Polish Youths Escape In Car Crate

OSLO. (Reuters) — Three 21-year-old Polish youths Saturday told how they escaped to the West by hiding for six days in a cramped crate containing a Russian export automobile from Gdynia to Oslo.

The three, whose names are being kept secret for fear of reprisals against their families, planned the escape for months.

On Sept. 9 they sneaked into the freight sheds at Gdynia and broke into a crate, closing it from the inside. The crate later was hoisted, with 40 others, into the hold of the Polish freighter Okrzywie.

They could not move inside the crate, and two spent the entire trip on the car hood, the other on the rear bumper. They had some canned goods, chocolate, beer and lemonade with them, but their supplies ran out two days before the Okrzywie docked.

They broke out the first night in Oslo. Opening the crate was easy, but it took them three hours to cut through a covering tarpaulin.

Before dawn Sept. 15, they crawled ashore down the mooring lines. They knew no Norwegian and no one seemed to understand their broken German "bitte polizei" (police, please).

A taxi driver finally figured out what they wanted and took them to the local station, where police at first thought they were drunken sailors and tried to send them back to the ship.

But they found an interpreter and applied for political asylum, which was granted them two weeks later after a police investigation.

Retired Mail Clerk Honored

Mr. Theophile "Toff" Arsenault, City, completing his final run as a railway mail clerk after 43 years service is shown being greeted by District Inspector F. A. Coyle (right) and Postmaster J. J. Connolly (left) when he arrived in Charlottetown last Thursday evening.

Mr. Theophile "Toff" Arsenault was honored by his fellow railway mail clerks when the annual meeting of The Railway Mail Clerks Association was held at Sandy's Restaurant on Saturday evening. Members and their wives sat down to a delicious banquet at which the special speaker was Mr. H. A. Clark, Ottawa, who is the permanent Secretary of the Railway Mail Clerk's Federation of Canada.

Mr. Arsenault, on behalf of those present was given a well filled purse and extended best wishes for a long and happy retirement. The address was read by the president of the local organization, Mr. O. R. MacCormack and the presentation was made by Mr. D. H. MacKenzie, District Inspector F. A. Coyle in a few brief remarks, recalled the many years of pleasant association he had had with "Toff" in the service; other members gave testimony of the esteem in which the retiring clerk was held.

After the banquet, those present engaged in a lively sing song and dancing. Music for the occasion was provided by Mr. Alf McKearney and his orchestra.

parishoners of Stella Maris by Mr. Elmer Buote, and a suitable presentation was made by Mr. John Leo Dolron and Mr. Lawrence H. Doucette.

The pupils of Stella Maris School presented a short musical program. Following is the address: Reverend Cornelius Pineau, S.J. Reverend and dear Father,

We are somewhat envious of the venerable old parish of St. Augustine, of that Church which counts you among her illustrious sons who have brought honor to her and glory to God by their missionary labors. Yes, St. Augustine's Church can boast that, within her walls, you were baptized; there you received your first Holy Communion; there you were confirmed and there, in your childhood, you frequently knelt with your good parents to assist devoutly at the Holy Sacrifice and receive the Bread of Life.

Yet, in spite of all that we like to assert our claim, and we have a good right to do so, for is not your home in Stella Maris Parish? It is fitting therefore, that on your arrival in Prince Edward Island your first visit should be to North Rustico. We know that our neighbors to the south do not willingly yield this honor to us; but, notwithstanding their reluctance, we experienced genuine pleasure in being the first to welcome you back from the field afar, where, for eighteen years, you labored as a zealous missionary and a loyal son of St. Ignatius, emulating the Apostles, sharing their love for Christ and His Church, facing the same dangers as did the chosen twelve. Thus you brought the word of God to the Far east where you instructed and baptized thousands, bringing them out of the darkness of paganism into the light of Christianity.

Like the Apostles you did not see the full fruition of your labours. But the seed you sowed in arduous toil and bitter tears will not fail to grow and produce a rich harvest. In the meantime your good work will go on. Your fatherly love for your Chinese converts will induce you to relate the story of the growth of the Church in China before the Communists establish their wicked rule there, as well as the sad story of the persecution of the Christians and their missionaries.

With fervent prayers for your safety and preservation, we respectfully request the removal of your imprisonment that came to us in your letters. Between the lines we read more than you intended to reveal: the dauntless courage and heroic fortitude of a good son of St. Ignatius.

Now, that these sufferings and dangers are passed, may you enjoy a time of peace and happiness, and may we have the privilege of hearing you relate the interesting details of that time of desolation and torture when your one great consolation was to know that you were deemed worthy to suffer for Christ.

Now, Reverend Father, on behalf of the people of North Rustico, I beg you to accept this gift as a token of our esteem.

John Leo Dolron, Elmer Buote, Lawrence H. Doucette, Trustees, North Rustico, P.E.I., October 26, 1953.

Korea. The first meeting opened with the North Korean representative reading a lengthy prepared statement setting forth the Communist demands that neutrals be invited to the conference.

Rejected By U N The United Nations general assembly already has voted down the Communist demand that neutrals attend.

The Communists immediately threatened the success of the preliminary talks by insisting that the "composition" of the big discussion should be the first item on the agenda.

Other agenda items put forth by the Reds were, in order, the questions of time and place, the main talks, procedural matters and expenditures.

ability of finding another way out, France is building up its forces in Indo-China, aiming at a position of military superiority that will force the Communists to quit fighting, just as they did in Greece.

Political Worries

Adding to the French government worries over the military situation has been an increasingly unfriendly political attitude toward France among the Viet Nameses. The latest expression was in a resolution adopted by a national congress last week saying that Viet Nam, when granted independence, does not wish to remain linked with France through the French Union as presently constituted.

Premier Laniel has promised the three associated states of Indo-China—Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia—full independence, with the understanding that they keep their place in French Union.

The government dispatched a note to Viet Nam's chief of state, Bao Dai, asking him to give a firm answer on Viet Nam's attitude. The government wants to know if it is worthwhile for France to continue to fight in Viet Nam.

Two private members already have announced legislation they plan to introduce. Stanley Knowlton, CCF member for Winnipeg North Centre, will re-introduce bills to eliminate the limitation on the amount of medical expenses a taxpayer may deduct for income tax purposes, and to provide for the voluntary revocable check-off of union dues in labor contracts.

National Flag Bona Arsenault, Liberal member for Bonaventure, Que., will introduce legislation calling for a parliamentary committee to consider an "all-Canadian national flag." This controversial issue was last before the Commons in 1946.

Mr. Knowles is also expected to renew his efforts to switch Parliament's job of dissolving Quebec and Newfoundland marriages to the executive court. His last attempt was defeated without a recorded vote Jan. 23, 1953.

W. Ross Thatcher, outspoken CCF member for Moose Jaw-Lake Centre, is expected to re-introduce his bill calling for the abolition of capital punishment. Other private members' legislation expected to be introduced without a recorded vote includes:

1. A Dominion-Provinces conference to establish a national policy on soil, forest and water conservation and land use in Canada.

2. Pensions equal to old age pensions of $40 a month for incapacitated Canadians unable to earn a living.

3. A bill of rights guaranteeing freedom of speech, religion and press and radio.

Island Dentists Attended Convention

A number of Island dentists attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Dental Association which has just concluded in Montreal. Among those present from the Province were, Dr. Heath MacIntyre, Charlottetown, Dr. B. J. O'Meara, Department of Health and Welfare, Dr. H. E. Clark, Dr. J. A. McMurdo and Dr. H. S. Allen, all of Summerside, and Dr. J. D. Reddin, Mt. Stewart.

Dr. MacIntyre is provincial representative on the Dental Council of Canada, and the National Dental Examining Board. A motion, unanimously approved by the Association, and which is of much general interest was that respecting approval of fluoridation. The resolution follows:

"Whereas tooth decay, by affecting the vast majority of people in Canada has come to be recognized as one of the major public health problems of our time,

"And whereas many thousands of Canadians and millions of people elsewhere have consumed during their total lifetimes, water fluoridated to approximately one part of fluoride to a million parts of water from underground deposits, and have thereby benefited by a reduction of about two-thirds in the attack rate of tooth decay without any ill-effects discoverable by either the dental or medical professions,

"And whereas the effects of adjusting the fluoride content of communal water supplies to approximately one part per million have been studied extensively in their dental and medical aspects for more than eight years, revealing in every instance the same beneficial dental health results that have been known for over 20 years to accrue from consuming water fluoridated with the same freedom from any systemic ill-effects,

"Therefore be it resolved: That the Canadian Dental Association recommends to the people of Canada that communities having a public water supply, adopt a procedure for water fluoridation best suited to their local needs, and for this purpose seek competent dental, medical, and engineering advice."

The adding of sodium fluoride to municipal water supplies for the reduction of tooth decay had previously been endorsed by the C. D. A., but with qualifications. On this occasion their resolution is forthright and unconditional. All communities having a public water supply are recommended to adopt the procedure.

allowance payments. 5. A joint committee of the Commons and Senate to recommend methods to prevent the sale of salacious literature.

6. Increased federal assistance to the provinces for education. 7. Equal pay for equal work for women.

8. A program for decentralizing industry now concentrated in Ontario and Quebec, to bring about a more balanced economy.

May Combine Stock Show And Sales

The possibility of holding the Provincial Fat Stock Show and Sale and the 1954 Breeders Sale under the same management and on the same day was discussed here Saturday night by the executive committee of the Fat Stock Show and Sale.

Last year the two sales were held separately. The two were held in conjunction with each other in 1951, the first year the Fat Stock Show and Sale was held. It looks as though they would be combined this year although no decision was made at Saturday's meeting.

It was decided, though, that the entries will be limited to a maximum of three animals to an exhibitor. Where there are members of a Boys and Girls Club in the home they may enter the animals under their own name.

The show and sale will likely be staged on the Thursday immediately preceding Good Friday. It is usually held at Easter time. Only steers are eligible for this year's event and the animals must be dehorned to be acceptable. There will be no culling at the barns but the animals will be culled at the show building.

Altho Roberts of Southport, the Show and Sale President, presided at the meeting. It was held in the office of the Provincial Exhibition Association.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Bayford Sonler, died October 26, 1953. Often and oft our thoughts do wander, To grave not far away, Where we laid our little Bayford, Fourteen years ago today.

We miss you Bayford at every turn, Along life's weary way, And home has never been the same Since you were called away.

We often sit and think of you, When we are all alone, For memory is the only friend, That grief can call its own.

Many a lonely heart ache, Often a silent tear, Always a beautiful memory Of one we loved so dear.

A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still, But death has left a loneliness The world can never fill.

God gave us strength to fight it, And courage to bear the blow, But what it means to lose you, No one will ever know.

Gone dear Bayford, gone forever, How we miss your smiling face, But you left us to remember, None on earth can take your place.

Always remembered by Mamma, Daddy, Brothers and Sisters.
