THE PLAYFUL KITTEN SHOULD COME TO CHARLOTTE-TOWN.—A Prince Arthur's Landing paper contains the following advertisement: "A young lady of loving and warm disposition, playful as a kitten, with golden eyes, coffee brown eyes and pleasing complexion, would like to correspond with a well looking gentleman, (above six feet in height preferred), as she is a great admirer of stature with a view to matrimony and future happiness. Money no object."

MR. PATRICK DOYLE, Engineer, formerly a citizen of Picton, but lately residing in Charlottetown, died here, yesterday morning, after a very short illness. He came across last Sunday in the ferry steamer "Southport," to have her put upon the Marine Slip here, and on Monday evening was attacked by violent convulsions. The best medical aid was procured, but nothing could be done for him; and about five o'clock yesterday morning death put an end to his sufferings. His disease was one of long standing. The deceased was much respected. We tender our sympathies to his bereaved family.—Piston News, May 18.

KILLED IN A ROW.—On Sunday afternoon the son named Charles Hughes and William McDonald, called at the house of James Kennedy, on Lower Water street, Halifax, and demanded from Mr. Kennedy, who kept a public house, some liquor. The two men were intoxicated and were put out of the house without getting what they wanted. They went off, and shortly after returned to demand another demand for liquor. They were refused a second time and a fracas ensued, in which Mr. Kennedy was assaulted. He was picked up as one by his son and taken into the house where he expired immediately. McDonald and Hughes were arrested.

YOUTH RIVER THIEVES AGAIN.—There is a band of thieves some where about North River, and the honest farmers of the locality have, for years past, repeatedly been robbed. But the latest excursion of the thieves was upon the Methodist Church at Charwell. The Church is undergoing repairs, and was supposed to contain a large quantity of painting material. On Friday night it was entered and considerable quantity was stolen. Surely, when seen the sacred house of God is desecrated by these thieves, it is time that vigorous measures were taken to ferret them out and bring them to condign punishment. We suggest a local vigilance committee.

A Run to Death.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT ON THE MAINE CENTRAL.—A LOCOMOTIVE COLLIDES WITH A FREIGHT TRAIN—THREE MEN KILLED.

A disastrous accident occurred, on the 18th instant, on the Maine Central Railroad, near Brown's Landing, Vassalboro, Maine. Just before noon, a freight train going west collided with a locomotive running wild and going east, smashing both locomotives and killing both engineers, and the fireman of the wild locomotive. The scene of the catastrophe is five miles above Augusta, just above Five-mile Island. The freight train was about fifteen minutes late, and running at twenty miles an hour. The wild engine was running at a high rate of speed, and the concussion was terrific. The momentum and weight of the freight train drove the light locomotive back several rods.

TEARING UP SLEEPERS and rails as it went. Almost immediately after the collision the boiler of the freight locomotive exploded with terrific force. The entire boiler was carried away, nothing but the flues remaining. The smoke stack was carried over a hill 48 rods away, and pieces of the boiler flew long distances in every direction, many falling into the river. The boiler head of the wild engine was also blown off. The persons killed were Albert Kilgore, engineer of the wild locomotive, Geo. Eastbrook, fireman of the same, and Charles Small, engineer of the freight train. Kilgore had been in the employ of the Maine Central Railroad.

SOME TWENTY YEARS, and had the reputation of being a competent engineer. Small had been for many years employed by the company and was a good engineer. Both men resided in this city and leave families. Eastbrook, the fireman, belonged to Bangor. The freight train consisted of twenty-one cars, fifteen of which are wrecked, in one place being piled upon each other four cars deep. One locomotive was RENDERED WORTHLESS, but the other, though badly damaged, will be repaired. The loss is roughly estimated at $25,000. As soon as the news of the accident reached Augusta, a relief train, with surgeons, employes of the Maine Central Railroad, and others, went to the scene of the disaster to render whatever aid they could. The bodies were brought to Augusta on the 18th. Coroner W. H. Libby was called and a jury empanelled, and sat on the case on the 19th. According to present appearances the responsibility for the disaster rests upon Kilgore, engineer of the locomotive running wild.

A Terrible Cyclone

VISITS PORTIONS OF ILLINOIS AND WISCONSIN.—OVER SIXTY PERSONS KILLED AND HUNDREDS WOUNDED—A HOUSE BLOWN OUT OF SIGHT.

A cyclone passed through Illinois on Friday doing great damage. A number of persons are reported seriously injured and one is dead. The storm came from the southwest passing half a mile west of Shipmans, and one mile east of Plainsview and covered a space of about a quarter of a mile in width. From advices received in Chicago from points in Illinois visited by the cyclone of Friday night, 54 deaths have already been reported in the State and a number injured—estimated at nearly 200. Owing to the bad condition of the wires north of Milwaukee, no accurate account of the loss of life in Wisconsin can be made.

A terrific and destructive cyclone from the southeast passed over Dewitt County, Ill., on Friday, doing immense damage wherever it struck. Hail fell as large as hickory nuts and one house was blown out of sight; three persons were killed and five wounded, some perhaps fatally. Several miles south of Carlinville, Ill., the residences of Frank Rice and George Baker were demolished by the storm of Friday night. Mrs. Frank Rice, Mrs. George Baker and two of the latter's grandchildren were killed outright and three other persons seriously wounded, and one of whom will probably die. The residence of C. A. Stone, three miles south-east of Mason City, Ill., was destroyed by Friday night's storm and a young child killed. Hannah Rice, a servant girl, was also killed, and seven other inmates of the house injured. Most of those who were wounded during the cyclone at Clinton, Ill., on Friday night are improving slowly. There are no new developments, with the exception of two more houses and a barn being added to the property destroyed. The damage to property is very great.

Additional details gathered from various sources show that the tornado of last Friday night made its way through three counties of Missouri—Montgomery, Warren and St. Charles—and besides destroying a large amount of property, killed and more or less seriously wounded over 20 persons.

Curley Hanged.

Daniel Curley, the second man convicted of participation in the murder of Cavendish and Burke, was hanged in Kilmainham jail at 8 o'clock, a. m., on the 18th inst. The jail was guarded by a force of military similar to that on the occasion of the hanging of Brady, Cannon Kennedy and Fisher O'Rielly arrived at the prison at an early hour to attend Curley. After the priest prayed privately with the condemned man in the cell, mass was performed in the prison chapel in presence of the governor and wardens, where Curley received the sacrament. Meanwhile a group of women who gathered outside the prison were on their knees, saying the Litany for the dying. When the black flag announcing that the execution had taken place was hoisted over the prison, every man in the crowd outside, which numbered barely 1,000, uncovered his head and murmurs of sympathy with Curley were uttered. A rush was then made by the crowd for a garden near by, where Curley's relatives had assembled and where his father was kneeling praying for the repose of his son's soul. The people soon dispersed quietly. Curley walked to the scaffold with but little assistance. He seemed to be resigned to his fate, but was hardly firm. He declined to make a statement touching his connection with the crime. Death was instantaneous. In a letter which Curley wrote to his wife he said,—"I will take my secrets to the grave with me, and leave them to those who are at freedom to enjoy it. I will die in peace, forgiving my enemies."
