SEPTEMBER ADJOURNMENT?

No Unemployment Seen For Parliamentarians

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament can pretty well count on a full summer of hard work. September may roll around before this first session of the 24th Parliament finishes its job.

This is the prospect—doubtless an unhappy one for many MPs—raised by the government leader in the Commons, Works Minister Green.

He said in an interview that the government's plan is to keep the session going "right through to the end." Some three ago Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated the government was thinking then of an adjournment around July 31, with Parliament returning in the fall to clean up the legislative program.

EARLY END POSSIBLE
However, there still is the chance of a mid-summer adjournment.

After nearly two months of the session which began May 12, the Commons is just beginning the hard slog of part of the program.

Chief accomplishments so far are completion of a 10-day three speech debate, an eight-day budget debate and passage of three government bills. These provided more federal money for housing loans, a speedup of the start of the hospital insurance plan, and extension of the period for seasonal unemployment insurance benefits. Another 20 government measures, a few of which could spark considerable debate, are on the order paper awaiting Commons action.

Progress on another major sessional task—approval of the huge spending program—has barely started. Estimates of only one of the 19 departments, public works, have been virtually completed. The others haven't come before the House.

CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES
What's more, some of the most potentially controversial issues outlined in the government's sessional plans have not yet even been put before the Commons on the order paper.

These include such things as a bill of rights, a new agency to regulate Canadian broadcasting, abolition of the controversial Commons rule allowing debate-limiting closure, and a new and tougher law on dumping of industrial waste.

Central Royalty Scouts Leave For Camp Buchan

Scouts of the Central Royalty Troop departed Sunday for an eight-day summer camp at Camp Buchan under the leadership of Scout Master John Richard. Assistant Scout Master G. MacGaughey will arrive later in the week.

The Scout and Cub Group Committee assisted in providing transportation and part of the camp fee.

The week's program consists of sessions on axeman, patrol cooking, observation, stalking, tracking, signalling, estimation, woodcraft, mapping and compass. All of the above sessions will be prior to the troop overnight hike in which the scouts will move by map reference and compass bearings.

They will also complete sketches, mould casts of tracks, bake a "twister" of bread, and build an overnight lean-to.

Other activities will include morning and afternoon swimming sessions under the supervision of the Red Cross Instructor, B. Callaghan, one afternoon of track and field events and an afternoon solving the obstacle course.

There will be a compulsory one hour rest period after the noon meal each day. Evenings will be taken up with inter-troop softball and visits to other troops. The grand finale of each day's activities will be campfire for all scouts in the area.

Scouts attending are: Weston MacAleer, Buddy Taylor, Dennis Richard, Ted Richard, Lorie Jenkins, John Campbell, Elmer Dowling, Ralph Shea, Percy MacLennan, Blain Jelly. Also attending are three scouts from the Southport Troop, G. Gaudet, B. Perry and B. Wood.

DRIVER KILLED

ROGERSVILLE, N. B.—(CP) A 24-year-old milk truck driver was killed Friday afternoon when his truck collided with the north-bound Ocean Limited passenger train at a CNR level crossing here. Reginald Burbine of Lewisville, near Moncton, died in the crash and was hurled from his truck. RCMP said the vehicle was "torn to pieces."

Florence Mabey. Resolutions were passed that thanks be extended to Rev. L. S. Woolfrey for his capable leadership, to Rev. M.K. Charman and the Hampton Congregation for the use of their church, to those who conducted the inspiring devotional services, and to all others who in any way contributed to the success of our convention.

The topic for this session was "Teaching Ministry" led by Mr. Woolfrey. The plan of small discussion groups was again followed, and some of the findings were: The teacher must first of all be a consecrated Christian. Much time must be spent in prayerful preparation of the lesson. The aim of all Church School teaching is to lead the child to make a personal commitment to Christ.

Closing this discussion the hymn "Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah" was sung as a prayer. A very inspiring meditation by Mr. Woolfrey brought the convention to a close.

Injured Boys Are Improving

Sinclair MacMillan and Monty Emery, both of Wood Islands, were reported in improving condition last night according to Dr. Stewart MacDonald of Eldon.

The two boys were rushed to the Prince Edward Island Hospital early Saturday morning when the car in which they were driving was involved in an accident on the Trans-Canada highway.

Dr. MacDonald said that both boys received multiple fractures in the accident but did not give any details as to their extent.

Send Delegates To Paris Rally

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian political parties are sending 10 delegates to a conference of political youth leaders in Paris, sponsored by the Atlantic Treaty Association.

The Progressive Conservative party will be represented by six young men and the Liberal party by four representatives.

The conference July 7-11 is the first of its kind and is designed to bring together political youth leaders of under 40 years of age from NATO countries.

Eight of the 10 young political leaders will leave Montreal by air Friday.

Among them are: James E. McGrath, PC member for St. John's East; Denis Dionne, Quebec City; Augustin Brassard, Liberal MP for Lapointe and Roy Power, Halifax, president of the Young Liberal Federation.

Former Island-Owned Bull Acclaimed Superior Sire

In 1952, Edison B. Mutch, farmer-breeder of Jersey cattle in Prince Edward Island, led into the Royal Winter Fair ring a jersey bull known as Jester Standard Dreamer, who finally emerged with the grand championship honours. This bull, both before and since, has won many championships in Canada and the United States, and now at 10 years of age has been acclaimed a Superior Sire by the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club.

His 26 classified daughters average 85 per cent and his 23 tested daughters average 84.34 lbs. of milk, 474 lbs. of fat, with an average test of 5.62 per cent.

In 1954, Jester Standard Dreamer was sold to Holler and Dixon, Columbus, Ohio, and his name was changed to Jester Standard Brave Dreamer—557241A—.

Besides winning championship honours practically every time he appeared in the ring in Canada, he was grand champion at the Ohio State Fair, Waterloo Dairy Cattle Congress in 1954, and reserve grand champion at the International in Chicago that same year.

He was in the Abram and Holler Sale in 1957, and since then has been once again in the show ring giving a good account of himself.

The sire of Jester Standard Dreamer is the famous Brampton Jester Standard 2nd, Excellent, Superior, Gold and Silver Medal sire with 76 tested daughters that average 84.88 per cent.

In the United States, Standard 2nd has a rating on 21 daughters that average 83.66 lbs. of milk and 482 lbs. of fat and his 28 classified daughters average 86.07 per cent.

The dam of Dreamer is the famous Mutch cow—Dreamer's Maid—Excellent, Grand Champion, at many fairs. She has 4 records, and at 6 years in 305 days produced 12,624 lbs. of milk and 463 lbs. of fat. She probably has won the Progeny of Dam award more times than any other cow in Eastern Canada. She is a tested dam with 1 tested son and 3 tested daughters that average 10,768 lbs. of milk and 571 lbs. of fat.

Church School Convention Held At Hampton United

The sixtieth annual Church School Convention of the South-East Prince District met in Hampton United Church on June 25.

The opening Service of Worship was led by Rev. M.K. Charman The President, Mrs. Howard Schurman conducted the business period, and introduced the Convention leader, Rev. L. S. Woolfrey.

The theme for the afternoon session was "Worship in the Church School." The delegates were divided into six groups and each group given a question to discuss. When the groups reassembled the finding were presented.

RECOMMEND
Some of these were, Worship in the Church School should be thoughtfully and prayerfully prepared by the one who is to lead. The themes chosen should be such as will interest children. The worship period should be simple and brief.

The afternoon session closed with prayer by Rev. L. R. Graves. The fellowship of the supper hour was enjoyed by those who remained.

Edward Britten and David Schurman of the Bedeque Baptist Church led the evening worship. Their message through meditation and song was an inspiration to all.

OFFICERS
The reports of the committees were read and adopted as follows. Nominating: President, Sheldon Dixon; Vice-President, Mrs. John Matheson; Secretary - Treasurer personally the living Lord whom he presented to men, and the message thus given was based on a thorough understanding of the basic truth of the Gospel.

There has been a loud call for an educated ministry; here there is learning afire with zeal, and backed with a personality of rare winsomeness and strength. No wonder the stream flows on from one generation to another.

Canada's first need in this hour is of an evangelical ministry. The beginning of everything in the Christian life is the sinner's acceptance of the Saviour. He will be led into profound truths and out to wide fields of action, but the beginning is the trust of his heart in his living Lord.

The church of Christ has many interests and activities, but in the world she begins with this, "We are ambassadors for Christ; we pray you in Christ's stead: Be ye reconciled to God."

RELIGION AND LIFE

BY VERY REV. GEORGE C. PIDGEON, D.D., LL.D.
First Moderator of the United Church of Canada

GOOD SEED SOWN SHAPES OUR DECISIONS

"He has put all the stars back in my sky."

This was one of the significant sayings that we heard in a recent Sunday evening service in Trinity United Church, Toronto. They were repeated as part of a tribute to the ministry of Dr. Ernest Crossley Hunter, B.A., D.D., who is to retire at the end of June. To retire—but not to quit thank God. That gracious ministry will go on in a wider sphere.

Lovers of Wordsworth will remember that in his Ode on "The Intimations of Immortality" the poet writes of the Vision Splendid with which the youth starts on his career, and of the way it fades under the pressures of the world until:

"At length the man perceives it die away
And fade into the light of common day."

Now to bring the man back to the visions of his youth, the principles and ideas which he started out to serve, and to inspire him to use his mature wisdom and power to realize them: is surely the glory of the Christian ministry, not to speak of the numbers he awakens to the stars in their sky which they never saw before.

EMOTION
On this occasion, Dr. Hunter had his two sons with him in the pulpit, and each of the three gave the gist of the message he is called to deliver.

There was emotion in the service, but never was emotion more finely controlled and directed.

Without any previous collaboration between the three the words of each bore on the central truth which this remarkable family has given to and through the United Church of Canada. It was a great service and we came away with a song in our hearts.

We were reminded of the work of Crossley and Hunter; that remarkable team of evangelists who influenced so profoundly the church of the past generation. Here was an example of the spiritual power of the Christian family.

Through generation after generation, members of this family have given themselves to evangelical ministry. From the parents to the children the stream of grace has descended, and no one imagines it is going to stop now.

SPIRIT, PRAYERS
Most of us have been made what we are before we could choose for ourselves. The spirit and the prayers of our fathers and mothers and their claim for us in their covenant with God so shaped us that, when we made our decisions, we were giving expression to what had been wrought already in us.

True, we had to confirm their covenant on our behalf, but they had so directed our aspirations that this seemed the only thing to do.

This service was a striking demonstration of the influence of the Christian pulpit. The John Hunter of evangelistic fame was brought to Christ in a little revival service by an obscure evangelist.

When St. Andrew led St. Peter to Christ he brought into Christ's service one immeasurably greater than himself. This possibility is before every worker in Christ's vineyard.

Once in the far west we heard this tribute paid to a minister: "Many of us here have been happy to tell you of the inspiration you have given us, but far, far more of the crowds who wait on your ministry went out with new purpose and hope in their hearts, but never returned to report."

The messages of the pulpit are like seed sown in a field, and the worship that preceded the message prepares many a heart to receive it and act on it.

Dr. Crossley Hunter has for 48 years been preaching the Gospel on the grace of God in some of the leading churches in Canada east and west. Those decades of his life tell two stories—first his thorough preparation for his ministry, and second for his church's recognition of its effectiveness.

LIVING LORD
Wherever he has preached, it has been with the passionate conviction of a man who knew
