FOR A GIRLS ROOM.

REVIVAL OF OLD STYLES IN DRESSING TABLES.

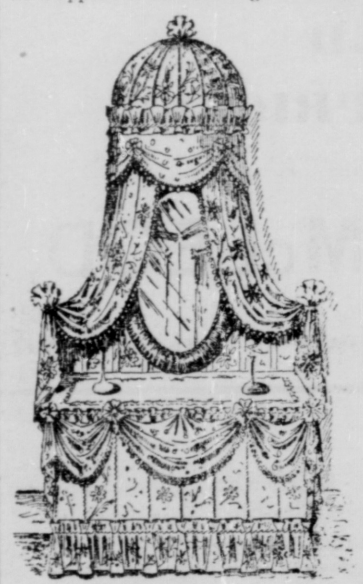

Dainty Figured Muslin, English Art Muslin, and Soft India Silks Produce Beautiful Effects in Conjunction With a Skilled Carpenter.

We are now having a revival of the dressing table of our grandmothers' days, says The Ladies' Home Journal. In the show we are now connected with, there is every conceivable form and manner of finish.

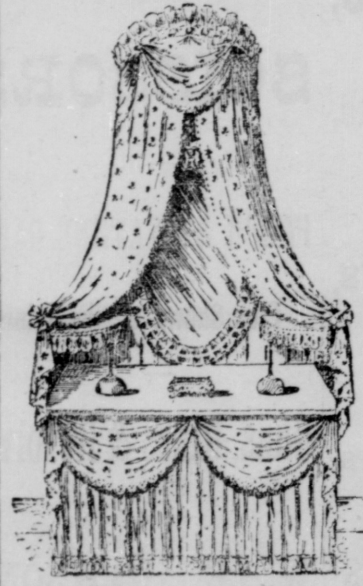

ARTISIC TOILET TABLE. (Illus. No. 1). A very pretty toilet-table seen recently at one of our large shops, and fitted for a young girl's room, was finished entirely in white, the entire frame being covered with double-faced white canton flannel.

The Duchesse Table. A form of table that may be developed with any of these materials is that known as the "Duchesse." It is one that in its various shapes and modifications appeals to those having a taste and DUCHESS DRESSING-TABLE (Illus. No. 2). Inclination for home cabinet-making and decorating. The frame is made of pine or poplar, after which they are draped with cretonne or dotted Swiss muslin, the more ornate of the latter being trimmed with fine white ribbon.

More Elaborate Tables. The more elaborate of these toilet tables are furnished with canopies, as shown in Illustration No. 2, and are very handsome. The scheme represented in Illustration No. 1, which shows the table completely finished, is simple in detail.

DEVELOPED IN INDIA SILK (Illus. No. 3). confined, as our grandmothers were, to white muslin and glazed cambric in pink or blue. In selecting a color for one of these tables care must be taken that it shall harmonize with the paper and carpet. Harmony should be the key-note of a girl's room, not contrast.

For Over Fifty Years. AS OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.—W. F. WELBY—1-y need not look for that lightness and delicacy of line obtainable by the use of the thin goods. However, what one loses in this respect is more than counterbalanced by the feat of color made possible by the use of cretonne.

The Materials Required. About sixteen yards of muslin or any fifty-inch material, eight yards of silesia, thirteen yards of fringe or other edge trimming, twelve yards ribbon, one and a half yards thick cotton flannel, with which to pad the table under the silesia and muslin, will be required.

A White Dressing-Table. A very pretty toilet-table seen recently at one of our large shops, and fitted for a young girl's room, was finished entirely in white, the entire frame being covered with double-faced white canton flannel.

In making these tables the under side of the canopy should be lined before being put in place; the skirt drapery should be laid in well-defined plait and fastened securely to the table before the drapery is attached. It is well, also, in addition to having the frame of the dressing-table made secure, to arrange the drapery so that it may be easily removed, as nothing can be more unsuitable for a dainty maiden's room than anything which is in any degree soiled.

For the festoons in Illustration No. 3 it may be advisable to employ some pretty pattern in Indian silk, this securing a lighter and more graceful effect, or the entire table may be covered with the thinner material. Satisfactory effects may be obtained at a merely nominal cost by utilizing the printed cotton imitations of the silk for the purpose. Pretty designs can be had in these materials as low as fifteen cents a yard.

Design in Cheese-Cloth. A very simple and effective table is shown in Illustration No. 4. This was gotten up in cheese-cloth, the lines being accentuated by the use of a dainty ball fringe of red, and a wide white drapery being caught up and fastened with red ribbon bows, the edge of the table having a finish of ribbon box-plaiting. Cheese cloth comes in so many and such dainty lines that there ought to be little difficulty in arranging with it an attractive dressing-table in almost any scheme of color. The art of shades of pink, blue and yellow, or the cream white trimmed with tall fringe and bows of soft silk ribbon, will make the SIMPLE AND EFFECTIVE DESIGN (Illus. No. 4). table a place of all others for the many dainty silver and china articles which the girl of to-day is apt to own, and which will shine reflected in the mirror which is draped above them. Pretty seats are made to be used with these tables; they are the quaint, old-fashioned four-legged stools of either bird's-eye maple, cherry, mahogany, light oak or walnut, with seats of the whitest cane; a silken cushion filled with down is their accompaniment.

MERE CHAT. The Wives of Spendthrifts—The Trampiness of Cheap Houses.

When I read about the defaulters and embezzlers who spend $10,000 a year on a salary of $3,000, I wonder what their wives are like.

For they generally have wires, and children also.

I refer to that class of criminals who spend their money in their homes on gorgeous furniture, jewels, dresses, houses and the like.

Do these wives never wonder, knowing their husband's regular income, where all this money comes from?

And if they wonder, don't they also worry?

I can't imagine a woman accepting all these things for years, as so many of them do, and not making inquiries.

What is there about the food offed at a reception that will cause wealthy, dignified, blase and even dyspeptic people to rush for it so madly that coats are torn and elegant dresses ripped and soiled?

Restaurant living is all well enough for a man, but it's rather "trampy" for a woman.—New York Recorder.

The Poor Bridegroom. A bridegroom looks the first week of his marriage like a boy caught in a union-patch.—Atchison Globe.

HITROX, Man., Oct. 30.—James Brydon of this place, told a marvelous tale to a newspaper reporter the other day. He said he had been attacked by kidney disease about two years ago, which resulted in continuous pains in the back.

To use his own words, "the pains were unbearable and life was a drag." He became so weak that he had to give up work for over a year, and frequently needed assistance in dressing and he could not put on his own boots. Mr. Brydon has lately taken one dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The result has been a perfect cure, and he is to-day as healthy and happy a man as can be found in the Province. These pills have only been on sale for a short time in Manitoba, but several instances of really wonderful cures from their use have come to light throughout the Province.

An unknown man stepped into the office of Alexander J. Robertson, the cashier in the wholesale stamp department of the Chicago Post Office, at half-past seven o'clock Tuesday night and knocked him senseless with some blunt instrument, probably a slung shot, took his $7,000 in cash and then made good his escape.
