If it's Good For the Island
The Guardian is For It

The Guardian

"Covers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

WEATHER
Rain turning to showers in morning; southwest increasing to northeast 30, gusts to 55. Low-high 48 and 50.

VOL. LXXVI. NO. 244 Authorized as Second Class Mail by the Post Office Department, CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1963. NOT MORE THAN SEVEN CENTS 14 PAGES

EDWIN MILLS of Souris RR 4 concentrates on his plowing yesterday at Dundas where he won the Kings County championship. He will meet with champions from Prince and Queens counties for the Provincial title at York later this month. Runners-up were Harold Matheson, Albion Cross and Richmal Green, Cardigan. (See also pictures on page 3.)

Souris RR Plowman Named Kings County Champion

BY DON MacLEOD

Edwin Mills, Souris RR 4, was declared Kings County plowing champion yesterday after two days of plowing competitions at the Dundas agricultural fair.

Mr. Mills will represent the county at the provincial plowing match to be held later this month at York.

Runners up were Harold Matheson, Albion Cross, and Richard Green, Cardigan.

Yesterday was another good day, as far as weather and attendance was concerned, for the annual Dundas plowing match and agricultural fair. It was estimated that close to 4,000 people attended the first day of the fair Wednesday and according to exhibition association president Leslie Hunter, attendance was almost as high yesterday.

Mr. Hunter said it was one of the best fairs ever held in Dundas, particularly because of the fine weather and the expanded midway which this year included a ferris wheel and merry-go-round.

A big crowd pleaser yesterday was the old-time dancing competitions. Dancers of all ages entered and one of the best performances was given by an 81-year-old gentleman.

TRACK, FIELD EVENTS

Track and field events went over very well and emerging as

(Continued on page 3- col. 7)

Data From Alouette Poses New Problems

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Kenneth Budden, visiting English scientist and an authority on radio waves, says the Canadian Alouette satellite is providing information from space which is posing more problems than it is solving.

For one thing, he says, disturbance in the ionosphere caused by the satellite hurtling through space is causing unexpected variations in the satellite's radio frequencies.

He said in an interview Thursday in his temporary office at the Defence Research Board's laboratories at nearby Shirley Bay that a study of these variations will help improve the operations of communications satellites.

On Sept. 28, the Alouette will have been in orbit for a year. It is in an orbit some 630 miles in space and goes around the earth once every 105 minutes. By Sept. 28 it will have travelled 143,000,000 miles.

MORE LAUNCHINGS

Four more Canadian research satellites will be launched between 1964 and 1968. They will be constructed by Canadian industry with RCA Victor, Montreal, the main contractor. Total cost will be about $8,000,000.

Dru Budden is a professor at Cambridge University and is on a year's leave of absence for research. He came here in July and goes to Australia in October for six months.

He said Canadian scientists probably have more knowledge of the ionosphere in the northern hemisphere than any other group in the world.

The ionosphere is an electrically charged layer starting some 50 miles above the earth's surface which reflects radio waves but which can cause communications blackouts when disturbed by the northern lights or solar flares.

Island's Health Minister Pleased With Ottawa Visit

By FARMER TISSINGTON
Capital Bureau, The Guardian

OTTAWA — Prince Edward Island Health Minister Hon. Hubert McNeil said Thursday that he was extremely pleased with the results of his visit to Ottawa to discuss hospital matters with officials of the department of national health and welfare.

He said that as the result of his talks on Wednesday he now has sufficient information so that the Prince County Hospital board of trustees can make a decision on whether to expand the present hospital at Summerside or to rent it to the province as a nursing home and build an entirely new hospital.

FEDERAL OFFER

He said the federal government has agreed to pay 30 per cent of the cost of operation of the proposed nursing home, with the province paying the other 50 per cent. The home would provide high level custodial nursing care. Mr. McNeil said the hospital wasn't built for expansion and that it is estimated it would cost about $1,200,000 for a complete renovation and expansion job. A completely new building, on the other hand, is estimated at about $1,700,000.

HON. MR. McNEILL

The Health Minister said he had also received assurance that whichever course is followed, the hospital will qualify for the complete federal construction grant of $2,000 a bed on all the new beds, without any payback of previous construction grants. The $2,000 per bed federal grant would be matched by a similar grant from the province. The federal government will also pay grants, based on a square foot basis, if steps are taken to expand the laboratory and radiology departments of the present hospital.

Mr. McNeil also met with officials of the department of national defence with regard to the use of the Summerside hospital by dependents of the RCAF personnel stationed at the air base. He pointed out to the department that the projected expansion of the hospital is largely due to the use of the facilities by the RCAF dependents who now use about 30 per cent of the available beds.

ASSISTANCE FORMULA

Mr. McNeil said he had been told that the department may

(Continued on page 3, col. 5)

French Austerity Proposed

PARIS (Reuters) — The French government moved Thursday to head off inflation by introducing a series of new austerity measures aimed at stabilizing the economy.

Premier Georges Pompidou, introducing the plan approved by the cabinet earlier in the day, told a press conference the government will "now put more emphasis on stability—but not at the expense of expansion."

He described France's economic position as "excellent" but said that in the last 18 months there had been a "distinct inflationary tendency and it now is time to act against it."

Pompidou said neither President de Gaulle nor the government would "shirk their responsibilities in this respect nor give way to a policy of demagogy."

UNPOPULAR MOVE ....

The measures are expected to be the most unpopular proposals imposed by a French government since de Gaulle returned to power in 1958.

They include price stabilization in some industries and cuts in others, budget cuts, credit restrictions and moves to ease a labor shortage considered one of the main causes of the inflationary trend.

FLQ Suspect Is Missing

MONTREAL (CP) — Gilles Pruneau, one of 18 persons charged in connection with le Front de Liberation Quebecois terror activities, failed to appear in court on schedule Thursday.

Defence lawyer Dollard Dansereau said neither he nor Pruneau's family has been able to get in touch with him for the last week.

Mr. Justice Maurice Cousineau took under advisement a defence request that Pruneau's $5,000 bail be continued until Sept. 20.

Sixteen other suspected members of the FLQ appeared in court and, in all but one case, were ordered to reappear Sept. 20 for formal reading of charges laid against them in connection with a series of bomb and dynamite explosions between March 7 and May 20.

The exception, Raymond Villeneuve, was ordered to appear Sept. 27.

36 Vacationers Die In Air Crash

By FREDERICK FORSYTH

PERPIGNAN, France (Reuters) — A French airliner slammed into a mist-shrouded mountain peak in the Pyrenees and burst into flames Thursday, killing 36 British vacationers and a four-man French crew.

Rescue teams reported finding burned bodies after struggling through forests and rugged mountain terrain in dense fog to reach the scene.

The Viking airliner was far off course in a raging storm when it hit 5,400-foot la Roquette Mountain.

It left Gatwick Airport south of London Wednesday night for Perpignan with passengers bound for the Spanish Riviera, 30 miles from here.

French Captain Max Dunoyer radioed the local control tower shortly after midnight that he was preparing to land.

He said he was experiencing bad weather but gave no indication he was nearly 40 miles southwest of Perpignan among the dangerous Canigou peaks, one of the most inaccessible areas in the Pyrenean chain.

Peaks 6,000 to 8,000 feet high tower above thickly wooded valleys.

FRIDAY 13TH HAS NO TERROR

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)— Today, Friday the 13th, will be quite a day for Roy W. Eggleston. It is his 13th birthday.

He is the 13th child of 17 children — 13 of whom are living.

There are 13 letters in Roy's name. After school he will have a—birthday party (13 letters again).

Student Opposition Flares Into Rebellion At Saigon

CP from AP-Reuters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam— Student opposition to President Ngo Dinh Diem's government flared into open rebellion again Thursday.

Three soldiers were reported seriously injured, several students were bruised and a deputy provincial chief suffered a bloody nose in an hour-long clash.

More than 200 students barricaded themselves in the building and smashed windows. They shouted slogans denouncing Ngo Dinh Nhu, Diem's brother and influential adviser, and rained down stones and bricks. Troops finally broke into the building, rounded up three or four truckloads of the demonstrators and took them away.

The day opened with a noisy anti - government demonstration at the government school of fine arts. Of more than 100 participants, the soldiers arrested seven.

BOYCOTT EXAMS

Many medical students at the University of Saigon boycotted term examinations. Of more than 2,000 scheduled to take the tests, reporters counted barely 400 who showed up.

Storm Forecast In P.E.I. Today

HALIFAX (CP) — The weather office said Thursday night an intense storm was moving into the Maritimes with heavy rain and high winds.

In a storm warning, the weather office said the disturbance was centred in Vermont early Thursday night and rain ahead of it had moved into New Brunswick.

The storm was forecast to sweep across the three Maritime Provinces today, dropping two to three inches of rain in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Winds of 35-40 miles per hour with gusts to 60 were forecast for New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island and exposed sections of Nova Scotia.

UN Agenda, Session Plans Occupy Cabinet

By JAMES NELSON

OTTAWA (CP)—A sweeping look at world affairs and study of legislation to go before the resumed parliamentary session occupied the federal cabinet Thursday at an all-day meeting.

During the morning sitting, the cabinet studied draft legislation to establish an independent commission to redraw the 265 electoral ridings on the basis of population shifts recorded in the 1961 census. The job has been done in the past by a special Commons committee.

In the afternoon, the ministers studied the agenda for the United Nations General Assembly which opens next week, and prepared a set of diplomatic instructions for External Affairs Minister Martin, who will head the Canadian delegation.

Prime Minister Pearson, who will spend most of next week at the UN meeting in New York, said following the afternoon session that some appointments to government boards and commissions were made. These would be announced later.

Mr. Pearson said legislation for the parliamentary session which resumes Sept. 30 headed the cabinet work.

REPORTS ON TRIP

Nelson Castonguay, chief electoral officer, reported to the ministers on his trip to Australia and New Zealand, where revision of the electoral map is handled by quasi-judicial bodies. The Pearson government—as was the former Conservative government — is pledged to adopt similar machinery in Canada.

(Continued on page 3, col. 6)

Snow Falls In Que. Park

MONTREAL (CP) —Heavy rains blown into gusts by high winds dumped more than four inches of water on the Montreal area Thursday.

The storm caused flooding and extensive property damage.

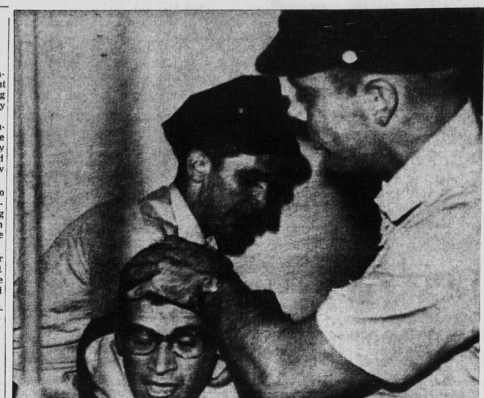
Backed up sewers caused streets to be flooded for several blocks under one to two feet of rain water.

QUEBEC (CP)—A nor-easter dropped an inch of cold rain in the Quebec City region Thursday and carried 20-to-30-mile-an hour winds gusting to 50.

Roads department sources said several inches of snow fell in Laurentian provincial park north of here, where 3,500-foot mountains usually catch the first snowfall of the season.

Temperatures were in the 40s.

Probe Of Jaunt To Cuba Fires Washington Flareup



TWO CAPITOL police subdue one of the demonstrators Thursday at a hearing at the Capitol. Police took over as a fist - swinging demonstration started when Chairman Edwin Willis, D-La., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities ordered applauding spectators out of a hearing room. (AP Wirephoto)

WASHINGTON (AP)—A near-riot—the second disturbance of the day—erupted Thursday at the close of a hearing by the House of Representatives committee on un-American activities on students travelling to Cuba.

More than a score of police carried struggling youths from the ornate House caucus room, while an unruly crowd in the hall shouted at them. One shrill voice kept calling: "Fascist!"

The policemen carried the youths down the hallway, and then hustled them downstairs. One, tieless and with his shirt tail pulled out, kept harranguing a police officer about freedom in the U.S.

Earlier in the afternoon, at least six others were marched out of the hearing room by the police, after committee chairman Edwin E. Willis (Dem. La.) ordered them removed because of a prolonged outburst of applause.

When the hearing adjourned after 5 p.m., loud applause and cheering broke out in the hearing room, and disorder started as spectators poured out.

POLICE MOVE IN

The police stood by for a few moments, but finally moved in on one member of the audience, a young man who shouted at chairman Willis:

"There's more freedom in Cuba than there is in Louisiana!"

As he repeated the cry, other demonstrators took up the chant, "Fascists go home."

The police finally attempted to remove a few of the loudest demonstrators from the room. Their action immediately touched off a milling, swarming struggle, with spectators and police tumbling over each other and upsetting chairs.

Several of the demonstrators were hustled down the marble stairways from the third floor caucus room, and a momentary lull followed.

But the trouble broke out again on the marble balcony outside the caucus room entrance where a dozen or more persons stood kicked against a railing shouting, "Fascists!" and "police state."

Police said the demonstrators were not arrested, only ejected from the House office building.

The violence came as the committee heard testimony about a journey to Cuba by more than 50 U.S. students who defied a state department travel ban.

TWO MEN ARRESTED

2nd Holdup In 6 Weeks Gives Jitters To Banker

HALIFAX (CP)—Bank Manager W. B. Main says if robberies at his north-end branch of the Bank of Montreal keep up he probably doesn't have long to live.

Main, 33, head of the branch at Gottingen and Rector Streets, talked with a quiver in his voice to reporters Thursday shortly after two armed men took more than $10,000 in the second holdup at the branch in six weeks.

"I'd say I wouldn't have too many years to live at the rate things are going."

Meanwhile, police arrested two men and continued to hunt for a third suspect. One man was to be charged today.

Main, who spoke calmly to reporters after the first robbery July 29 when a shot had been fired, was nervous Thursday.

FLASHES GUN

"One of the men pointed a gun at me and told me not to touch anything — hold my hands up and walk out of the office."

He said the second man stood in the customers' area with a shotgun and warned that "somebody would get hurt if we didn't do as we were told." The first man scooped cash from three tills.

"One had a small revolver and the other had a sawed-off shotgun," Main said.

He said that when the man told him not to touch anything "I touched something — what I was supposed to touch (an alarm button) — and I walked out of the office and did what I was told to do—went to the back and lay face down as instructed."

Two policemen on their way into the bank to investigate the alarm were met at the door by the holdup men. They also were forced to lie face down with Main, bank employees and customers. About six customers were in the bank at the time.

No shots were fired and no one was harmed.

MONEY MISSING

Police say none of the $12,000 taken in the July 29 holdup has been recovered. Edward Barss, 27, of Halifax was charged with armed robbery in that holdup.

Thursday's robbery was the third in Halifax this year. The first was at a Bank of Commerce branch in the west end.

One of the witnesses to Thursday's robbery was 16-year-old Garnet Spicer of Halifax, who also was a witness to the first holdup.

"Funny, isn't it, that a man could have been at the same spot for two bank robberies," he said after he handed over to police clothing found in a parking lot near the bank. It was thought to have been shed by one of the gunmen.

Const. Victor Jennings, who arrived at the bank a few minutes after the alarm, said "somebody shouted there goes a car, I gave chase to the car, which left the bank at a fast rate of speed. At times it hit 100 miles an hour. I pulled him over on Brunswick Street. He gave no trouble."

U.S. Union Boss Told To Mind Own Business

OTTAWA (CP) — President Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress Thursday accused U.S. Seafarers' Union boss Paul Hall of trying to apply "dictatorial methods" to the entire North American labor movement.

Mr. Jodoin charged that Mr. Hall is trying to use his position as president of the AFL-CIO's Maritime Trades Department to divert public attention from the lawless record of the Seafarers' International Union in Canada.

In one of the toughest blasts ever hurled across the border at a U.S. trade unionist, the president of the 1,050,000-member CLC in essence told Mr. Hall to mind his own business and stay out of Canadian union affairs.

Mr. Jodoin was commenting on a move by the executive board of the Maritime Trades Department to promote a split in relations between the AFL-CIO in the United States and the CLC in Canada.

The MTD board wants the question of future Canadian-U.S. union relations raised at the next AFL - CIO general board meeting — including the possibility of ending co-operation with the CLC and forming a new central labor body in Canada to represent international unions.

The CLC is made up of about 90 international unions representing some 872,000 workers, plus 18 national unions with a membership of 156,000. Another 20,000 unionists belong to locals directly chartered by the CLC.

"It is unthinkable that international unions would even consider ordering their Canadian members to comply with the wishes of Mr. Hall," said CLC President Jodoin.

"Matters concerning the autonomous labor centre of Canadian workers will be decided in this country by Canadian workers."

Mr. Hall is president of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department as well as a vice-president of the AFL-CIO itself. He gained both positions in the central body of U.S. labor because he is president of the 75,000 member SIU of North America.

"Mr. Hall, obviously using his position as president of the Maritime Trades Department, is trying to apply the dictatorial methods of the SIU to the entire labor movement of North America," said Mr. Jodoin.

"This is simply an effort on the part of the SIU to distract attention from its record in Canada as disclosed in the Norris inquiry. It will not be successful in preventing the much-needed clean-up of the situation on the lakes."

RELATIONS SOUR

Relations between Mr. Jodoin and Mr. Hall have been sour for several years. They grew worse when Mr. Hall flayed Mr. Jodoin earlier this week as a gutless unionist who prostituted his position as head of the CLC by accepting the need for a government tripleship over marine unions in Canada.

INSIDE TODAY

Announcements, notices	13
Births, deaths	3, 13
Classified	12-13
Comics	11
Editorials	4
Kings, Queens, City	3
Rural churches	8
Finance, markets	10
Sport	9
Summerside	3
Prince County	2
Women's	7

Youths Evicted By Police

WASHINGTON (AP)—A near-riot—the second disturbance of the day—erupted Thursday at the close of a hearing by the House of Representatives committee on un-American activities on students travelling to Cuba.

More than a score of police carried struggling youths from the ornate House caucus room, while an unruly crowd in the hall shouted at them. One shrill voice kept calling: "Fascist!"

The policemen carried the youths down the hallway, and then hustled them downstairs. One, tieless and with his shirt tail pulled out, kept harranguing a police officer about freedom in the U.S.

Earlier in the afternoon, at least six others were marched out of the hearing room by the police, after committee chairman Edwin E. Willis (Dem. La.) ordered them removed because of a prolonged outburst of applause.

When the hearing adjourned after 5 p.m., loud applause and cheering broke out in the hearing room, and disorder started as spectators poured out.

POLICE MOVE IN

The police stood by for a few moments, but finally moved in on one member of the audience, a young man who shouted at chairman Willis:

"There's more freedom in Cuba than there is in Louisiana!"

As he repeated the cry, other demonstrators took up the chant, "Fascists go home."

The police finally attempted to remove a few of the loudest demonstrators from the room. Their action immediately touched off a milling, swarming struggle, with spectators and police tumbling over each other and upsetting chairs.

Several of the demonstrators were hustled down the marble stairways from the third floor caucus room, and a momentary lull followed.

But the trouble broke out again on the marble balcony outside the caucus room entrance where a dozen or more persons stood kicked against a railing shouting, "Fascists!" and "police state."

Police said the demonstrators were not arrested, only ejected from the House office building.

The violence came as the committee heard testimony about a journey to Cuba by more than 50 U.S. students who defied a state department travel ban.

Two Ships Seek Aid

HALIFAX (CP) — Two ships were reported in difficulty in Maritime waters late Friday as a storm borne in from the west.

The Portuguese fishing vessel Inacio Cunha reported she had propeller trouble and needed a tow. She was fishing on the Grand Banks south of Newfoundland.

A tugboat was reported steaming from St. John's, Nfld., to aid the Inacio Cunha.

In the Bay of Fundy between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, the freighter Willowbranch out of Sorel, Que., requested a tow after developing engine trouble. A tug was enroute.

Neither ship was believed in immediate danger. However gale warnings were up as a storm headed for the Maritimes with winds up to 60 miles an hour.

Escaped Islander Captured In N.B.

BATHURST, N.B. (CP)

One of two men who escaped from Gloucester County jail here Tuesday was captured by police Thursday.

William Larkin, 25, of Charlottetown, was apprehended by RCMP. Police are still looking for 35-year-old Wilfred Gauthier, of Bathurst. Both men were awaiting transfer to penitentiary after they received three-year sentence on several theft counts.