How the sixpence advanced, will a shilling return;
Still, the arrogant nothing will battle and burn,
But the bubble conceit, is doomed to fatal disaster
When it would grapple a subject already its master.
Ho! Iron Hoss ho!
Let your black pennant flow,
And your hot whistle blow.
Ring the bell,
Make it tell;
I'am aboard you must know
For a five minutes go.
In teachings of life in every day school,
A true sterling lesson we learn
Is the witless and wise the knave and the fool,
The kind and the mild and the stern,
The sage, cynic, seer, saint, sinner sophist, have one common lot;
Each has his enemy, opponent—and what creature has not?
And politicians, statesmen and peers,
In public works and private affairs,
Are daily more or less by the ears,
And each other
Would smother
Or ring-bolt to floor of state cellar, to lessen the fears
For his rival perching high cock a-lorum in chamber up stairs.
So our stalwart boss and great hoss too; have their foes;
But 'tis superfluous telling what every one knows,
Yet now in coming to blows,
May repeat I suppose,
Our fine hoss has foes.
Or seemingly those,
But the whole country knows
Opposition arose,
And the prejudice flows,
As may be shown by my pen,
Not to the measure—but men.
And anti-public ardour turned on pivot in socket.
Of high patriotism founded in personal pocket
The hungry and factious, in jealousy high,
For pure love of country politically sigh
Kick up their heels, show cloven hoofs to the sky.
The rail and the hoss
They cannot engross,
Lieutenant or boss.
No part of the scheme to their guidance and eye.
No chance for a fist in the Iron Hoss pie,
Summon all their wits and their skits to decry
The whole thing a job of a very foul dye.
And patriot. now,
Is stamp'd on each brow,
In shape. snarley bow wow.
So each one of the puritan outs
Shock'd. bristl'd up indignant pouts
Foe's his personal interests in positive danger,
And embraces the spirit of dog in the manger
Not a lap
Of hoss pap
Would come to his share,—
Here's a pretty affair.
The sweet, only true friends of the people—
Necessaire to their weel as a steeple—
To any sect church
All left in the lurch.
No wonder they flare,
Tear linen and hair,
Bump their heads bite their lips, their own whiskers pull,
Rear and rave like a creature of Bashan, call'd bull;
And in duce of a stew,
And as bitter as rue
At the hoss and his crew,
Beat the Devil s tattoo.
Now, Pope held the ribbons and a crack whip was jim—
Here no such a whip no. not the ditto of him,
The stage coach he guided with master y skill
And heart of a hero of mind and of will,
With his face to the tempest, unflinchingly still,
Undaunted he stood, erect firm to his ground,
Defied coil of the whirlwind that wound him around,
To shatter his banner and topple him down.
Though the hounds were un'eash'd, and curs of the town,
And beagles and badgers and harriers full cry,
Yelping. barking and howling and si ent and sly.
As their natures determine,
The dogs and the vermin
And the stage-going anties yerked out their will;
And the mud pellets flew, and news paper swill.
With element skunk,
Egregiously drunk
Was madly squirted and scatter'd to kill.
Let them lash. let them dash at wheelers and lead;
Pope, firm of purpose. gave their ravings small heed;
They were not the mettle, the blood nor the breed
To cope with our Pope, his team progress and speed.
The armed opposition the kites and the crows,
His slanderers in packs, and honorable foes,
He slew, in the pride—and the might of his hour;
With the avalanche swoop, resistless in power
As a light on a rock that repels the proud sea
Amid the hurricane's howl, a'l steadfast was he,
And his lamp ever bright, shone to weather and lee;
In prowess puissant Pope's masterly skill,
The foe at his feet, and subdued to his will,
With his adamant party in firm phalanx still,
Triumphantly carried the great railway bill.
The Railway accomplished,
Will monument stand
Of the wisdom that gave
The boon to our land
And the Government, yielding public justice its due,
In bright honor and glory of the plummet course true
Patriotic. unselfish, guide the noble work through;
Its memory will live on proud page of this land.
While the tide-ways of ocean may be traced on its strand;
And Pope s laurel-leaf, fresh now in high polish'd mien,
Through mutations of time will remain ever green.

ENGLAND AND AMERICA.

The New York Herald can be bellicose or peaceful when it pleases. Here is the latest, which is eloquent enough, though somewhat visionary:—

"It cannot be doubted that England and America are destined to play very important parts as commercial and political allies. Steam and the telegraph, not less than a common language and a common origin. bring the two peoples wonderfully close together. The two countries can never go to war, and will be rivals only in finding the trackless paths of the ocean, and bearing to all the world the fruits of the tropics and the spices of the East. While the Latin races—France, Spain, Italy—are fighting among themselves and falling to pieces by the disintregration which follows national degredation; while Germany is aggrandizing in Central Europe, and Russia pushing her conquests further and further into Central Asia, England and America alone are free from the taints of the Latins and the faults of the Prussians and their Russian allies. They will stand together against all encroachments upon China, and unite in protecting their commerce, which is the commerce of the world. Tennyson felt this when he saw the pilots in the purple twilight dropping down with costly bales,

Till the war-drum throbbed no longer, and the battle flags were furled,
In the Parliament of Man—the federation of the world, and Earl Carnarvon seems to have had a glimpse of it in seeing Sir Benjamin Pine's petty federation scheme the germ of a still larger federation.

"The American people can scarcely hope to wrest the dominion of the Atlantic from the English commercial navy; but America may at least share that dominion with England, while the Pacific is ours for all future ages. It only needs a little wisdom now to make the two countries greater in the future than in the past. The Treaty of Washington has opened the way, and the adoption of this federation scheme will be another step in the same direction. Before the close of the century we may see the West Indies redeemed, Spanish-American influence disappearing from the Western hemisphere, and China pouring untold wealth upon our shores, at the same time that India stands a bulward against the encroachments of the Czar, and England is with America, the strong defence of civil liberty."

THE MAGAZINES.

We are in receipt of Blackwood's Magazine for June, published by Messrs. Scott & Co., New York. It contains articles on Charles Dickens and William Cooper which is the first of a series entitled "A century of great Poets." The other articles are; "Old and new Annalists of Oxford,' and "Burton's History of Scotland." There are also two serials running through the Magazine, viz: "Under the Red Cross, and "Fair to see.' Next No. of "Blackwood" commences an new volume,—and these of our readers who want the highest class of English literature should procure this well known periodical, and some one of the four Reviews.

Harper's Magazine for July, is as usual, well filled with descriptive articles, Stories, Poetry and Miscellaneous matters, which make it most interesting. The Novel of the "American Baron," by Professor DeMille, is progressing favorably. It is very amusing, and is almost sensational in many of the incidents and plots.

"The Mount Cenis Railway and Tunnel," "The Recovery of Jerusalem," "Along the Florida Reef," and "Queen Louise of Prussia" are amongst the best articles in this No. which commences a new volume.

The Phrenological Journal for July is unusually good. It is a magazine which is ever exceptionally good, as compared with other first-class American Monthlies. Conspicuous among its contents are—Audubonia, or Reminiscences of the great Naturalist, with portrait; Man's place in Nature; A Rule for Editors—What they should Be; The Last of the Tasmanians, Illustrated; Goodness and Greatness, a contrast; "Woman vs. Woman's Rights" Reviewed; Leaders in the Mormon Reform Movement, with portraits; The Beard should it be Worn? Tree Wonders of California. Illustrated; THE TREATY, Floating or Rowing; Imagination vs. Reality; Hon. Ward Hunt, Chief Justice of the New York Court of Appeals; Western School-houses; The Traveller, an Illustrated Poem; Medicine a Science? This July number begins a new volume. Subscribe for it now Price, $3 a year, Single Nos. 30 cts S R. WELLS, Publisher, 389 Broadway, N Y

Peter's Musical Monthly for July contains a number of choice pieces of Music.

Music can no longer be considered a luxury, and those who spend fabulous sums in purchasing Sheet Music are simply throwing their money away. If our musical friends will take the trouble to procure a copy of Peter's Musical Monthly, they will see what their wiser friends are doing—namely, getting better Music at one and two cents a piece than they are buying at thirty, forty, and fifty cents Each number of this valuable publication contains thirty six pages of Music, printed from full-size music plates, embracing Sacred and Secular Songs, Duets, Choruses, Polkas, Waltzes, etc., in every issue.

The July No. commences Vol. VIII., and contains thirteen pieces of Music, neatly bound, that would cost just four dollars and fifty cents in sheet form. You can get it by mail post-paid by sending to J L. Peters. 599 Broadway, N. Y.

ON Thursday, the Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry companies, under command of Lieut. Col. Henry Bee, turned out in strong force. As they were commencing some field evolutions on Rochford Square, a few flashes of Lightning and some heavy peals of thunder—"Heaven's Artillery,"—gave signs of a rain storm. The rain did come down, and the Cavalry first turned to the "right about face." They were followed by the Artillery, and then the infantry came after, and as the rain poured down in streams, they performed the "double quick" towards the Drill shed with right good will. It was a masterly retreat, without killed or wounded, but with many wet jackets.

On next Thursday, at 2 o'clock p. m., there will be a full parade, "wind and weather permitting.'

Mr. W. McGill informs us that, by private letters which he has received this morning from Souris, he has reason to believe that there is no doubt of the return of Mr. Sullivan, as the representative of the First Electoral District of King's County. At a meeting held on Friday night last in Rollo Bay, where over 200 were present, twenty to one were in Mr. Sullivan's favor.

Since writing the above, we have received an account of the meeting held on Saturday, in Souris, which was largely in favor of Mr. McEachen. There is no opposition, so far, to Mr. Perry, of Tignish.

About 80 young men have arrived recently in New Brunswick from Belfast and Murray Harbor, P. E. Island, to work on the Intercolonial Railway.—St. John Globe

Our young men will have work enough at home when we commence our Railroad The effect of the Anti Railroad policy is to drive our young men away. The electors of Belfast and Murray Harbor should remember this. Instead of being a "fatal calamity," the Railroad will be a blessing in giving you employment and better wages.

Mr Duncan never said that the government had no intentions of building the branches to Tignish and Souris. We tell our numerous friends there, that one of our chief objects in advocating the Railroad was that it might go up through that section of the Island, and we are assured that the government are sincere in intending to carry out the law. Branches will not only go there, but to other places. They will be required to feed the main trunk, and make it pay still better than it otherwise will. After the main Trunk is built and equipped, the branches will cost only about £2,500 per mile. The people now living will see a net work of Railroads over the whole Island.

It is worthy of remark that the most prominent supporters of Mr Laird on Nomination Day, and the ones most opposed to the railroad were Honorables Edward Palmer, Donald Montgomery, and Kenneth Henderson. We need not tell our readers that these gentlemen have always opposed every liberal and progressive measure With them a rai road is a 'fatal calamity,' as one of them declared last Wednesday. The Belfasters should remember that these gentlemen, with Mr. David Laird, were the enemies of the Liberal party whose policy gave them the lands they now call free.

Mr. Duncan was precisely of the same opinion as Mr. Currie, and there are parties who know Mr. Duncan to have stated that he would sooner pay £1000 to St. Dunstan's than go into a political union with Canada.—Patriot, July 1.

Who are the persons? This is no time to quibble. Mr. Murphy denied that ever Mr Duncan offered any sum. Let the Patriot Staff come out like men and give the names.

It is declared that there is a ring. No one accuses Mr Duncan of belonging to it; his honesty is above suspicion. Mr. Laird wishes to sacrifice him on the altar of prejudice and his own inordinate ambition.

Remember the Concert in the New Convent It will be worth attending.

DAVID LAIRD'S WAR CRY.

ON DIT—That the Premier and David Laird partook largely of the same whiskey at the "Half Way House.' Verily, ' the lion shall lie down with the lamb.'—Argus, June 27.

(From Horace, free Translation)

I hate this railroad project, boys.
If it goes on, 'twill cloud my skies.
And chance of catching 'ficial flies,
They are so frisky.

Give me the wagon as it goes,
And let me have my sweet repose;
In "Half-Way House," beneath the rose,
To tak my whiskey.

The Hon. J. C. Pope stated on Nomination Day that the railway tax would never be more than 2½ per cent. The tax is now in force. No one feels it. Merchandise is as cheap as before The merchants and trading community will have to pay the railway tax. Those who want to come off "scott free" have only to stop wearing shop goods and drinking imported liquors.

Mr. Duncan accepted the office of Commissioner, not through pecuniary motives but to serve his constituents. This we assure the people of Belfast. If they do not return him, they will be the losers The railroad will go on. Mr. David Laird in the House of Assembly would be a laughing stock—like Mrs Partington trying to mop out the Atlantic.

Why was not J. B. Gay. Esq., of Pownal or Wm. McGill Esq brought out in opposition to Mr. Duncan? Because it would have revived the old Liberal party, and Mr. Laird could not stand that.

The country is being flooded with liquor to influence the elections. This is shameful and demoralizing to the people. The Election Law should be so amended as to have this punishable as bribery and corruption.

The Company now performing in the Market Hall have some first-class talent. A criticism on the rendering of one of their plays is crowded out During the excitement of these election times, the Hall is an excellent place to spend an evening.

THE Dominion Steamer DRUID, Captain Marmen, arrived here this morning from Newcastle, N. B., having on board the following distinguished visitors:

Hon. P. Mitchell, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. Alexander Campbell, Postmaster General, and son, Hon James Cockburn, Speaker of the House of Commons, and son, Hon. Thomas Ryan Senator of Montreal, Mr. Mitchell, (Brother of Hon. P. Mitchell), and wife.

The Druid has on board the apparatus for the Amherst and Cape Race lighthouses, and a lot of laborers to assist in placing the same in order.

The Fort Augustus Tea Party on next Monday will be the event of the Season, next to the Elections on Wednesday.

SUPREME COURT—QUEEN'S COUNTY

The Trinity Term of the Supreme Court commenced its sittings yesterday. Sir Robert Hodgson, Chief Justice, and Justice Hensley were in attendance. After the usual formalities, the following gentlemen were duly empanneled as the Grand Inquest;—

John McLeod, Esq., Foreman; B. H. Crawford. Richard Bagnall, Owen Connolly, Duncan Crawford, Patrick Duffy, Alex. Dixon, John A. McKenna, Geo. O'Neill, Francis McCarron, Ronald G McDonald, Archibald McNeill, Alex. Laird, W. D Stewart, John Stumbles, John Ball, and Alex. Scott, Esqrs His Lordship Chief Justice Hodgson then briefly addressed the Jury, congratulating them upon the lightness of their duty in consequence of the few criminal offences since the last term. Three cases, and of light nature, comprised the whole of the criminal docket, viz: The Queen at the prosecution of John Kennedy against John McDonald, for Arson. The same at the prosecution of Harry Binns against Michael Kelly, larceny. The same at the prosecution of the Union Bank against Duncan Cameron, forgery. His Lordship concluded by informing them of their duty in regard to the License Act, and to bring all offenders against the same to justice. The jury then retired. Besides the Criminal calendar, the docket shows 19 civil cases, comprising summary, record, and civil suits, the most important of which will be Duncan & Co., against the Canada Insurance Union; P W. Hyndman against the same; and Trespasses of Alex. Anderson, Plaintiff, vs Gillis defendant.—Herald.

A NEW NAME FOR A SETTLEMENT.

In accordance with notice previously given, an influential meeting was held at Line of Road Lot 45, with a desire of giving a name to the settlement. John McDonald, Esq., was appointed chairman. The following resolution was put and carried. Moved by Neil Campbell, Esq., and seconded by Mr. Michael McAuley, "That the settlement from Souris Chapel to Peter B. McInnis's, Esq., shall from henceforth be called Granville." After which a vote of thanks was given to the chairman, for the able manner in which he conducted the meeting

In the general examination of the law students of the Inns of Court, held at Lincoln's Inn London, in May, 1871, we are glad to perceive that a young Prince Edward Islander, Mr Edward Bayfield, stands second in the list of those who have obtained "certificates of having satisfactorily passed a public examination" When we consider that the subjects of examination embraced Common Law, Equity, the law of Real Property, Constitutional law, Legal History, Civil Jurisprudence, and International law, and that out of 100 students examined only 21 obtained certificates. It will be seen that the examination must have been a severe test of the student's legal proficiency and we heartily congratulate the gallant and venerable Admiral on the success of his son.—Argus

WEST INDIES.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE STEAMER "HORNET"—HORRIBLE STORY OF CANNIBALISM.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A Port-au-Prince letter states the Spaniards intend to blow up the steamer "Hornet." Every night several armed boats from a Spanish frigate in the offing pull into the harbor and remain near the "Hornet" until morning. A few nights since two of the boats pulled close in under the steamer's bow, and paid no attention to Capt. Watson's request to keep off. He then ordered his crew to fire into them, which was done, causing much confusion in the boats, and their immediate removal to a proper distance. The boats have given the "Hornet" a wide berth since. The "Hornet" has recently received some machinery from New York, and is now nearly ready for sea.

KINGSTON, JAM., June 12.—A negro on the Gibraltar plantation, aided by a woman, seized a little boy, cut his body and drank his blood, then cut off his upper lip, which was roasted and eaten. The child's cries were finally heard by a man in the neighborhood, who rescued the boy. The little fellow retained his senses and lived long enough, notwithstanding the entrails protruded, to give the particulars of the manner in which he had been treated. Intense excitement prevailed in consequence of the terrible act.

It is reported that Sir Edward Thornton has informed the Secretary of State that as far as the action of Her Majesty's naval officers, or of those of the Canadian Government are concerned there is no cause for anxiety to citizens of the United States engaged in fisheries in the neighborhood of the British Provinces so long as they do not discard laws upon the subject still in force.

United States fishermen during the present season will be allowed to enter Canadian ports for the purpose of trans-shipping fish, and procuring supplies, they will not be prevented from fishing outside of the three mile limit, within bays the mouth of which is more than six miles wide.

Sir Edward Thornton instructed by his Government, expressed hopes however, that the citizens of the United States will on their part contribute to the prevention of collissions by refraining from encroaching for the purpose of fishing, upon those waters from which the treaty of 1818 and by the laws of Great Britain and Canada they are excluded, until legislation for ensuring to them the privileges and immunities agreed upon by the treaty of 8th May, 1371, shall have been carried out.

The Greatest Wonder of the Age.
COOKING DONE WITHOUT A STOVE.
Those wishing to see a new invention for Cooking would do well to call at the City Hotel, and see the great Cooking apparatus, where the Inventor would be glad to show its working to all who call. The Cooking is done on a table without the use of a Stove, and done better than can be done in any other way — all that is used is an oil lamp. There may be cooked in the apparatus at the same time Meat, Fowl, Fish, Vegetables of all kinds, Soup, Pudding, Bread Cake, Biscuit, Beefsteak Ham and Eggs, Buckwheat Cakes Pork and Beans — all of which will be well done without the flavour of one being imparted to the other, — and all done with two quarts of water. When all is cooked there will be two quarts of good soup in the boiler.
This wonderful apparatus is now on exhibition at City Hotel. Call and see it.

AUCTION!
Governor's Island in the Market!
TO be sold by Public Auction, on FRIDAY, the 14th day of JULY, at the hour of 5 o'clock p. m., at Pownal Hall, Lot 49, that valuable Property known as Governor's Island, part of the Estate of the late Robert Gay, containing about 180 acres of the richest and most fertile meadow and pasture land. The present crop comprises some 35 to 40 acres of heavy meadow grass, together with 16 acres of Barley. The remainder affording pasture sufficient to feed at least 100 head of cattle through the season. All of which Land and Crop will be sold together. As stock-feeding is now becoming such a profitable branch of Island industry, the advantages and facilities here offered for investment in this line of business are so apparent, that any further statements will be needless.
There will also be offered, at the same time and place, a new and improved Hay Press, amply capable, with the labor of three hands, to screw 4 tons of hay per diem, in the most efficient manner. Also, a lot of Cattle, Sheep, and Horses, of which some 40 sheep and lambs and 5 head of cattle have been on the said Island for about 6 weeks, and are now in fine condition for the shambles.
Terms—For the Land and Crop, twenty per cent deposit, and the remainder in five equal annual instalments. For the Stock, five months' credit, on approved paper.
By order of the Executors.
For further particulars apply to
J. B. GAY, Pownal.
