Rifle Team Ready To Leave For D.C.R.A. Meet

Final Game In Junior Ball League Tonight

Tonight the regular Junior Baseball League schedule comes to a close in one of the most important struggles of the season. The game brings together the Kinsmen and the Vics. Last night the Kinsmen defeated the Knights 7-5 to give the Vics high hopes of gaining a tie for the schedule with the K.C. team but the Kinsmen are riding high and if they play as they did last night they will prove to be just the match for the Vics who will be looking for that tie.

Starting pitcher for the Vics will likely be Cliff Ready while for the Kinsmen it may be either Jackie Cairns or Clint Taylor. All are righthanders and the game should be a thriller all the way.

All through the season the three teams have waged close battles with the Knights taking over the leadership of the league from the Vics midway through the schedule. The game could also decide who will win the batting championship of the league.

Should the Vics win, a playoff game between the Vics and Knights will be in order to decide who will draw the bye into the playoffs.

Game time is set at 6:45 and another large crowd of fans are expected to witness the encounter.

THE GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN

AUGUST 11, 1950

Competing with the Abegweit junior track and field team at the Maritime Junior Championships held over the Wanderers Grounds, Halifax, Wednesday, Wendell Barrett of Charlottetown came up with the best performance in both field and track divisions to capture individual point honors over the best in three-province junior circles. It was the second time this season that Barrett has accomplished the feat, having copied off the all-round junior honors at the New Glasgow, N.S., meet earlier this month, and placed second at Memorial Field here on Dominion Day in the Maritime Invitation Meet.

Playing first in the broad jump, second in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the javelin throw, third in the hop, step and jump as well as being a member of the Abbie relay team that placed second, Wendell compiled a total of 16 1/2 points for exactly half of his team's total of 33 which gave them third place in the final standing behind Wanderers and Antigonish respectively.

The other leading point getters for the local squad were Hugh Donald with a second in the shot put and third in the discus, Bobby Jay with seconds in the 880 dash and hop, step and jump, with Cullen DeLory of Georgetown garnering a third in the 220 yard dash. Two other Abbies Juniors, Jackie Turner and Lorne Burke both made determined attempts for points when they both advanced to the semi-finals in the 100 yard dash before being eliminated in the finals.

The joint efforts of DeLory, Barrett, Burke and Jay in the 880 dash won the consolation prize, saw the Abbies garner a close second place to Wanderers in that event, in what was described as a very nip and tuck battle right from the lead-off man to the final baton carrier.

Judging by the turnout of hockey fans at the Market Building last evening in the opening of the seating plan for this winter's hockey, it looks like local hockey officials who have worked so hard for the past few months in developing the project, have not expended their efforts in vain. A total of one thousand, seven hundred and fifty options on holding seats in the plan were purchased, which also constitutes that many tickets for the first five home games.

This certainly justifies the opinion of the club officials who took the bull by the horns and made Charlottetown's official entry into the league and acquired the services of Murph Chamberlain as manager-coach of the local squad on the opinion that Island fans were really interested in seeing Maritime Senior Hockey in action here again. With 1,750 seats already taken and two nights to go in the selling of the plan, one wouldn't be taking much of a chance in predicting that the Island entry in the "Big Five" will be making their opening performances before capacity crowds.

The Junior Kinsmen 7-5 victory over the league leading Knights of Columbus squad at Memorial Field last evening, still leaves the final winner of the schedule in doubt when the Victorias and Kinsmen clash tonight in the last game of the League schedule. With the Knights having completed their full schedule of games last night, the one game lead they hold over the second place Vics will be perilously perched on the results of tonight's play.

If the Victorias can down the Kinsmen tonight, it means a deadlock for the leadership with the Knights and will force a playoff as to who will get the first place bye into the finals while the second and third teams meet in a semi-final playoff for the right to advance into the finals for the City Junior Baseball League championship. Although a win for the Kinsmen can't improve their final third place position, they can be depended on coming out with everything they have in garnering a win that would see only two games separating the first and third place teams after a 16-game schedule.

Kinsmen Juniors Come From Behind To Defeat Knights By 7-5 Score

Coming from behind an early Knights of Columbus three-run lead, the Kinsmen Juniors scored their second consecutive win over the League leaders last night by a score of 7-5. The game was played on Memorial Field Diamond before a large crowd of fans.

The Knights took an early lead in the top half of the opening frame but the Kinsmen came back strong in the last of the second to go to the fire with four runs. The winners added two more in the fourth to stretch their lead to 6-3. The Knights threatened in the last inning, the sixth, by scoring two tallies. But a great catch by Joe Coyle off Bill Leonard's drive into left ended the KC rally. The Kinsmen scored their last run of the game in their half of the sixth and with darkness falling rapidly, Umpire Ey Toombs together with base judges Earl Goss and Harold Hennessy called the game.

Benny Carsen did the trick again last night for the Kinsmen when he held the Knights to four hits. He was wild at times but bore down in the pinch to earn the verdict over the Knights. He walked two and hit two but whiffed eight KC batters. Phil Murphy was his opponent and he was touched for six hits by the Kinsmen. He walked

Maritime Golf Tournney Play Continues

DARTMOUTH, N. S., Aug. 10—(CP)—The best 18-hole round of tournament golf for the Maritime Provinces has witnessed a sun at the Brightwood Golf and Country Club when A. W. (Fud) Carter, popular Brightwood star, blazed his way past the first round of the Maritime amateur golf championships with a sub-par 65.

Carter served notice on the great galaxy of golfing aces that he will be the man to watch in the quarter final round tomorrow when he disposed of Laurie Nightengale of Ashburn five and four with his three-under-par performance.

His game was featured by some of the best golf of his career when he went out over the first nine in 33, one stroke under the regulation double bogey six on the 8th hole, then proceeded to card an equally brilliant 32 on the back nine. His opponent had a 74 for the round.

It was the second time during the tournament record had been broken at the difficult Brightwood course.

Kas Zabowski, the Ashburn pro, earlier posted a one-under-par 67 to lead the professional competitors at the half way mark of the 72-hole championship.

Former Maritime champion Eddie Crowell of Halifax was taken to the 16th green by F. Major of Edmundston, N. B., before winning one up.

Defending champion Ben Inzer of Moncton was one of the first to pass out in the first round. He fell before the stroking of Robert P. (Ace) Foley of Brightwood five up and four to play. Later in the day Inzer was again defeated, this time in the championship consolation, by youthful Rocky Jollymore, Brightwood, junior champion, playing his first season in the senior ranks. Jollymore beat the Maritime titleholder one up at the 19th hole after Inzer had rallied to win the 18th and square the match. Rocky shot a par four on the extra hole while the New Brunswick ace was taking a five due to a badly hooked drive which cost him a lost ball.

Semi-Finals In Ladies Singles At K. Of C. Tournney

Play in the ladies' singles division of the Knights of Columbus tennis tournament narrowed down to the finals yesterday when Teresa Arsenault and Leah McMahon both won their semi-final matches to advance into the last round which is expected to be played over the week-end.

Mrs. Arsenault took a straight set victory over Shirley MacNally by scores of 6-0, 6-0, while Miss McMahon also made it a clean sweep victory when she downed Stephanie LeClair 6-1, 6-3.

They were the only two matches concluded on yesterday's schedule. The tournney will continue today when Harold Power and Bud MacAleer meet at six o'clock this evening in a men's singles semi-final, and Mackey Kennedy versus Rowan Proffit in a second round match at seven o'clock.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

Week after next is "Donkey Week" in Prince County. On August 21st, the mules will be in Kensington to play baseball there and on the 22nd they will move to Summerside where another ball game will take place. We have talked to a gentleman who has seen the donkeys in action and he tells us it's a riot from start to finish. As base runners those donkeys couldn't make a place in Triple Z ball. It takes a lot of tact and patience on the part of the driver to steal a base in this game. Fans will not want to miss this treat of the summer season.

As one plain speaking sports fan to another, we should like to say that the C & B ball park fight card was definitely not what it was jacked up to be. There was much dissatisfaction among the fans regarding the lack of action in the main bout. The boys stayed much too long in each other's embrace. Hard smacking blows that you can hear in the rock-bottom priced seats were as scarce as bargain prices on beefsteak. The fighting was good but the average outport fan who sees only about two or three fights a season doesn't give a hoot about infighting. He wants to see punches that start from the floor and finish on the other fellow's whiskers.

There was an old fighter among the lighter boys, (Abe Attell, we think it was) who won all his fights by making the other fellow look foolish. He was as harmless as a kitten, and never did any appreciable damage to his opponent, but it was almost impossible to hit him, and though the cash customers bought their tickets chiefly for the purpose of hurling insults at the crafty Attell, he continued to outpoint every boxer he met and held the championship for a long time.

Poulton reminded us of that old fighter Wednesday night. He seemed to be out there for the sole purpose of keeping Whynot at bay, and he certainly did a thoroughgoing job of it. Flicking a feisty left into the Mahone Bay fighters face almost at will, ducking his best punches, and tying him up again and again, he made Why not look anything but a former Canadian champ. The crowd didn't like it, but you have to hand it to Poulton for his superb defensive exhibition.

Roy, Earle Mack To Buy Athletics' Stock

Play Continues In Provincial Tennis Tournney

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10—(AP)—Roy and Earle Mack, elder sons of 87-year-old Connie Mack, today said they will buy all outstanding stock of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Financing, they said, has been arranged with the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company. The deal for a reported $1,800,000 would make Roy, Earle and Connie, Sr., sole owners of the ball club and its farm system, the American League franchise and Shibe Park, Philadelphia's only major-league baseball layout.

And it should end the front-office bickering that has become more and more apparent as the A's stumble around in the second division of the League. The seventh-place 1950 team is far behind the pennant race that was the bright spring dream of the oldest manager of them all, celebrating his 50th anniversary year.

The sellers, under an option agreement which Roy and Earle said they would exercise, are Connie Mack, Sr.; his mother, Mrs. Connie Mack, Sr.; and the heirs of Thomas and Benjamin Shibe, former president of the club. Combined, they own 872 of the 1,500 shares of stock in the ball club.

Voting together, with young Connie as spokesman, the group has dominated administrative policy of the A's in recent months.

Margaret Dumont.
Cullen.
6:15 P.M.—F. L. Bobby vs. Walter Cullen.
6:15 P.M.—Ivan Dowling vs. Earl Nicholson.
6:15 P.M.—Winner of MacMillan vs. Willet vs. winner of Kipfer vs. Audrey DeBlois.
