
UPEI Directors Invest Funds

The UPEI Board of Directors today announced that the funds acquired from the sale of the planetarium will be used to purchase a structure of more modern significance. They are paying $100,000 to purchase the reconditioned Challenger space shuttle. "The university was decidedly profituitous in the acquisition of the aforementioned phallic symbol. It was slightly devalued after a minor mishap with some O-nion rings," said a UPEI spokesperson, who wished to remain anonymous.

The shuttle will be used primarily as a really tacky conversation piece. It is hoped that excessive complaints from the masses will drown out the whining of students living in the gutters during the 1991 winter games.

pisces-Trying to drive a standard after years of automatic use could result in thousands of dollars of car damage, loss of pride, and no licence. Or, you could learn to drive an standard.

aries-Loss of personality will occur if you stand in the Lethbridge wind too long, it just sucks the life right out of you. Despite your childhood dreams, you will never grow up to be a tree.

taurus-Looking for sanctuary from the animals of the world in a tin can only makes you fat. You will never starve from a lack of twinkies. Your laundry is eating your bed at this instant.

gemini-Between classes, homework, friends, social life, lover, family, pets and house plants, you don't have time for a life. Take a break, grab some R and R, or you'll die.

cancer-Someone from your past is going to try to get you just like they promised. Of course, because of the same reasons they left in the past, they won't succeed in the present.

leo-There are vicious rumours that you are engaged. This comes as a surprise as you didn't realize things were getting that serious. Neither did your mate. They've moved out on you.

virgo-The evil toothfairy will come back when your wisdom teeth begin to destroy your mouth. She will carry a lance of electric flame that she'll use to remind you of your childhood sins.

libra-Eating 3 pickles, a bowl of ice cream, a slice of pizza, and a pot of tomato soup before going to bed was a bad idea. Worse is waking up with the big, slimy, orange monster still there.

scorpio-You know money is beginning to get tight when you realize it's become a daily battle with your dog over his food. Even better, you usually are happy when you win.

sagittarius- Typical for university students, you will have a bit of a winter store to work off this summer. It will be harder to get off than it was to put on, but it will return next winter.

capricorn-The biggest change to ever occur in your academic career is going to come soon. You will be offered a professorship to teach how to relax in school as you do it so well in class.

aquarius-You will volunteer to be a psych experiment so you get the marks needed to pass your class, but you didn't expect to have to go through the torment you did. You will never recover.
