minister of Labour, Game and Fisheries, and come into effect the first of next month.

"It is expected there will be some difficulty in enforcement, notably around Montreal, and especially as regards open-air luncheon stands catering to motorists, since some of these places are moveable, and the orders do not apply to municipalities of less than 5,000 population.

"There are certain exemptions from the order as to restaurants, since the Commission recognizes that there are some restaurants where only members of the same family are employed. The order will not apply here; restaurants employing not more than three persons (of either or both sexes) not including the cook, shall pay their staff not less than $6 per week of not more than 50 hours of work, and 15 cents per hour for every extra hour over the 50 hours. However, extra help employed a few hours a day, shall be paid not less than 15 cents per hour.

"To obtain the benefits of such exemptions, the establishments entitled to benefit must register with the Commission before the end of this month.

"Warning is given by Gustave Franco, chairman of the Commission, that it is futile for employers to seek to escape the awards by replacing girls with young men, since the law makes provision whereby men replacing girls must be paid at least the wages fixed for female help in that classification."

Vineyard Haven Club Advances To Second Round

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) YARMOUTH, N. S. July 30.—Vineyard Haven Yacht Club, fighting this year to gain permanent possession of the Prince of Wales International Junior Yacht racing trophy, advanced today to the second round of the annual Lake, Mile and Round of the annual Lake, Mile and Round series by eliminating Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron of Halifax.

With wind recorded in the 1934 and 1935 series, the Vineyard Haven, Mass., Club, represented by Kingsman Brewster and Edward A. Robie, showed conclusively today they were out to win the third straight year and retain the cup permanently.

Brewster and Robie took today's round in two straight races beating George Hagen and Ban MacIntosh of the Halifax Squadron to the finish after a poor start in the first race and taking the second when the Halifax yacht fouled a buoy and was disqualified.

The 1933 champions, Corinthian Yacht Club of Martinehead, Mass., represented this year by Dick Pierce and Stephen Connolly, lost today to a pair of newcomers, Frank Dewrolins and Joseph F. Myers of the New Rochelle, N. Y., Yacht Club in two straight races.

One race of the only other series begun today was under protest before Herb Stone, sports magazine editor, and Commodore W.R. MacAskill of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron, members of the race committee. Yarmouth's Acadian Yacht Club defeated the Quincey, Mass., entrant in the first race of their uncompleted series, and the protest was lodged by A.

More Care Required With Butter Boxes

Some of the butter boxes, containing butter submitted for grading do not comply with the regulations under the Dairy Industry Act, in respect to the placing and nailing of covers, according to information brought to the attention of the Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioners. The regulation regarding this reads:

"Covers shall be applied with the grain of the wood in the cover running in the same direction as in the bottom. No hook fasteners shall be used and covers shall be secured by not less than 3 nails in each end of the covers; only blued nails 1 3/4 inches long and of 14 gauge shall be used for this purpose."

It has been reported that about 20 to 25 per cent of the covers are not properly placed or nailed, and while it is important that the covers of all boxes should be placed and nailed according to the foregoing regulation, it is particularly so at the present time, states the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, because there is likely to be considerable Canadian butter exported this season.

It is also compulsory under the regulations for exporters to reinforce butter boxes by placing at least one metal band of galvanized wire around the centre of each box at right angles to the grain of the WOOD OF THE COVER AND BOTTOM. This cannot be done if the covers are not properly placed. In nailing the covers on the boxes, emphasis is laid on the fact that at least three nails of the specified type and length must be used on each end of the cover.

ATTENTION District Registrars

The recent appointment of Road Overseers has no bearing whatsoever, relative to the duties of District Registrars and all former Road Masters, who were collectors of Vital Statistics for the Public Health Department, will continue in that capacity. Any recently appointed Road Overseers, who were former Road Masters, will continue in their capacity as District Registrars, but only for their own local district.
