For all that, party tags do not have the hold they once had on the average voter. More and more the candidate for office is being judged not by the label he bears but by his own personal qualifications and potential usefulness in the field of public service.

This is not to suggest that the time will ever come when distinct and separate political parties will be no more. Factions there will always be, and should be.

There are still some (this island has perhaps more than its share) who imagine that to switch from one party to another is somehow a shameful thing to do.

Gauthier-Arsenault Wedding

A scene of a very pretty wedding took place in St. Ann's Church, Hamilton, Ont., on Saturday, November 17th, of Yvonne Arsenault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Arsenault, Kensington, to Adrien Gauthier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vital Gauthier of St. Nicholas.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Edmund Gallant. The bride looked charming in a white floor length gown of French lace over satin, her hairdressed was of pearl covered prayer book with a nosegay of red roses, gift from the groom. Her bridesmaid was her cousin Dorcen Gallant who also looked charming in a floor length gown of light blue net over taffeta, she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The gift to the bridesmaid was a rhinestone necklace, and to the groomsmen, Cletus Lalonde of Hamilton, a leather billfold.

The bride's mother, who was attending the wedding, was dressed in gray gabardine with navy accessories. The happy couple left on their honeymoon for Buffalo, New York. Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered two showers by her girl friends, where she received many useful and costly gifts including a chest of silver from the firm of Winsor Wafers where the bride is employed.

The organist was Mrs. Lewis Bernard, and the following members of the C. G. I. T. took up the offering: Mary MacDonald, Lila MacGregor, Suzanne Wedge and Margaret Woodridge.

Before the Vesper Service there was fifteen minutes of carol singing with Billy Matheson as organist and the smaller girls of the Sunday School comprising the choir. A solo was sung by Jeanie Dickson.

C.G.I.T. Christmas Vesper Service

Over two hundred people attended the special Canadian Girls in Training Christmas Vesper service in the O'Leary United Church on Christmas Sunday evening. The girls in their trim uniforms conducted the entire service, composed the choir and took up the collection.

The first part of the service was entitled "God sends a Baby into the world". The second part was "God calls the Worshippers", and the last part was "God gives the Light of the World", and this was followed by an impressive Candle-lighting ceremony.

The Leader, Mrs. W. G. Dickson presided, and was assisted by the other leader, Mrs. Herbert Vatcher. Joan Stetson read a story, Lella Craswell read a scripture, and Sherla Ellis led in the responsive reading.

Solos were sung by Georgia Yeo and Norma Dickson. In the candle-lighting ceremony the following took part: Aleta Harris, Lila Craswell and Norma Dickson.

Clearstone HEARING AID

Here is the ultimate in hearing aid design and engineering. The Clearstone "700" is the closest approach yet to hearing aid perfection. It is the smallest hearing aid ever produced to capture the power of a 22 1/2 volt battery. You'll be amazed to see how very small it is—smaller than ever before thought possible. You will appreciate the clearness and extra power designed to aid the most difficult cases. Now you can hear sounds more clearly... without distortion... without strain. Now you can wear your hearing aid hour after hour easily, comfortably... without fatigue. Match the Clearstone "700" with any hearing aid available today. Put them all to the same tests. You'll agree that the Clearstone "700" outperforms them all.

We carry most all sizes of Batteries and repair most aids. Please send make of Aid and number of Battery when ordering. FOLEY'S DRUG STORE SUMMERSIDE, P. E. I. DIAL 5257
