

ONE OF MANY TASKS

One of the many tasks in connection with the Red Cross blood donor clinics now in progress, is checking those in attendance for the different competitions which are carried on in the Charlottetown area among various groups on a semi-annual basis. Left to right in the picture as they are checked by Iphigene Arsenault, provincial Red-Cross commissioner, are three of the 571 donors who attended yesterday's clinics. Ralph Wright, Ron Chandler and Burrows-MacPhail.

Billings for the month were passed and ordered paid. Bills paid since last month totalled $239. The police report was read and fines collected for the month amounted to $498.50. It was agreed that Augustine Cove be covered by the fire protection of the Borden Fire Department.

Labor President Issues A Reply

J. C. Carroll, president of the Prince Edward Island Federation of Labor, in reply to a statement made Monday by Charles McQuaid, provincial labor relations board chairman carried in this paper yesterday said, "frustration caused by any means is detrimental to any person or group of persons. If Mr. McQuaid feels frustrated he can surely sympathize with the trade unions of this province," said Mr. Carroll.

"With regard to irresponsibility I would consider obtaining such a concise explanation from the chairman of the labor relations board with such dispatch is worthy of commendation. As president of the P.E.I. Federation of Labor, I wish to thank Mr. McQuaid for such a clear and factual description of what true trade unionism means. In his statement of April 4th, and how it can bring about mutual development for the common good. Had Mr. McQuaid's address to the Business and Professional Women been as concise as his reply to the Federation, the concern of the Federation would not have been aroused. As Mr. McQuaid points out, many people have an obscure view of just what a responsible trade union contributes to the economic structure of any community," he said.

The plans call for tours of entertainment groups ranging from ballet troupes to rock and roll combos, with the federal and other expenses to the tune of over three million dollars. The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, a variety show starring folk singers Ian and Sylvia and Gordon Lightfoot, the island's own production of "Ann of Green Gables", and many others will fill bookings across Canada. CAR FERRY

(Continued from page one) should be put at present on the objection to the proposed rate increase at Borden. Opposition leader Campbell also moved that ordinary business be suspended while he introduced a resolution for debate. His resolution was that the minister of agriculture investigate the problem of "low and unfair" prices paid to beef producers in the province. The Conservatives attempted to move the House into committee for discussion on the resolution but failed. The government however, was successful in amending the resolution which complimented the minister of agriculture "for his prompt action" in seeing that the problem is investigated. Earlier Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae said that his department's beef fieldman and a representative of the provincial beef producers association were in Upper Canada investigating the matter. Premier Shaw suggested that the resolution was not an "emergency matter," as the whole situation on prices paid for livestock is under constant investigation.
