Junior Square Dancing Maritime Championship Won By Ch'town Group

The Holy Redeemer Community Centre Juniors won the Maritime Junior Square Dancing Championships at the Maritime Winter Fair in Amherst on Saturday afternoon. The coveted honor was won in competition against ten sets from other centres in the Maritimes. It is believed they are the first Island set to ever win the Maritime junior championship.
The judges were highly impressed with the dancing of the Charlottetown Juniors. A glance at the judges' score card revealed they judged the rhythm of the Holy Redeemer youngsters excellent; dress lovely; grace, beautiful to watch; and posture, good.
After winning the championship in the afternoon they appeared again Saturday night as a feature of the big Saturday Night Show. The young dancers started taking dancing instructions from Mr. Ivan Berrigan about the end of January last. They have been under Mr. Berrigan's guidance since that time.
Last spring they won top honors at the Musical Festival held here and during the Centennial Pageant this summer they were one of the main features.
There are four couples in the set. Their names are Misses Mickey MacWade, Millie Roberts, Helena Dowling, Mary Smith and masters Kimball Blanchard, Charlie Smith, Brian Morris and Michael Blanchard.
Next Saturday the Holy Redeemer Senior Set will enter the competitions for the Maritime Senior Championships at the Winter Fair.

Employment Continuing At High Level Locally

The National Employment Office in Charlottetown reports that throughout the month of October employment remained at a high level, and that a scarcity of applicants for some jobs existed. The office services the two counties of Kings and Queens.
The manager, John B. Murley, stated that during the month bricklayers were not available, very few good carpenters were obtainable, and there was even a shortage of good labourers. Some labourers were available in the county districts but as most of the town, it was not practicable for short periods of time. This is especially true of married men, because the labour work on which they would be employed is frequently interrupted by wet weather. The men are then faced with the prospect of paying board on a slim pay cheque.
The office also noted a shortage of capable applicants for sales work in retail stores. This was quite pronounced in the women's lesser extent in the male employment branch. During the month the office brought in from the mainland about sixty potato pickers, and these were distributed to various farmers in Kings and Queens counties. The majority went to Kings county. The gathering of the potato crop is about concluded and the mainland pickers have been returning in small groups to their mainland homes.
DRAGGER FISHING
Stormy weather has interrupted fishing operations by draggers working out of St. John's, and by small boats working off shore from other fishing centres. As a result, the processing plants in Souris have only been working about 75 per cent of capacity because cause fish landings have not been continuous. When the draggers have been able to remain at sea for a few days at a time, fishing has been good. Mackerel fishery on fishing from small boats off shore north of Lake have had better than an average fall season, and the price of mackerel has been good.
The backbone of the good employment situation has been building construction in Charlottetown. Jobs which have employed a large number of men include the new Federal Building, the new Guardian office and extensive addition to Notre Dame Academy, three new Service Stations in the City. An enlargement of the Maritime Electric plant in the east end of the city, and complete new storage plants and offices being erected in new locations by the Imperial Oil Company and the Irving, Oil Company. More recently the Co-operative Supermarket commenced the construction of a new building on Richmond street, which will be an extension of its main store on Queen street. Besides the work carried out by business, government and educational institutions much residential building is underway in Charlottetown proper and its suburbs.
LAYOFF PERIOD
However the local office reports that the period of seasonal layoffs is approaching and that men are about to be laid off at the National Park, where they have been employed all summer, and that the Provincial government is winding up its road work because of autumn weather.
Some claims for benefit for men seasonally out of work are already beginning to reach the office and many more are expected to be filed in the first few weeks of November. The big rush of claims however is not expected until December.

PLAYERS DEPARTS
PARIS (Reuters)—Istvan Szakacs 25-year-old goalkeeper of a Hungarian soccer team, Hovved, which played here Wednesday, has departed for the West, the newspaper France-Soleil says. Szakacs stayed in Paris instead of leaving on the Budapest after the game, the newspaper said.

SICK PAY MORE
KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Hospital patients pay increasingly more but their chances of recovery are better, Ontario Health Minister Phillips said Saturday. Speaking at a luncheon, Dr. Phillips said as many as 52 hospital employees, many highly skilled, often play a part in the admission, treatment and discharge of one patient.

Act Would Discriminate Against PEI Unemployed
When the Hon. Milton Gregg was in Charlottetown last Friday, Mr. Neil Matheson, M. P. brought the Minister's attention to the fact that recent changes in the Unemployment Insurance Act had made it impossible for many Islanders to qualify for insurance benefits.
With Mr. Gregg, under whose department the Unemployment Insurance Commission operates, Mr. Matheson outlined the Charlottetown office of the Commission to get first hand information about the number of disqualifications due to the amended regulations. The Minister made notes on the situation, and it is understood that Mr. Matheson is strongly urging that the former qualifications for the receipt of benefits be restored.
Before the recent amendments, applicants were required to have 180 contributions (or stamps) in the two years prior to making their claims. In many cases the men had used some of these stamps to file a previous claim and this was allowable under the old Act.
Under the new Act and regulations, no stamps which are more than a year old and have been used on a previous claim can be used on a subsequent claim. This means in effect that hundreds of men who can obtain only seasonal work must have thirty weekly stamps or approximately 7 1/2 months work every summer to qualify. Many fall short of the period of work by four or five weeks. They do, however, qualify for seasonal benefits which commence on January 1st, each year and for most applicants continue until April 15th.
Meantime, however, those who cannot qualify for regular benefits the cemetery were conducted by The Rev. Ernest D. Thompson, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Cambridge.

Two solos were beautifully rendered by the soloist, Mr. Franklin Fields, at the Chapel service, "Crossing the Bar," and "The Lords Prayer."
Mrs. Lane was laid to rest in Union Cemetery, Brockton, Mass., beside her sister, Mrs. Cyrus Ingo, who predeceased her in 1951.

Black Hand Gang Feared On Warpath Again
PALERMO, Sicily (Reuters)—The murderous "black hand," secret Italian gangster organization, once held Sicily in a grip of terror, appears to be on the warpath again after four years of inactivity.
Three killings and a kidnaping have led to the belief that a new outbreak of gangster terror is being engineered by the dread so-called members of which are said to have spearheaded gang crime in the United States.
Two weeks ago the son of a wealthy and powerful landowner was kidnapped before his father's eyes by a masked band.
Baron Francesco Agnello remarked as he prepared to pay his son's 15,000,000 lire ($24,000) ransom: "Even the bandit king Gluliano never dared to trouble me. This gang must be powerful indeed."

SNATCHED FROM MORGUE
This kidnaping shattered police hopes that the "black hand," also known as the Mafia, was disbanding. They said Sunday that "everything points to the Mafia" in the Agnello abduction.
A week ago a former member of the "black hand," Carmelo Napoli, was riddled with bullets as he sipped coffee in a narrow lane off one of Palermo's main streets.
That evening, his body was snatched from the mortuary, and with it the list of black hand leaders he was reported carrying. On Monday, the tough rent collector was murdered as he was about to enter his employer's luxurious villa. The man, 40-year-old Vita Frenna, was known to move in Mafia circles, and some police thought he knew the names of the kidnapers of the baron's son and the murderers of Napoli.

NO WAGE CHANGE
OTTAWA (CP)—The Bureau of Statistics Wednesday reported no change in average hourly earnings at work compared with a month earlier. Hourly wages ranged from a low of 64 cents for persons in service employment - maids, waiters, bellhops, and so on - to 1.60 for miners.

ICEBREAKER SAILS
BOSTON (AP)—The U.S. navy's newest icebreaker, the Glacier, left Boston Tuesday on the first leg of a trip to the Antarctic where she will help spearhead seven ships and more than 1,000 men will take part in the operation which will build two key bases in Antarctica's Ross sea.
