A Tourist's Ramble.
THE EXHIBITION AT ANNAPOLIS.
This year the Provincial grant for exhibition purposes for Nova Scotia was divided between the different sections of the Province, the Counties of King's, Annapolis and Queen's being grouped together, and the town of Annapolis selected as the place to hold the show. Subsequently Queen's was permitted to withdraw, receive a share of the grant, and hold an exhibition on its own account. The two remaining Counties did not pull very well together, the consequence being that the Exhibition is almost entirely made up of exhibits from Annapolis. These facts must be allowed proper weight in estimating the exhibition now going on in this town, but even after making such allowance, it must be admitted the show is not such as the noble County of Annapolis should have made. Annapolis has seven cheese factories in operation, and yet there is only one exhibit of factory cheese here. The cheese from the private dairies of Annapolis has long enjoyed a reputation beyond the Province of Nova Scotia, and yet only one cheese of private dairy make has been entered for competition, at this Show. The butter exhibit is also very meagre. When it is remembered that the whole valley from B-r-wick to Annapolis is a succession of rich pastures, covered with "loving dairies," it will be understood how far the dairymen of Annapolis have failed to do themselves justice on the present occasion. It is fair to assume that this apathy has not been confined to the dairymen and that it would, therefore, be very misleading to accept this show as an exposition of the resources and industries of Annapolis.

The Exhibition building has been erected within the last few weeks and is a very good structure indeed. It is 143 feet long with a width of 81 feet. A spacious gallery runs around the whole building furnishing ample space for a really large show.
The building, enclosing a rather neat piece of ground there are open sheds for the horses, cattle, sheep and pigs. The show of horses and sheep is very poor indeed. That of horned cattle is better. The exhibit of short-horns by Mr. Eaton, of Cornwallis, is deserving of particular notice. It embraces two calves and two 2 year old heifers which would be no discredit to any show in the Dominion. A very fine three year old short-horned bull raised by Professor Lawson is also shown, and a few pure bred Devon cattle are on the grounds, and a large number of working oxen and grade cattle, none of which require extended notice. Some of the swine are really good, and are well bred. These with a nice show of well bred fowl complete the live stock department.

When the building the fruit is the first object to attract the visitors attention. The show of apples is really magnificent.
Gravensteins, Baldwins, Bishop's Pippins, Nonpareils, King of Tomkins, County and other choice varieties are here in abundance and of a quality that can scarcely be exceeded. Pears, quinces, and grapes, are also shown in considerable numbers, and all of them good. It would be hard to form an exaggerated conception of the possibilities in fruit growing of the County of Annapolis.
The exhibition of roots is creditable.
Potatoes are here of many varieties, large and good looking. Turnips are of good and the same may be said of mangolds, carrots and parsnips; pumpkins, squashes and tomatoes make an excellent appearance.

In cereals the show is very fair. A number of very good samples of spring and winter wheat, and barley are on exhibition.
The oats are not so good, but the Indian Corn is far in advance of anything we can produce in Prince Edward Island. Some members of the Committee appear to have an antiquarian taste. Copies of Halifax and St. John newspapers published respectively in the years 1807 and 1815 show the progress which journalism has made in the Maritime Provinces since the days of Waterloo. A bonnet over 100 years old, reveals the care with which the belles of Annapolis, in the time of the American Revolution concealed the charms of their pretty faces. Whatever feelings an inspection of these prodigious bonnets may create in the minds of the ladies of this generation, the men are not likely to sigh for the adoption of the costumes of their great-grandmothers, at least so far as the dress of the head is concerned. It may not, after all, be the fault of these bonnets that they have ceased to please. They have only shared the fate of the personal charms of their once light-hearted owners. How sad to think that our "turbans" and "Tam O'Shanter's" may occupy in the estimation of those living a century after us, the same place which the quaint old bonnet in the show case does in ours. Still sadder it is to think (but the thought is impossible) that the gay happy ladies of Annapolis, who now through this Exhibition, may be indebted to a hat or a bonnet, in the character of a memento, for even at passing thought before the close of the present century. A knife and fork used by the Duke of Kent during his visit to Annapolis, are shown as mementos of the residence of the father of our beloved Queen in Nova Scotia from the years 1794 to 1799.

The writer does not know to what extent the expectations of the promoters of this exhibition have been realized in a financial point of view. The attendance yesterday, the opening day was not very large.
To-day the show grounds and buildings are thronged with visitors, to-morrow, there will probably, a falling off. The little town of Annapolis is fairly alive with people who appear to enjoy themselves well.
Evidently, the people of Annapolis know how to conduct themselves when collocated together in large numbers. Rowdiness, in its various accompaniments of profanity, is absent, with its conspicuous freight with the exhibition if not commercially fraught with as many advantages as it should be, in view of the majority of its patrons, by supplying an excellent opportunity for social enjoyment.

CORRESPONDENCE.
We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or statements of our correspondents unless they are signed by them.
Abolition of the Slave Trade.
To the Editor of the Examiner.
I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 27th inst. containing an account of a meeting of the Legislative Council but can be equally well done by the House of Assembly. It would really require, instead of the Legislative Council is a Municipal Council for each county. This Council can secure a better, and attend to them more than can possibly be done by our Legislative Council. Four meetings of the Municipal Council would cost each County about $100 per year. The Municipal Council would see that they get a fair share of the Government grant for the repairs of roads and bridges; would levy and collect taxes for school purposes, and also other taxes required for county purposes.
The Municipal Council would revise the Assessment Roll at the Court of Revision, and would see that every item on it was correct. The Municipal Council of each County could attend to the wants of School Districts much better than can be done by the Legislative Council.
I think, Mr. Editor, it is time that we take a step in advance, and relieve ourselves of an unnecessary burden, and avail ourselves of the benefits to be derived from a Municipal Council. I am, Mr. Editor, Respectfully yours,
D. F. SIMON

MR. EDITOR:—Your correspondent Malah seems to be well posted in the cunning devices of the Lignor Vendors. After giving a history of how the Scott Act works at Station on the County Line, he writes "I every place in Prince Edward Island, where a venditorship is established. The venditor assertion is untrue of your venditorship as here in Mount Stewart, and I believe it is equally untrue of some other venditor-ships. No bogus certificate is required in getting down where any lover of rum can get all he wants without going to the Vendor of that place. I am credibly informed that there are six rum shops in the town of Souris; there is no occasion to go to the Vendor in that town for liquor, the venditor want it can get all they can pay for a certificate from any of these rumshops.
Some of the people of Souris believe that the License Inspector of Kings County in collision with the rum-sellers, he has visited Souris since his appointment, and not likely that the Temperance Alliance Souris neglected to inform him." Your correspondent Malah's argument is no denying that the Scott Act is much good. The contrary is the Kings County where it is harm. Your correspondents, Malah, closes his letter by saying "the venditor must go." I say amen; there is no for them, the rum-sellers can do business in the Lignor traffic. The Act should be repealed; it is Prince Edward Island. It is to have good licensed houses the Lignors sold in them daily. The Island then will revenue, and those who will have liquors, can get it good. Now they must drink "Rot Gut" at mood
