Monsignor John P. Foley Is Honored At Kildare

Last Thursday evening approximately eighty relatives and friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foley, Kildare, to honor Rt. Rev. M.S.G.R. John P. Foley of Faribault, Minnesota, who spent last week in Kildare and surrounding communities.

Father Foley, a son of the Late Patrick E. and Margaret (Cahill) Foley, was born at Kildare eighty years ago and is the only surviving member of his family.

After being graduated from St. Dunstan's University in Charlotte, North Carolina, he taught in Central Kildare school for three years. Then, like many young folk of his generation, he went to the United States. In 1902 he entered St. Paul Seminary and was ordained in 1908. He joined the staff of St. Thomas College in Kildare and remained there almost twenty years as instructor and administrator. Since 1928 he has been pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church in Faribault and during these years the parish has grown and prospered.

Recently its one hundredth anniversary has been celebrated and at the same time his parishioners celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their beloved priest's ordination which is approaching.

While in Boston, en route to his native province, Father Foley received the good news that the title of Monsignor had been conferred upon him.

Making his first trip home in eighteen years, Father Foley travelled by air to Boston and thence by car, in company with his nephew and niece, Mr and Mrs. Emmett Foley, to Kildare.

During the week he was here Father Foley visited many relatives in Kildare, Tignish, Alma, Alberton and other centres.

On Thursday an evening of happy fellowship was enjoyed. Music was furnished by Messrs Howard Foley, Cyril O'Connor, Jack Barrett and Urban Laughlan, while Messrs A.D. and James O'Brien costemporaries of Father Foley entertained with song dancing.

On behalf of those assembled an address was read to Father Foley by Katherine Wade, a long time friend, and the presentation of a purse and a maple tree craft plaque bearing the Prince Edward Island coat of arms was presented by Gerard Foley, a grand nephew.

During the evening delicious refreshments were served by the ladies.

Com. Les Jenkins reported that the Walter Callow Bus will be in Summerside next Saturday, July 27th, for the regular annual outing for invalids and crippled people.

Special Service At Alberton

Members of Alberton Presbyterian Congregation celebrated the 126th anniversary of the organization of the Presbyterian Church in Canada in Alberton with a special service Sunday Morning at which the guest speaker was Rev. L.M. McNaughton of Tyne Valley, Moderator of the Presbytery. The choir sang, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus" with duet by Mrs. Lloyd Wilkie and Mrs. Frank Carpenter. The sacrament of Baptism was conferred on David Alder and Donna Faye, twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Clark. At the close of the service the sacrament of the Lord's supper was observed. The text of the sermon which led up to the Communion was "What Shall I Do Then With Jesus Which is Called Christ?" Matt. 27:22.

Retired C.C.F. Member Visits

Mr. John McInnis of Prince George, B.C., arrived by plane last week for a visit to his former home in Springton.

Mr. McInnis, who operates a large lumber and building product business in Prince George, was for many years C.C.F. representative for the Constituency of Fort George in the British Columbia House of Assembly.

Although now retired from active political life Mr. McInnis takes a keen interest in both politics and business in his adopted province and reports industry in many phases booming in B.C., especially in and about Prince George, where it is thriving in the centre of the province.

Mr. McInnis is renewing old friendships in various parts of the island and with his brother, Mr. Donald McInnis of Springton recently visited in Borden, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McInnis.

Party Given To Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Reilly, Cape Wolfe, entertained a large number of guests at their home on Monday night, July 1st, in honor of their newly wed son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Reilly, Cape Wolfe.

The living room was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride and groom were seated to receive the many beautiful gifts, also a large sum of money.

The gifts were opened by Mrs. Lorne Shaw, sister of the groom, as Miss Rhoda Reilly sister of the groom, read the accompanying verses and arranged them on the table.

James, on behalf of his bride, thanked one and all for their kindness. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Music was furnished by Leonard Barrett and William Perry.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters.

Congratulations Are In Order Re Lobster Carnival Week

Summerside has just completed its second annual Lobster Carnival Week, and again it seems to have been a success. The Weather Man did not have quite the enchanting smile he wore last year, but it could not be said he was entirely uncooperative. Considerable rain fell, but it was strategically spaced so as not to interfere too much with the week's feature attractions, and a really glorious evening brought down the curtain on the week's activities.

The weather was also ideal for the R.C.A.F. Air Show and a truly impressive program was carried out. The sight of a Sabre Jet streaking through the blue over the crowd at a speed of 600 miles an hour was awe-inspiring. Operation Paratrooper, breaking the sound barrier which it seems breaks with a very pronounced snap, and the Victory Roll were other highlights.

There are two factors in the business of selling anything to the public. There are the services rendered, and the rewards of rendering these services. We can't expect of course, merchandizing units to forget the rewards because that is why they are in business, but successful merchandizing always emphasizes the services, tries to satisfy the customer, and makes it appear that the rewards are a secondary consideration. We think our Lobster Carnival committees lived up pretty well to this ideal, and we hope their monetary rewards will not be disappointing.

Traveling circuses sometimes forget the best principles of merchandizing, and exploit the public to increase their profits. Charging people to get into an enclosure where nothing is free, and where they must spend more money for any services rendered is a glaring example. Imagine one of our large department stores selling tickets at its doors so that people might gain access to their store to make their purchases!

Go Ahead With Water Safety In Alberton

When a meeting of Alberton parents interested in continuing the Red Cross Water Safety lessons this season was called two weeks ago there was little response. For a time it appeared that there would be many disappointed boys and girls in Alberton and there was the possibility that some child might lose his life because, through lack of opportunity, he had not acquired a knowledge of water safety.

Instruction in water safety was first begun in Alberton through co-operation of the R.C.M.P. and the Red Cross. Through the years interest has grown and the classes have increased in numbers until in 1956 almost eighty children were enrolled. Since 1950 organization, registration, transportation and beach supervision have been arranged by Mrs. A.C. Green in co-operation with the members of the Women's Institute who sponsored the project with citizens who were most generous with their cars and trucks, and with others who gave of their time to share in the responsibility of beach supervision.

Last year registration was completed and classes were about to begin when, because of illness in her family, it became necessary for Mrs. Green to leave town on a short notice and remain absent while the course was in progress. Henry Clarke, a public spirited citizen of the town, and W.C. Arthur F. Green, a former resident of the town here on holiday, took over responsibility of the classes and all the necessary arrangements for each day were carried out in a commendable and most efficient manner.

VOLUNTEERS
Within the past few days, Mr. Clarke, who is home on holiday from his school teaching in Malartic, Quebec, has again volunteered to give leadership and Frank Weeks has volunteered to take charge of registration. Several other men have also indicated their willingness to give what help they can. Miss Martha Myer of Bloomfield has indicated her willingness to instruct the classes again this year and has informed the committee that she will be ready to begin on July 29th.

TROPHY
A boating trophy for seaworthiness and boatmanship has been donated by Hut Bros, boat builders, of Alberton for competition at the Alberton Aquatic Sports this year.

Judges have been appointed by the West Prince Board of Trade, and the winner will be judged by the manner in which his boat is handled during the afternoon, proper safety equipment and good boat construction.

The trophy is for annual competition and may be won by a 7 class or type of boat present at the sports day activities. A miniature of the cup will remain the property of the winner.

Thefts At S'Side Service Stations

Two service stations were entered and a car stolen in the early hours of last Saturday morning by apparently the same persons or person. The car was found abandoned on Sunday in Charlottetown on Kent Street near the police station and it contained a cash box which had been stolen from the MacLennan Motors.

The break at MacLennan Motors netted the thieves $20.00 in cash and one at F. Earle MacDonald's Ltd. the sum of $23.00 in cash. Both breaks were effected by smashing windows.

Memorial Window Unveiled To Island Minister's Wife

THE LATE MRS. AULD
Fitting tribute to the wife of a beloved pastor was paid by the people of St. Paul's United Church Midland, Ontario, when on June 23 a memorial window in the church was unveiled to the memory of Mary Elizabeth Auld, wife of Rev. Walter Auld, present minister of that church.

Rev. Mr. Auld is a native of Freetown, Prince Edward Island, and with his wife has been a regular visitor each summer to his native land.

On the church calendar commemorating the occasion are contained a message termed "A Tribute to Our Lady of the Parsonage". It reads as follows:

"She lived, she laboured, she loved."
"Today we honour one who had given the church her lifelong devotion and service. Mrs. Auld was endowed with gifts which set her apart. She had a warm nature. People liked her when they met her and loved her when they knew her. She brought the rich gifts of her personality to the task of being the wife and help-mate of a busy minister.

St. Paul's Church is indebted to her for distinctive service in the Choir, as Superintendent of the Primary Department of the Sunday School and in the Women's Organizations.

"We shall remember Mrs. Auld as one who despite ill-health, lived life on tiptoe to the end. She was keenly interested in the young and she, herself, was young in spirit, never losing her zest for living.

"The church's recognition of her lovely and useful life among us is being made in the unveiling of a beautiful window to her memory.

"May we of St. Paul's continue in the interest and concern, which we know she cherished for the ongoing work of the church.

"When requested to pay this tribute on behalf of the congregation, I was honoured and humbled. I shall remember Mrs. Auld as a woman deeply dedicated, yet never over-solemn, a woman of tolerance who loved fun—a blithe spirit, a dear friend, one of the good companions on life's way."
