

A JUBILEE NUMBER.

The June issue of The Canadian Magazine is a jubilee number containing "The Childhood of the Queen," by Fritz Hope with ten special illustrations; "The Queen's Horses and Carriages," with twelve copyright photographs, by Mary Spencer Warren; "Canada's Progress in the Victorian Era," by John A. Cooper (the editor); "The Queen's Reign: Its most Striking Characteristic and most Beneficent Achievement," a symposium contributed by Principal Grant, Prof. Goldwin Smith, A. Conan Doyle, Newman Hall, D. D., and some other leading Brit-ers; and "English Principles of Canadian Government," by Dr. J. G. Bourinot, the historian. Ernest Beaton contributes a strong criticism of our immigration policy, and P. T. McGrath writes of the new Fast Atlantic Line via Newfoundland. David Christie Murray's clever dissections of the work of the leading writers of fiction are continued and this instalment deals with the characteristics of Crockett and MacLaren. Three bright short stories, a number of clever poems and the usual departments fill a brilliant number of a magazine which deserves the sympathy and support of every Canadian magazine reader. The illustrations of the number are superb.

BROTHER FOR BROTHER.

Mr. W. S. Harkins' clever company of players gave their second entertainment at the Opera House last evening to an audience which thoroughly appreciated the excellent character of the work performed. "Brother for Brother" by the author of "Shall we Forgive Her?" was the play presented. "Brother for Brother" is built upon a most interesting plot and develops strong situations. The story illustrates the interwoven lives of two brothers, entirely different in character and aspirations. One of these brothers, under the assumed name of Allen Foster, has by thrift and industry raised himself from poverty to affluence, and has attained a lofty position in a large iron foundry. The other brother, Eric Radford, is a scapegrace and a spendthrift. He becomes a safe robber and deceives the daughter of a workman in his father's foundry. Both of these crimes he succeeds in fastening upon Allen. The latter, after going through many trials, succeeds in establishing his innocence, however, and Eric is shown up in his true light. Incidental to the development of the plot Allen is lured into the cellar of the foundry by some of his discontented workmen incited by his vicious brother and the father of the girl he is accused of betraying. Whilst the workmen and Allen are having a heated argument in the cellar, the place is entered by Cora Dane, who is in love with Allen. She charges the men with cowardice, and when they seek to injure Allen she comes between them. Finding that she will not leave the place without Allen, the workmen go outside and apply the torch to the structure and soon it is in flames. But the blind daughter of the ringleader of the plotters has heard of the attempt to kill Allen and makes her way to the foundry. She arrives just as the lovers have made up their minds to die together, and smashing the bolted door with an axe saves them from a terrible death. This scene was exceedingly realistic last evening, and evoked the greatest enthusiasm. Messrs. Harkins, Deyo, Wier, McRae, Beresford, French, Bradley and the Misses White, Dunn, Ryan and Cleve-land all had good parts in the drama, which was remarkably well played throughout. Mr. Harkins was given an ovation upon making his appearance. The company is decidedly the best that Mr. Harkins has brought to this province, and their repertoire is made up of plays that have been most successful wherever staged. They deserve packed houses every night. This afternoon a matinee was given in the Opera House, when that exceedingly funny comedy "The New Boy" was played in excellent style. This evening the "Bowery Girl," a play illustrating life in New York's well-known thoroughfare, will be put upon the boards. The part of the Bowery Girl will be taken by Miss Ryan, who so cleverly impersonated Joanna Lightfoot on the opening night, and who gave such an excellent interpretation of Brenda Craven last night. Incidental to the play Miss Ryan and Miss Dunn will appear in songs and dances, and Mr. and Mrs. French in banjo selections. The latter are well and favorably remembered in connection with Mr. Harkins' visit last season.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

BEER BROS. for Dress Goods. ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.—Rev. T. B. Reagh will take the services in St. Paul's Church to-morrow. There will be communion after the morning service.

GOSPEL MEETING.—Remember the Gospel Meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by the railway men. Strangers always welcome. Lesson, Acts 4-12, "No other name."

SALVATION ARMY.—The Sunday evening meeting for the summer months commencing to-morrow is changed to 8 o'clock. Ensign Hendricks and Lieut. Coolon who have been attending Council at St. John returned home last night accompanied by Capt. Sabine who succeeds Capt. Prince. JUBILEE SERVICE.—In St. Paul's Church on Sunday, the 20th June, will be held the exact service appointed by the Queen for the occasion of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee. As the Church of England will probably be the only service following the programme laid down by the Queen and Parliament and fully the same as that which Her Majesty will attend on that day, we trust a large number of citizens will be loyal enough to attend it.

ATTENTION is directed to the advertisement in this issue of the Ladies' Aid Society of the first Methodist church. They intend having a Feast of Days in the skating rink during Jubilee week. On June 22nd a grand tea will be given from 5 to 8 p.m. Boths representing the different days of the week, an express office and a Babies "At Home" will be among the other various attractive features of the feast. The proceeds will go towards paying for the proposed alterations in the church, the ladies having agreed to raise $1,000 of the amount required. They are going to a large amount of trouble in order to make it a grand success in every way, and will, no doubt, receive a large and richly deserved.

PERSONAL.

Rev. M. J. McMillan, of St. Teresa's, is in the city. Dr. Secord, who has been practising his profession in Summerside for some time past, has removed to Vernon River.

Mr. Robert Harris, President of the Royal Canadian Academy, and Mrs. Harris, are contemplating spending the summer amid the beauties of Prince Edward Island.—Montreal Star.

Mrs. Hales, now of Spokane, Wash., (formerly Miss Laura Hodgson, of Malpeque) came home last evening by the Northumberland. She will spend the summer months with her parents.

At the Hotel Davie: F. A. Churchhill; North Rustico, J. E. Badger, Boston, C. E. Pye S.S. Halifax, John Richmond, Sussex; F. H. Taylor, Montreal; F. Brown, Toronto; Rev. J. R. Munro, Antigonish; Mr. Munro, do; E. P. Le Ma', Quebec; J. J. Hopley, Halifax; Joseph McDonald, Cardigan; Alf. H. Ellis, Kensington.

The Rev. Dugal McDonald, of Tignish, who left this Province for a four months' trip to the Pacific, is back home. He took sick and did not go further than Montreal, the doctor advising a return to his native air. We hope he will soon be quite restored to health.

O'Brien, to whom Callaghan gave the treat which unseated Mr. Hackett, has, like William Sharp Larkins, received his price. He is in charge of a spar light at Minasigash, vice Casey, resigned. There can be no doubt now about "the custom of the country."

The Conservative Senators and members have decided to give a banquet to Sir Charles Tupper on Wednesday evening, June 9, in acknowledgment of his services as leader of the Opposition. The committee in charge are Senators Ferguson and Clewlow, and Messrs. George Taylor, F. G. Casgrain and E. F. Clarke, M. P's.

In speaking of Premier Ito's honor of a seat on the floor of the House, we should not have omitted to say that our own Lieutenant Governor was similarly honored when recently at the capital. He had scarcely entered the Speaker's gallery when an officer of the House came to invite him, at the Speaker's request, to the floor, where he remained a short time at the right of the throne.

Mr. Percy B. Reid, son of J. D. Reid, Esq., of Charlottetown, has returned home from Toronto, where he has resided during the last six years. Part of this time he was employed with Mr. W. H. Newsome, well known in this province. It is understood that Mr. Reid will become a partner of the Tryon Woolen Mills Company and will be either manager of or traveller for that firm.

Mr. Theophilus McLeod, for many years Principal of the Eldon High School, has just graduated from Auburn Theological Seminary, New York. He led his class in Theology and took a very high standing in all the other subjects. It is stated that his lecture before the Cayuga Presbytery, on "Intercessory Prayer" took all the clerical dignitaries by storm, and was most favorably commented upon.

Mr. Peter F. Clarke, died at a private Sanitarium in Brooklyn a few days ago. Mr. Clarke was a son of the late William Clarke, of Dartmouth, and was well and favorably known to many persons in Charlottetown and elsewhere throughout the province. He left this province in 1860, and two years later entered the employ of the United States Government. He was for a time postmaster at Eufoia, Ala., which position he resigned for a first-class clerkship in the war department which he filled up to the time of his death. The deceased leaves a family of four to mourn. They are Mr. Watson F. Clark, and Mrs. E. A. Compton, of Summerside, Mr. Wm. E. H. Clark, of New York and Mrs. E. H. Webber, of Ashmont, Mass.

Our I's and... Other Eyes.

Our I's are just as strong as they were fifty years ago, when we have cause to use them. But we have less and less cause to praise ourselves, since others do the praising, and we are more than willing for you to see us through other eyes. This is how we look to S. F. Boyce, wholesale and retail druggist, Duluth, Minn, who after a quarter of a century of observation writes:

"I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla for more than 25 years, both at wholesale and retail, and have never heard anything but words of praise from my customers; not a single complaint has ever reached me. I believe Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be the best blood purifier, that has been introduced to the general public." This, from a man who has sold thousands of dozens of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is strong testimony. But it only echoes popular sentiment the world over, which has, "Nothing but words of praise for Ayer's Sarsaparilla."

Any doubt about it? Send for "Curebook" It tells doubts and cures doubts. Address J. C. AYER Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE TAMWORTH HOG.

Talk about the "bacon hog" has brought the Tamworth into notice, it being supposed to make bacon beyond any other of the improved breeds in point of quality. Naturally the discussion excites curiosity about the breed, as it is yet so little represented in this country that very few have had opportunity to see it, and a correspondent writes us to give him some information concerning it. The Tamworth derives designation from the town of that name on the borders of Staffordshire and Warwickshire, England and is the most recently developed of the British breeds. The first effort at improvement was by Jonas Webb the improver of the Southdown sheep, about 1855, but the breed has been much improved since his day. It is especially noted for the large portion of lean meat which it produces, but this is due, of course, to the feeding of which it has been accustomed for a number of generations, and it is hardly to be doubted that any of the improved breeds would take on a similar habit of body if it were fed on nitrogenous food chiefly and was made to rely on pasture to a large extent. The Tamworth is prolific, hardy, quick growing and early maturing. The color is red or bright chestnut, inclining to brown as they grow older. The black spots have all been bred out of the breed. In frame they are quite massive with long deep bodies, small heads, erect ears, and nose inclined to be long. The coat is long thick and silky.—Live Stock Journal, Des Moines.

Experience proves the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures all forms of blood diseases, tones the stomach, builds up the nerves.
