DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Roy Mills, Hunter River, has recently acquired the pacer Dudy Budlong 2:11 and is getting him ready for the ice. Dudy has a world of speed and good manners and was a hard horse to head on the race track. His breeding is of the best, being sired by Calumet Budlong 2:02¾, dam the famous race mare Dude Potempkin 2:07¼ that in her hay was the best trotter in the Maritimes, setting up records which have stood the test of time. Roy is well known to thousands of gunners and others who were overseas in World War I. He made a great name for himself with the Second Heavy Battery and the members of that and other batteries who read this will be glad to know that he is well and fit and takes a great interest in harness horse racing.

And now we hear from one of the keenest horsemen in the Maritimes, who despite his more than three score years and ten can readily recall races held over our tracks in the 1890's—James L. Read of Truro...."Have been reading the Christmas number of The Horseman and Fair World which I enjoy and have now received your Maritime racing review for 1955 which I consider the best yet. It is pleasing to note that Truro paid out the largest amount, also that the Jollity Stake was won by Doctor F. C., owned by Ralph McFadyen of Hunter River. I missed seeing the Prince Edward Island Harness Racing Club's stakes but must say that Doctor R. F. Seaman and W. G. Gillespie deserve great credit for what they have done.

ROSTER ON THE SOUTH

Our friend Colonel Jim Calkin had a long chat with Earle Avery during his visit to Woodstock with Mrs. Avery recently and we are glad to give some of the information he gleaned from Earle..... "Earle and Mrs. Avery who spent Christmas in Woodstock have returned to Winthrop, Maine enroute to the training stable at Pinehurst for the winter season. Included in the roster he will have in the South are the following: two-year-olds acquired at the sales last fall as yearlings showing the prices paid and sires — Norvelle Hanover, filly by Hoot Mon at $17,000; Gay Victory, filly by Victory Song at $6,700; Town Byrd, colt by Poplar Byrd at $10,500; Goose Direct, colt by Goose Bay at $7,000; Waydios, filly by Adios at $16,000; Bid Adieu, filly by Adios at $3,800; Spirit Hanover, colt by Dean Hanover at $5,600; Sh Boom, colt by Rodney at $5,500; Gay Demon, filly by Demon Hanover at $2,300; Lilly Spangles, filly by Direct Spangles at $1,800 and Maxine's Dream, filly by Knight Dream at $8,000.

"Among the 3-year-olds are the world champion filly Egyptian Princess 2:02, by Victory Song; Harbour Master, colt by Darnley; Betty Frost, filly by Adios and Meadow Vance, colt by Adios, who had all the ear marks of a champion at two till he threw a splint which has since been taken care of. The above young stock are being shipped immediately while the following aged stock will arrive on the first of February — the sensational race mare Newtown Girl 2:02 1-5; the fast gelding Dynamite Direct 2:03 4-5; the good trotting mare Filet Mignon; the 3-year-olds Lusty Tune and Tax Free and the 4-year-old Lilaile by Alemite.

TROTTERS AND PACERS

The Woolworth Brothers are to be congratulated on building up such a very high-class aggregation for 1956 for their Clearview Stable and in the most capable hands of Earle Avery they should be right at the top in the coming season. Very few trainer-drivers have the qualificiations that Earle has, having come all the way with both trotters and pacers. He is tops in breaking, balancing, training and very few can drive a cannier race when the chips are down as indicated by his results with Hillsota 1:59, Egyptian Princess 2:02 and many others. In addition Earle is a pretty fair vet, manufacturing his own leg paint in demand by many of the leading trainers. We will be watching for the weekly training reports on this stable during the winter and hope to have periodical news of it for you. The great Hillsota 1:59 has been at Pinehurst awaiting Earle's arrival and it looks as if he may remain with the stable. If so he will be the only outside horse not owned by the Woolworths."

George M. Henderson of Montreal, well known here, writes congratulations on our Review and then — "I bought two horses from George Brookins, Kensington. I am planning to move Prince Dillon Brooks 2:11 3-5 down to the Island shortly where he will be in the Brookins stable. This should give me three fair horses which I may race on the Island until after Old Home Week." Thanks, George, for your letter and we are sure your horses will be welcomed by secretaries of the tracks here and by the public.

VIRUS INFECTION

Edith Shaw writing from Del Mar, Calif. race track to the Horseman has the following: A number of the 2-year-olds in the Camp stable have been the victim of a virus infection and Joe O'Brien has been going very easy with them. Bad news has come from the ranch of the death of Maxie Jay and her unborn colt by Scotch Victor. She is the dam of the famous Prince Jay p. 1:58 3-5 and is the dam of Better Hoot by Hoot Mon, a 2-year-old which is being trained by Joe. Another of her colts, Washington Jay, got his record of 2:04 3-5 at Hollywood Park this fall driven by Philip Rocchio. Miss Shaw gives a writeup of practically all the colts that are being trained at Del Mar and they number over 100. There is a picture of Joe O'Brien driving the 2-year-old Double Scotch by Scotch Victor in a workout at Del Mar and another of a 2-year-old that trotted a mile last week in 2:40, which seems to be the fastest we have noticed.

The purchase of Kimberly Kid 1:59 2-5 by a syndicate for $150,000 has been the subject of discussion as to whether it was the highest price ever paid by a syndicate for a trotter. Apparently it was, as the Horseman and Fair World states that the largest price paid previously was for Axtell when he was bought from C. W. Williams of Terre Haute, Indiana, by a syndicate in October, 1889 for $105,000. The dollar at that time of course had probably three times the purchasing power of the dollar today and although just a youngster at the time we can remember horsemen talking about it and marvelling that such an amount of money would be paid for a horse. The man who sold him was a telegraph operator who had the horse bug. He bought a mare that he thought had good breeding and sent her down to Kenfucky and had her bred and returned. He trained the resultant foal himself and as a 3-year-old he set up a world's record of 2:12 to high wheeled sulky. We would like to say that Mr. Williams held on to his money and lived happily ever after, but we don't think that would be quite the truth as he went into breeding horses on a big scale and the panic of 1891 cought up with him.

WORLD'S RECORDS

Maine horsemen are feeling pretty good over the fact that two horses owned in that state set up world's records in 1955. Egyptian Princess, owned by Fred and Norm Woolworth of Winthrop, cost the owners just $2,000 as a yearling and was then handed over to Earle Avery. A good part of her early education was given over the Maine ovals and later she raced at Roosevelt and on the Grand Circuit and at Lexington, Ky. won the Hanover Shoe Farm Filly Stake, purse $16,950 with the second heat in 2:02, which replaced a 24-year-old record of 2:02¼ made by Maid McElwyn in October, 1931. Her season's winnings were approximately $30,000. The other Maine owner is George Landers of Kittery. Billy Haughton acting for him bought the yearling pacer Belle Acton at auction for $1,600 started her campaigning as a 2-year-old at Rosecroft, Md. and won in 2:08 1-5 and in mid-October she won a $14,200 autumn stake at Yonkers, her time being 2:02 2-5—a new world's re-

HUNTERS' CORNER

It is not until Nature goes on the rampage that man realizes just what an insignificant morsel he is. We may harness Nature in some respects but when she really gets her back up the shoe is on the other foot. It was the worst sleet storm in living memory but Nature repeats herself every so often and it is quite possible we have had as bad, or even worse, since this province came into being.

I have recollection of old timers reminiscing on the great January silver thaw that occurred when they were boys, or maybe it was from listening to old timers of their time reminisce. They were in their 80's then and have been dead for well nigh 50 years. From what I heard the snow lay feet deep on the level when a freezing rain laid a sheet of ice so thick it would carry the weight of a horse. Farmers when going for a visit with neighbors would take the shortest-cut as it was possible to drive with safety over fences, swamps, etc.

County dwellers in those days lived pretty close to Nature. Kerosene lamps or homemade candles, wood stoves (Waterloo's) firkins of salt herring, dried cod, pork and beef in pickle, etc were in cellars or store houses. They had no phones, electric lights, milking machines to fail when the power was cut off or other such worries of a modern age when the blizzards howled for days they simply sat it out.

In times of sickness the old fash-

Stops Fine Game

Earl Shepherd made his debut in the S. D. U. nets in Thursday's game against the Flyers. Although Parkdale won out 5—2 Earl turned in a fine game especially in the first period when he kept the high powered Flyers off the scoresheet for more than 18 minutes and made some sensational saves in doing so. Blake Makes Lineup Changes For Contest Against Bruins

MONTREAL (CP)—Coach Toe Blake made changes in the forward lines Friday when Montreal Canadiens worked out in preparation for tonight's game against Boston Bruins and there is a possibility Floyd Curry will be at right wing on the line with Jean Beliveau and Bert Olmstead.

Blake also recalled Jackie Leclair from Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League.

Blake obviously was displeased with the 6-1 shellacking Canadiens took at the hands of New York Rangers Wednesday night but was cheered a bit to know that defenceman Doug Harvey will return to action.

The cast has been removed from Harvey's injured hand and he has declared himself ready to play.

Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard, rookie centre, sidelined with ankle and knee injuries, may possibly be dressed but whether he will play or not will not be known until today.

Centre Connie Broden, brought up for a couple of games, has been returned to Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the QHL. Defencema Bob Turer of the Cataracts will remain with the team since Dollard St. Laurent is still on the injured list.

Ben Hogan Byron Nelson To Tee-Off In Golf Tournament

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A younger generation of pro golfers gets one more chance today at two of the game's biggest names, Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson.

Both will tee off in Bing Crosby's charity golf tournament and both have served up scores indicating they are not here just to walk around the course. Hogan posted a 65 and Nelson a 68 in practice.

Hogan retired right after he failed to win the U. S National Open last June but was talked into this tournament by Crosby, who said the Texan's appearance would help the gate.

Crosby for the 10th year will pay all the expenses, including $15,000 worth of prize money, and will donate the receipts to charity.

This time he offers $2,500 first prize for the best pro score and $1,500 for the pro half of the winning pro-amateur team.

The crooner, who shot a 75 in practice, is teaming with Hogan.

Other top pros on hand include last year's winner, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Marvin (Bud) Ward, Doug Ford, Bo Winninger, Walter Burkemo, Lloyd Mangrum, Bob Rosburg, Tom Bolt, Ed Oliver, Bud Olscher, Gene Littler and Johnny Bulla.

SON TO COMPETE

Among the amateurs is Lindsay Crosby, 17-year-old son of the singer who will be making his first tour of the family tourney. Other play-for-fun men include Phil Harris, Johnny Weissmuller, Hoagy Carmichael, Gordon Macrae, Dean Martin and President Eisenhower's brother, Edgar.

Sam Langford A Contented Man Despite Destitution

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Sam Langford had been blind for many years. During several of those years he was destitute, a forgotten man.

Yet, despite his affliction, poverty and obscurity he had a serene mind; a contentment which should be the envy of many a man with health and material success. The last thing he wantd was pity.

"Don't nobody need to feel sorry for old Sam. I had plenty good times. I been all over the world. I fought maybe three, four hundred fights and every one was a pleasure. If I just had me a little change in my pocket I'd get along fine."

END OF LONG SEARCH

Those were Sam's words quoted by Al Laney of the New York Herald Tribune in as fine and appealing a story as we ever read in which Laney told of his long quest to locate the Boston Tar Baby, finally finding him alone in a dingy hall room in Harlem.

This resulted in the raising of a fund, the proceeds of which provided a modest income for the great fighter from Weymouth, N.S.

Sam died Thursday at 72, but not before he had become a living legend. Whenever the names of great ringmen were listed, Langford was certain to be included, although he never held a world championship.

The champions avoided him as if he were poison, and in his glory days, with the color line still sharply drawn, there was no public demand that a man of his recognized and amazing ability be given a chance at a crown. It could have been any crown from welter weight on up, as he never weighed more than 162½, and usually was far under that figure.

ALL COMERS

With the doors to the titles closed to him, he fought whenever and wherever he could, barring no man, regardless of size or ability. His own estimate of "three, four hundred" fights was low. Actually, it was 642.

For want of opponents he often was forced to take on the same opponent time and again. He met Harry Wills no less than 15 times. Sam McVey was a rival 14 times.

His list of victims reads like a "Who's Who" of his time—except for the champions, and several of the men later won titles.

H knocked out Tiger Flowers in two rounds, Jim Flynn, who is credited with a kayo over Jack Dempsey, in one; John Lester Johnson, who gave Dempsey one of his toughest battles in one, and beat the original Joe Walcott in 15.

Rangers Could Lose Second Place During Weekend Games

(By the Canadian Press)

The National Hockey League comes up with six games this weekend and when it's all over, there might be a different team in second place.

Detroit Red Wings, one of the hottest clubs in the league now, play two "big" games—against Chicago Black Hawks Saturday at St. Louis and back home Sunday against the league-leading Montreal Canadiens.

Red Wings, who are in third place with 43 points, are three points behind New York Rangers. By Sunday midnight, Wings could be ahead of Rangers.

The New Yorkers, who Thursday night started a gruelling nine-game road trip by absorbing a 6-0 walloping at Detroit, take on the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday then travel to Chicago for a Sunday engagement. A pair of Ranger losses coupled with two Detroit victories would boost Wings one point past the Blueshirts.

Meanwhile the battle for fourth place continues with Chicago holding a slim one-point lead over the fifth-place Leafs. Hawks have 36 points, 11 more than last-place Boston Bruins, who will be trying to snap an eight-game losing streak when they visit Montreal Saturday and play host to Toronto the next night.

White Nearing Whitlock's Mark

MONCTON (CP)—Shermie White Amherst Rambler's scoring ace, has moved to within two points of a year-old Atlantic Coast Senior Hockey League scoring record.

Official league statistics released Friday by secretary-treasurer Bob Chandler show the smooth-working pivotman heading the scoring parade with 92 points, two short of Roy (Buck) Whitlock's record of 94. Whitlock set the mark with Charlottetown Islanders last year.

White's 92 points are made up of 32 goals and 60 assists. He holds a 20-point bulge over linemate Jackie Schmidt who has 72 points.

Whitlock is in third place. He has 71 points, made up of 27 goals and 44 assists.

LEADS GOALS RACE

Pierre Brillant of Amherst slipped to fourth spot. He has 70 points, leading the league in goals with 44 and 26 assists.

Saint John's Jim Shirley, although making only limited appearances, because of an injury, still heads the goaltenders' list with an average of 2.78. He leads in shutouts with six.

Lewis In Second

Allie Carver Tops Scoring

Unofficial scoring statistics for the Island Senior "B" League show Parkdale Flyers' playing coach Allie Carver holding a comfortable 7-point margin over B.Y.C. starry centerman Brian Lewis. Carver leads the league in goals scored with 22 big markers in 8 games. His 5 assists give him a total of 27 points.

Lewis next in line to Carver, has 20 points made up of 7 counters and 13 assists. The latter gives him the league lead in the important assist department together with Willie Dunn.

Dunn has notched 5 goals to go along with his assist total for 18 points, one behind defenseman Jack Ready and Merrill Pineau of the B.Y.C. tied for third slot with 19 points.

Pineau has 11 goals and 8 assists while Ready's total is comprised of 8 goals and 11 assists.

Playing coach Wally Shepherd of the B.Y.C is tied with Dunn in third place with 7 goals and 11 assists.

Pineau's 11 goals puts him second only to Carver.

The Flyers and the B.YC are tied at the top of the standings, each with 12 points. Each of the teams has idential 5-3 won-lost records. Included in the win column of both teams is a 4-point win over S.DU. Montague Primroses follow the top teams with 6 points made up of 3 wins and 3 losses in 6 games. Holding down the rear are S.D.U and the Summerside Aces each with 4 points.

The Saints have 1 victory in 3 tries while the Aces have 2 wins in 7 attempts.

In the penalty parade Ron MacArthur's 49 minutes keeps him well in front but Dick Carroll in second slot with 38 minutes has been getting some stiff competition of late. Parkdale defenseman Ralph Josey was tagged for 13 minutes in Thursday's game to run his total to 37 minutes. MacDonald of Montague is tied with Josey and they are followed by Frank Smith of B.YC. with 35 minutes.

The B.YC. are far and away the most penalized team in the league with an 8-game total of 226 minutes Flyers follow with 158, Montague has 145; Summerside 127 and Saints have 42 minutes in 3 games.

May Open New Era

Football Heads Meet To Map Out Final Strategy

TORONTO (CP) — Representatives of the Big Four football clubs met here today to map the league's final strategy for joint East-West talks in Winnipeg next week that are expected to open a new era in Canadian professional football.

The Big Four will hammer out the policy it will propose when it gets together again with the Western Interprovincial Football Union in an attempt to unite forces and provide a sounder economic structure for pro football.

It involves primarily the adoption of a limited interlocking schedule, the appointment of a commissioner or a group to run the joint setup, an import-negotiation list, the possibility of a two-game Grey Cup final, joint draft selections, split gates and cotinuance of some sort of affiliation with the Canadian Rugby Union.

The two leagues are expectd teo organize the new set-up when they meet in Winnipeg for four days, starting next Friday.

Both the WIFU and Big Four have agreed in principle to some form of merger with each league continueing its separate identity. Now only final details have to be worked out.

The biggest step to be taken at Winnipeg will be the adoption of a limited interlocking schedule. Both leagues have been working on various types of such schedules and they will be presented to the joint meetings for consideration.

Tentative feeling at the Big Four meeting Dec. 4 was that for the 1956 season two teams from the East would go West and play two or thre games while two or three teams from the West moved East for games with the other Big Four clubs.

Three of the Big Four clubs are reported to have lost money last season and the league is in favor of increasing its number of games in 1956, from 12 to possibly 16, the same number the WIFU teams played last season.

A proposal for a two-game, total-points Grey Cup final may be raised at Winnipeg. There was no announcement that this had been discussed at the preliminary meetings but it is kown that Montreal Alouettes favor it.

IBC Chairman Blames T.V. For Formation Of Guild

CHICAGO (AP)—As the National Boxing Association's executive committee began assembling for an important meeting today, a Chicago member of the International Boxing Guild blamed television for the sport's current crisis.

Jack Begun, chairman of IBC's Chicago chapter, said in an interview Friday that Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York state athletic commission, would have had no New York Boxing Guild to smash if it were not for televised boxing.

With members quitting the New York Guild under Helfand's threat to revoke their managerial licences by Jan. 16, the parent IBG also is on the rocks. The International Guild also is under federal indictment in Cleveland on charges of anti-trust violations.

The guild was formed to get a fair skare for boxers and their handlers from television, Begun said.

"What has the guild got to do with licensing or refusing to licence a manager in New York? If the New York commission has evidence of a bad background around a manager, sure, refuse him a licence, but why penalize everybody?

Begun said the Chicago guild members would meet in 10 days or so to decide what action to take.

Rollins Refuses Demotion To Minor Leagues

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram says Al Rollins, goal tender of Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League, has decided to quit hockey rather than be sent down to the minor leagues.

The newspaper says the vetran of 6½ NHL seasons is reported ready to return to his home at New Westminster, B. C. rather than take a demotion to Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League.

Rollins was replaced in the Chicago nets last Wednesday for a game in Toronto by Hank Bassen of the Buffalo team. Team officials said the move was designed to give Rollins a rest.

The Telegram says it has learned Rollins was told to replace Bassen with Buffalo but balked at the order and indicated he would quit hockey first.
