The Fitzpatrick Murder.

Further Evidence

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON the examination before the Stipendiary Magistrate was continued, and the following evidence obtained:—

DUNCAN MCLEAN'S evidence continued—On the Saturday I referred to I rode to Cornwall on a sulky. I think there was a horse harnessing when I was going away. I do not think there was two horses harnessing then. I think my two brothers were there at the time. Alex. Robinson, a brother of the prisoner, was there, also, I think Dan McLean. I did not see any packages there, nor did I put any in the wagon. I saw Robinson once before I hired him. I called at Mr. Fisher's house the evening I got the subpœna. I was on my way to Mr. Dixon's mill. I was not looking for any one then. I was looking for a chance to go to town.

To Mr. Peters—Before I had left the gun at Brown's I had used her. I tried to fix the gun myself. I thought I had fixed it so it would do. I loaded her and found it would not do. I did not fire the load out and took it to Brown's loaded. There was no ramrod to the gun. I used a stick instead of a ramrod. She had no ramrod after she came home.

To Attorney-General—I did not examine the gun when I saw her in the kitchen. The reason I said the gun had no ramrod was because I did not see any. I had a gun at Brown's before. She was loaded, I did not fire her off, perhaps because I had no caps. I keep the gun in various places. I told Brown the gun was loaded when I took it to him. I do not know whether Brown heard me telling him or not.

MISS HOLROYD (sworn).—I knew the boy Fitzpatrick. He lived eighteen months or two years with us. He left us a year last June. He was an intelligent boy. He received instructions while at our place from myself. I gave him lessons on week days and on Sundays. He knew the difference between right and wrong, and a future state of reward and punishment. He was reading in the first book. He was taught the Church of England catechism. I cannot say he knew the nature of an oath. He was eight or nine years of age when he was with us. He undoubtedly knew about a place of punishment and place of happiness.

JAMES MCLEAN (sworn).—I am Duncan McLean's brother as far as I know. (Prisoner Robinson stands up). That is the man they call Sidney Robinson. I saw him work back and forth on my brother's place. He was there in September and October. (Prisoner Robinson stands up). That is the man I saw on my brother's place. I last saw him on the Sabbath day.

Attorney General—What was he doing then?

Witness—I don't know; he might have been getting over the fence for all I know. I don't know how Robinson went away that Sabbath evening. I did not drive Robinson away that Sunday evening; to the best of my knowledge I could not say who drove him away. I know the day the shooting of Fitzpatrick took place. I was in town that day. The prisoner Robinson came to Charlottetown with me that day. I had a wagon. We arrived about noon. I put my horse up at Mr. McClaren's, on Sidney Street. Robinson went there with me. I think we parted at McClaren's. I did not take Robinson home that evening. I think I saw Sidney Robinson on Saturday, after he returned from town. I did not bring home a gun from Brown's that day. I did not know the gun was in town. I do not know that Robinson was home before me. I went into Fitzpatrick's the evening the boy was shot. I heard the boy was shot when I got near Fitzpatrick's house. When I went home I told those who were present that I saw a boy who was shot. My brother Fred was lying in the kitchen and I told him, but he might have been asleep. I also told my mother; she was up stairs. I cannot say whether the prisoner slept at my house that night or not.

DUNCAN MCLEAN (re-called)—I remember the Friday night of the shooting. I took it to be him was asleep upstairs in my brother James' house. I am not sure it was him. I did not take a light to look. The person was in the room usually occupied by him. I never knew Robinson to have a gray suit of clothes, never saw him wearing any, and there was none about the place he could wear. The gun is loaded now. I never handled her since she came back from Brown's.

Albert Douse's testimony, as taken in the previous case, was read and received. (The Prisoners stood up.) Witness said, I could not say whether or not these are the men I saw passing in the cart. They were walking the horse when they passed me on the road.

ROBERT FRANKLYN BROWN (sworn)—I am a gunsmith and I work with my brother. I remember Duncan McLean, who was examined here, leaving a gun with me for repair. It was along Exhibition time. I repaired the lock. I was ordered by McLean to give the gun to whoever would call and ask for it. A young fellow, I think the prisoner, called for it. It was a Market Day he called for it. I don't think anyone was with him. He paid me thirty or thirty-five cents for the repairs, and took the gun and went off. I would not be positive when it was, whether it was Tuesday or Friday. (Witness examines gun.) That is the gun I repaired. Robertson or the McLean's have not been to see me since about the gun.

To Mr. Peters—I could not say the gun was loaded. Mr. McLean told me it was. We often have guns left with us loaded. There was no cap on the nipple when I delivered it to Robinson.

To Attorney-General—I did not tell Robinson when I delivered the gun to him that it was loaded. I cannot say the day I delivered the gun to Robinson was the day the boy was shot.

CITY MARSHALL FLYNN, (sworn)—I know the prisoners now. I arrested Fisher on Friday week, at Clyde River, as a witness. I told him he was to go before the inquest as a witness. I also told him McLean would be brought in as well as every one whom they could find were on the ground.

Attorney-General—Did he make any voluntary statement?

Witness—Yes. He said he was in town that day with a load of potatoes.

Mr. Davies objected to the statement made by Fisher while under arrest.

The court noted the objection.

Witness continued—I made no promise to the prisoner, nor did I warn him. I did not know there was a charge against him. I asked the prisoner, Fisher, who came out of town with him. He said the prisoner, Robinson.

Mr. Peters objected to this statement being taken as evidence against Robinson on ground that it was only hearsay and was not evidence. He argued that it should not be put down in the depositions, as it might be read before a jury, and would have prejudicial effects on the jury.

The court, in noting objecsion, said this was not the proper tribunal to try whether or not it was evidence, therefore he must allow the statement to be put in the deposition.

Witness proceeded—The prisoner Fisher said he gave a lift to Robinson on the way out. Next morning after being confined in the station all night, I asked Fisher where was the gun. He said it was not a gun, it was a musket.

Both counsel again objected to this being taken as evidence.

That is all I asked him. While at Fisher's farm I noticed an old blue cart turned up in the yard. It answered to a description given by a witness. I also noticed a large horse. I got the gun produced in court in James McLean's porch.

The Attorney General stated there was other evidence to be brought forward hereafter, unless His Honor thought the evidence was sufficient to send the prisoners up for trial.

The Court stated that the evidence was sufficient to send them up, but the only doubt on his mind was whether they should be sent up for murder or manslaughter.

Mr. Peters said he could read the evidence over and convince any reasonable man that there was not any evidence sufficient to send them up.

The Court then adjourned until to-morrow.

THE examination of Robinson and Fisher was resumed this forenoon at 11 30.

ALLAN MCPHEE (sworn).—I live at North River. I remember hearing of the shooting of Fitzpatrick and the day it occurred. I think I met the prisoner to the left (Robinson) at my father's house on the Friday evening of the murder. It was then about sundown or after. He was asking for Charles Paterson, who boarded there. As I walked in the gateway I met him coming out. I also saw a man in a cart near Paterson's forge. The man in the cart was about one hundred yards from my father's house. I did not know the man in the cart, but I thought I knew the horse I took it to be a mare of Fisher's. I think it was a good-sized brown beast. I did not notice the cart or its color. The man who I met in the yard went out towards the corner. I will not say whether he went to the corner or Patterson's house. I do not know whether he went to the cart or not. I did not see the cart drive away, nor did I see it come there. I was enquiring who the man in the cart was, and I was told it was Fisher. By the horse I thought it was young Fisher, but I did not know which of the brothers. The Fisher mare is peculiarly marked. Her udder is out of place and forward. By that I know by repute it was Fisher's mare. I noticed this peculiar mark at the time. I think the man in the cart was dressed in grey clothes. The man I met in the yard was dressed in dark clothes. I could not say which was the taller of the two. I did not see them together. I met the man in the yard full face, but did not notice any peculiar mark on the face. I think the prisoner Robinson in the dock was the man I met in the yard. I know it was by his eyes. I never saw him before I met him in the yard that evening. I think the one I met in the yard wore a dark cap.

To Mr. Davies—I did not pay any particular attention to the cart at the time. I knew it was not loaded by the man standing on it.

SOLOMON MCDONALD (sworn)—I live at North River. I am a blacksmith, and work with Mr. Patterson at McPhee's Corner. I remember the Friday young Fitzpatrick was shot. Two young men called at the forge that evening. When I saw them the cart was standing in the middle of the road. I was coming from tea, and when I saw them I hurried along as I thought they wanted something. When I got over to the forge the man in the cart drove towards the forge. I then saw another man coming from Mr. McPhee's. The man coming from McPhee's came up to the door of the forge and asked me for a set of plough irons for Mr. McLean. He did not say what McLean. He said some McLean in West River. I rather think those plough irons were Fred McLean's, but am not sure. The plough irons were not done. I did not take any particular notice of the clothes he wore. It was a blue cart. I did not think it was an old cart. I did not notice the horse. I don't think I would be able to identify the men. (Prisoners stood up). I could not swear these were the men. I would not swear they were not the men. It was sometime between sundown and dark the men called at the forge. Before the cart came to the forge I saw a young man passing in a cart, also a horse in a truck wagon. The man in the cart was leading the truck wagon. That would be a good deal before sundown. That team went out the Wiltshire Road. I noticed an express wagon passing before, but that express wagon went back again towards town. I did not notice a single wagon with a man and woman in it. Mr. Patterson was in town that day, and had not returned when the men called for the plough irons. I do not know the prisoners.

To Mr. Peters—It was a market day, and many vehicles passed. I could not say how many passed.

CHARLES PATTERSON (sworn)—I am a blacksmith, and live at McPhee's Corner, North River. I was in town the evening Fitzpatrick was shot. I left North River at 3 o'clock and came in in the Tryon mail. I met some carts and some wagons. I know young Fisher who lives at Clyde River. I met a Fisher in a cart at this side of Holman's Road. I do not know who was with Fisher. It was a young man. (Prisoners stand up.) I will not swear that the prisoner, Fisher, in the dock is the man I met in the cart. I thought by the passing glance I gave it was Charles Fisher. I knew the prisoner before. I could not identify the other prisoner. When they passed they were not driving fast. They had a dark horse, and the cart had blue sideboards. I met a man named Enman after I met the cart. He was driving in a wagon with a woman. I think Enman came next after the cart, but will not swear positively. I did not notice how the parties in the cart were dressed. I have seen the prisoner only once this summer, since he was away last winter twelve-month. The Fisher boys resemble each other, and there is not much difference in their age. It would take me a half hour to get to Holman's Road, as the roads were bad. I cannot say it was three o'clock when I left home. It was a little later or earlier.

CLARINDA MCLEAN (sworn)—I live on Sydney Street, Charlottetown. I am a sister to Duncan and James McLean, West River. I remember the day; heard of Fitzpatrick being shot. One of my brothers, James, was in town that day. He stayed at my house part of the time. Mr. Paterson, the blacksmith, was with him. I do not remember any one else. I know John Fisher. He was not there with my brother. I saw Fisher there that day. There was a boy with him. I cannot tell you his name (prisoner Robinson stands up.) To the best of my knowledge the prisoner Robinson was the boy was with Fisher that day at my place. (Prisoner Fisher stands up.) I think the prisoner Fisher is the one who was at my house. I did not know Robinson's name when he was at my house. I only saw him a few times before. He called once for a parcel some time ago. I never heard him called anything but "Sid," and the person whom I heard called "Sid" was the person with Fisher at my house. I do not know what time "Sid" was there. I think it was in the afternoon. My brother left for home about eight o'clock in the evening. One of them left a message with me. I cannot swear which left the message as my back was turned to them. If anyone left it it was Robinson. He said for my brother not to wait for him, as he was going home with Fisher. These were the words, as well as I remember them. Fisher was not present then. I could not tell how the boys were dressed that day.

Found a Manufacturer Overloaded!

Bought Part of His Stock at a Sacrifice.

Prices are Still Tumbling and Purchasers will Reap the Benefit Thereof!

REID BROS. have purchased a large Invoice of Fine Saxonby All-wool Tweeds from a Manufacturer's Agent, whose name we are not permitted to mention, at a great sacrifice to the mills, and we intend giving our patrons the advantage of this purchase. These goods have never in the history of P. E. Island been retailed at less than $1.40 to $1.75 a yard, and we now can offer them at 95cts a yard, or will make up suits from them to order, with linings worth $1.10 a yard and other trimmings to match, at the popular price, $16, worth just $22 50 all over this country. Will produce letters from some of the best men in town and country which must satisfy the most æsthetic that our cutter, Mr. Bruce, and his helps, are equal to the times, and his garments are always neat, strong, perfect-fitting and full-fashioned.

Experience has taught us that many persons have been driven away in disgust from houses who are continually advertizing goods at extraordinary prices, which they are unable to produce when called for, and to meet this difficulty we ask intending purchasers to call and examine our stock and we are confident that one inspection will satisfy the most skeptical that we never advertize a humbug.
