Arms King Krupp May Have Wealth Restored

By Ian Fraser
BONN, Germany, Aug. 27 — (Reuters) — A staggering $125,000,000 is being offered for Alfred Krupp's German steel king just out of a war crimes prison, if the West German Government accepts an Allied plan to reinstate him as one of the world's richest men.

Allied High Commission officials indicated this today when they outlined some of the details of their plan to reorganize the Krupp industrial empire. A huge portion of it goes back to Alfred, 44, as sole heir.

It is the firm that armed Germany for two world wars and which has been a dominant factor in the German economy for three generations.

Danes And British Sign Two-Year Bacon Contract

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 27 — (Reuters) — Danish and British negotiators concluded a new two-year agreement today to supply Britain with bacon. Britain undertakes to buy not less than 90 per cent of Denmark's exportable surplus. Starting price is $35.53 per hundredweight (112 pounds).

The contract provides that this price cannot be varied by more than 10 per cent. The new price represents a reduction of about 8 per cent on this year's average prices.

The total amount to be shipped was not disclosed. By the end of the present contract, Britain will have bought more than 110,000 tons of bacon from Denmark.

In 1951, Denmark imported 34 per cent of her total bacon supplies from Denmark.

Provincial C. W. L. Convention Concludes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 — (AP) — A congressional committee said today radio and television sets in the United States sometimes spout Red propaganda subtly woven into scripts by pro-Communist writers.

A report by the senate internal security sub-committee quoted closed-door testimony by two writers, Ruth Adams Knight and Welbourn E. Kelley, to back its conclusions.

For itself the committee traced what it described as a Communist drive dating back to 1945 to infiltrate the broadcast field. It said the Radio Writers Guild, whose members with most scripts, is controlled by a pro-Communist faction.

The Radio Writers Guild, an independent union, said in a statement that it has never "aligned itself with or supported any Communist or pro-Communist organization." It said its officers all have filed the non-Communist affidavit required by the Taft-Hartley law.

SAIGON, Indo-China, Aug. 27 — (Reuters) — French union forces today reported killing 76 Communist Vietminh rebels and taking 968 prisoners in fighting northwest of Hue in the last three days.

Democratic Reforms For British Guiana Planned

LONDON, Aug. 27 — (Reuters) — The government today announced democratic reforms including universal adult suffrage and more elected members to parliament for British Guiana, one of the richest colonies in the British Empire.

Through the constitutional changes are a step toward self-government in the 83,000-square-mile colony, captured from the Dutch in 1796, British Governor Sir Charles Woolley will remain the power behind parliament.

British Guiana, on the north-east coast of South America, will have two chambers of parliament and a ministerial council for the first time. But the six ministers, the junior ministers and six members of the state council—the upper house—will be named by the governor.

Oliver Lyttelton, colonial secretary, hopes to bring the new constitution into force during the first half of 1953. The reforms were announced today by the release of dispatches exchanged between Lyttelton and the Governor.

Electoral rolls of the adult population are being prepared and arrangements are being made for about 60,000 illiterate voters in the colony, which has a population of 425,156.

At the present time, the Governor is president of the Legislative Council, which consists of three officials on his staff, seven members nominated by him and 14 elected members.

British Guiana is rich in minerals including gold, diamonds and bauxite, the ore of aluminum. In 1951, 14,688 ounces of gold were produced. Diamond exports in 1950 totalled 37,034 metric carats and bauxite exports to the United States and Canada alone last year were worth $16,417,492.

But the colony's economy is based mainly on agricultural products and it exports sugar, rice, coconuts, coffee, rubber and citrus fruits. There is also a flourishing rum industry.

Canada's Armed Forces Nearing 100,000 Mark

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 — (CP) — The three regular armed forces should be 100,000 strong within a month or two.

Official figures for the end of July, released today, showed they topped the 99,000 mark by 67 at that time despite the fact the army lost strength because of heavy discharges of special force men.

Official statistics for August won't be out for several weeks but the word is that it hasn't taken the total over the 100,000 mark. September traditionally is the month when recruiting picks up after the not-so-good summer months.

At the end of July, the picture on the special force men back from Korea and able to take a discharge was this:

Joined active force, 2,711; discharged, 4,048; still to make up their minds, 3,372.

Another 500 have been classed as deserters since the brigade was formed in the summer of 1950 and have never been written off army rolls.

The three forces as a whole recruited 2,314 men in July including 270 for the navy, 840 for the army and 1,204 for the air force. It was the best recruiting month since April but the net gain over the strength at the end of June — 98,358 — was just about 700. That is, for every three men they took in they lost two.

The strengths of the forces at the end of the month were 14,133 for the navy, 49,586 for the army and 35,348 for the air force.

Thus the army must have discharged about 1,100 men in July because it was about 300 stronger at the end of June than it was at the end of July.

Officials hope a fair number of the special force men will reenlist. But with another 1,900 married men coming home from Germany in the late autumn and entitled to discharge, Army Headquarters wouldn't be surprised if its total strength doesn't show much if any gain in the next half year.

Information From Defence Plants Sought

MONTREAL, Aug. 26 — (Thursday) — (CP) — The Gazette says today in a front-page story that a well-organized spy ring, composed of refugees from Iron Curtain countries who entered Canada in the last three and four years, is operating in Montreal.

The story says that two informants, whose names must be kept secret to protect relatives still living in Poland and Czechoslovakia, said they had been asked by Russian agents to transmit secret data on Montreal's defence industry.

R. C. M. P. officials here have refused comment on the matter but the story says that the disclosures of the two informants have been the subject of serious consideration by government officials in Ottawa who are said to be checking the identity of persons involved in the ring.

The two informants told the newspaper the ring was formed some three years ago, its main elements being Communist agents who posed as bona-fide refugees to pass Canadian immigration screening tests in Germany.

On arrival in Canada, they settled near defence industries and then got in touch with diplomatic representatives of Iron Curtain countries, who referred them to "key-men" for special assignments.

Russian Trained
The informants said the "key-men" were Russian-trained party members in charge of the cipher departments of consulates and other diplomatic missions.

They said the ring in Montreal included two immigrants from Czechoslovakia, one from Poland and one from the Ukraine.

One of the informants, a girl, said she had been asked by two spies, allegedly working at the Canadian aircraft plant in Montreal to transmit secret data on aircraft changes, just received by the company's engineering division.

She said a Polish immigrant allegedly employed at Canadian Vickers Limited in Montreal also offered her data on defence orders for transmission to "headquarters."

The other informant, a man whose business contacts included Iron Curtain consular officials in Montreal and Ottawa, said he received similar offers.

Both informants said their names were placed on the "black-list" of the Russian-supervised secret police when they refused to cooperate, and their movements were watched.

In Ottawa, top officials of the Justice and Immigration Departments could make no comment on the report.
