A Pretty School Dress.

New Creations from Discarded Materials.

In every young girl there is a natural and inherent desire to look pretty and attractive, and nothing gives greater delight to the ordinary school miss than an occasional new dress.

Before the advent of Diamond Dyes the large majority of our school girls had to content themselves with two dresses a year—one each for summer and winter. Now, with the magical virtues of Diamond Dyes, mothers in even very moderate circumstances are enabled to send their girls to school as neatly and stylishly dressed as the daughters of well-to-do families.

A little feminine tact and skill that all women possess, with the aid of a ten cent package of Diamond Dyes, will do wonders for our school girls.

Every mother has put aside one or more dresses too old or faded for herself or daughters. It is a mistake to imagine that these dresses are worthless. With a little simple work in coloring and re-making you can have really artistic effects and results.

Take one of the old dresses and try your skill. First remove all grease spots and stains, then prepare your bath of Diamond Dye—the color most becoming to the misshapen is to wear it—and dye according to the simple directions on the envelopes, and you have a creation in new material, which, when made up, your daughter can wear with pride and satisfaction.

A new and pretty dress at a cost of from ten to twenty cents is always your reward when you make use of the Diamond Dyes.

We presume everyone would like to know where they can get the best value for their money. Call to the new blue store, Sunnyside.—W. P. Colwill

SLOW BARCELONA

Barcelona is a great trading port, about on a level with Marseilles. It has grown very much within recent years. The Barcelonense consider themselves a model to all Spain in the matter of industry and in common sense, yet in this town, which is really a handsome place and rich, the head telegraph office is in the suburbs; there is only one branch office in town, and messages have to be sent from that by hand. The postoffice is well away from the port in a by-street. If you are there on business, you will find as likely as not that one clerk is in attendance out of an immense staff. He will probably be very polite, but he will put his hand to a pen or a bundle of letters as if he feared they would burn, and Barcelona is a model of smartness compared with Madrid.

One wonders what would happen to the dawdling officials one sees at these places if they were transported by some malignant fairy to St. Martin's-le-Grand. Madness would probably be their fate if they made an effort to meet the call. But then they would not. The hurry and drive would simply revolt their sense of what was due to a gentleman.—Pall Mall Magazine.

Mrs. Cleveland's Courtesy.

The following pretty story is told of Mrs. Grover Cleveland: At one of the public receptions given at the White House an old lady who was drawn up in the line that was pushing its way forward to shake hands with the president's wife dropped her handkerchief just before getting to Mrs. Cleveland. She was too old and rheumatic to stoop down and recover it, and those back of her in the line were too intent upon getting the one fleeting glimpse possible of the mistress of the White House to notice the old lady's loss, and the handkerchief was trampled upon roughly.

Just before the old lady reached her Mrs. Cleveland stepped out of her place and deftly picked up the handkerchief, tucked it in her dress and, taking her own fresh one, which was of the most delicate, dainty lace, smilingly handed it to the old lady with the sweet remark, "Please take mine, and when you get home send it back to me, will you?" And when the handkerchief came back to her Mrs. Cleveland returned that of the owner, freshly laundered, lying on the top of a beautiful box of rosebuds that came from the White House conservatory.

An Accommodating Neighbor.

Not long back Mr. X. moved into a new house, which had not before been occupied. The bell wires were rather stiff, and in consequence the bells gave no uncertain sound. This was particularly the case with the doorbell, whose clangor disturbed the whole house.

Mr. X. is a man of sensitive nerves. The tremendous jangle of the doorbell made him shudder, so he wrote in chalk above the handle of the doorpost, "Pull gently."

About 9 that evening there was a violent ringing. Somebody tugged at the bell as if he were going to pull it out by the roots. The noise was terrific. X. himself ran to the door in a rage and found his friend Z.

"What the dickens do you mean by ringing that way?" exclaimed X. indignantly. "Don't you see what's written there?"

"Yes," answered Z, "I do see—that's why I pulled so hard."

X. looked at the writing and saw, "Pull urgently." A passing wag had added the "ur." X. has now muffled the bell.—London Telegraph.

BRO. BURNS' CURE.

Led to a Wide Use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

And a Consequent Saving of Life—Dodd's Kidney Pills Prevent Death from Kidney Diseases—Their Use Has Proved it.

DARLEY, P. E. I., Oct 7.—The Independent Foresters of this locality are among the healthiest men on the continent of America. They are remarkably healthy, in fact.

And, in connection with this fact, there is a curious, and highly instructive circumstance.

A glance over the list of death claims paid by the Order since it was introduced into Canada shows that a startlingly large number of the brethren died of Kidney Disease, of one type or another, or of some of the ailments that diseased Kidneys cause.

In fact, this is true of all other benevolent societies also.

A closer examination of the Foresters' list, shows that, for some time past, the number of deaths from Kidney Disease, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, and other forms of Kidney Trouble, has rapidly decreased, until at present few deaths from these diseases are recorded.

A person is led to inquire: How was this brought about?

And the answer will, in every case, be: "By the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills." And such, indeed, is the case.

It happened this way. Bro. John J. Burns, a worthy and esteemed member of the local branch of the Order, was very ill with inflammation of the Kidneys, of the severe type. Several physicians attended him, but could not relieve his sufferings, which were simply agonizing.

He had given up all hope of recovery, when he heard of a remarkable cure of Kidney Disease, by Dodd's Kidney Pills. He began to use this great remedy, and was cured.

Other members of the Order heard of the cure. Now they too use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Reader, have you Kidney Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills and get well.

Tears were not sent to blind our eyes, but to wash them.—Sunday School Times.

Coughs and colds need not be endured; they can be cured, and that quickly.

Many mixtures are temporary in effect, but Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a permanent remedy.

The oil feeds the blood and warms the body; the hypophosphites tone up the nerves; the glycerine soothes the inflamed throat and lungs.

The combination cures. This may prevent serious lung troubles.
