Santa Pays Visit To Alberton

It was announced by the Alberton branch of the Canadian Legion that "Santa Claus is coming to town Wednesday afternoon December 19th." Even the kind of weather that struck the province that day could not stop Santa but he knew it was not fit for boys and girls to meet him at the Legion Home so he sent word his visit would be postponed until Saturday.

On Saturday the weather man was kind and some four hundred of his young friends were on hand long before three o'clock to keep their appointment with Santa. The Legion Home was very festive in appearance, decorated in keeping with the occasion, and complete with a huge, brightly lighted Christmas tree. Members of the Legion were present to welcome everyone and to assist Santa in distributing treats to all the boys and girls, some of whom had driven long distances to meet him. The singing of "Jingle Bells" and several carols added to the joy of the occasion.

Although one would expect Santa to be very busy at this time of year, he did not hurry away but drove about town calling on a few children who were not able to come to the Legion Home, and also paying a visit to the Western Hospital where he received a warm welcome. Santa promised to return Christmas eve to make his annual visit to the homes of all good little boys and girls.—B.
