

THE LORD SELKIRK'S COMFORTABLE MODERN PASSENGER SALOON

A VIEW of the Lord Selkirk's engine room showing main engines and auxiliary generators. Note engine room controls at centre. This panel is fitted with all gauges and instruments necessary for the full control of both engines.

The "Lord Selkirk" Has Luxurious Appointments

With the completion of the trial runs of the Lord Selkirk a new era in the transportation link between the Island and Nova Scotia is seen. The ship, with a capacity for 60 autos will be ready to go on the Wood Islands-Caribou run next Spring according to an announcement made yesterday by Ferguson Industries Ltd. of Pictou who are the builders of the ferry.

The new Wood Islands-Caribou Ferry has an overall length of 259 feet and a breadth of 54 feet six inches. There are five vehicle lanes. The three centre lanes have a clearance of 14 feet 3 inches and the two outer lanes have a clearance of seven feet. This would mean that trucks being carried on the ferry would take the centre lanes.

The "Selkirk" will have a passenger capacity for 300 people and will carry a crew of 30. It will be powered by two Werkspoor Diesel engines, each developing 1,250 horsepower. There are two propellers at each end.

PITCH PROPELLORS

These propellers are an innovation in ship propulsion in that they have a variable pitch which is controlled from the wheelhouse. The pitch of the propellers determine not only the speed of motion but the direction in which the ship travels.

The propeller shafts turn in the same direction at all times but the forward or reverse motion of the ship is changed by the propeller pitch.

The main engines are constant speed, non-reversing and travel at 325 revolutions per minute. They are directly connected with four variable pitch propellers which in turn are operated hydraulically and independently from the ship's bridge.

AUXILIARY ENGINES

The auxiliary machinery comprises four diesel driven generators, three located in the engine room and one emergency generator located on the boat deck. These generators have a maximum output of 375 K. W. at 440 volt 3 phase 60 cycle.

Two independent switch boards are inter connected and provide ships power to the electrical circuits at all times.

Another special feature of this ship is the incorporation of forward and after trimming tanks in the design. These tanks are used to trim the vessel and to compensate for uneven distribution of loaded vehicles. Independent pumping services are provided to fill or empty these tanks as required.

The vessel is constructed of steel and is of welded construction throughout. Special attention has been given to provide ample access entrances from the car deck to the spacious accommodation on the promenade deck.

ATTRACTIVE LOUNGE

The main passenger lounge is attractively finished in cream and pastel colors and natural wood finish. Ample upholstered seats are conveniently arranged to provide passengers with an excellent view through the large picture windows fitted throughout the lounge. Concealed fluorescent lighting fixtures blend attractively into the general pleasing appearance of the saloon area.

Funeral Held Of Mrs. Peterson

The congregation of St. David's Church, Georgetown, were joined by members of the clergy from many sections of the Province in paying their respects to the late Mrs. (Rev.) W. A. Peterson, Georgetown, whose funeral took place there yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

The service was conducted by Rev. J. M. Fraser of Montague; Rev. W. S. Woolfrey of Murray Harbour, and Rev. Farquhar MacKinnon of Valleyfield read the scripture. Prayer was said by Rev. Dr. A. S. Weir of Vernon. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. T. R. Goudge of Pownal.

Other clergy present in the church were Rev. A. Frank MacLean and Rev. G. Howard Christie, Charlottetown; Rev. E. A. C. Haley, Cavendish; Rev. T. A. Wilson, Charlottetown; Rev. Dr. E. A. Betts, Winsloe; Rev. Donald Sharpe, Souris; Rev. R. A. Patterson, Cornwall; Rev. Donald Campbell, Montague, Rev. Donald Nicholson, Belfast, and Rev. Donald MacClare, Kingsboro. Hymns sung during the service were: "Unto The Hills", "What A Friend We Have in Jesus", and "Abide With Me".

Rev. Mr. Fraser in his message recalled many sterling qualities of the late Mrs. Peterson. Her unselfish character and devotion to her Faith, he said, had left its mark in the various manses she had occupied with her husband throughout the Maritimes.

The fact that she died while on her way to a Woman's Missionary meeting was evidence, he said, of the great love she held in her heart for the needs of others.

The many floral bouquets paid silent tribute to the esteem in which the departed was held among her friends and members of the congregation.

The pall bearers were: Sterling Conroy, Joseph Johnston, George White, Percy King, Gordon Ross and H. Larsen. The remains were taken by motor hearse to Five Mile River, Hants County, N. S., where burial will take place today.

Rev. Mr. Passey Is Speaker At Montague

Rev. C. W. Passey of Hazelbrook Baptist Church was guest preacher last night at the opening service of the Week of Prayer held in the Church of Christ, Montague.

Mr. Passey's sermon, taken from the text James 5: 17, "Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are", was much appreciated by the large congregation in attendance as was the duet "Surrender which was feelingly rendered by Mrs. Passey and their daughter Sharon.

The topic of Mr. Passey's sermon was "The man who prevailed with God." He compared Elias' crisis with the spiritual crisis of the world today and urged the congregation to be definite in their belief, to have faith and to be humble.

Rev. D. A. Campbell led in prayer and Rev. J. M. Fraser read the scripture lesson.

The second service Tuesday evening will be in the United Baptist Church, Rev. J. M. Fraser guest speaker.

Leaves Today For Mexico

Achieving a wish which he has cherished since boyhood days, Raymond J. Lavandier of Georgetown, leaves today by plane for Mexico, where he will visit several cities and towns, completing his tour with a stop-over at the Pacific Coast city of Acapulco, Mexico.

Enroute Mr. Lavandier will visit his brother Amos in New York before resuming his trip by air to San Antonio, Texas, where he will take passage by bus to Monterey, Mexico.

On the return trip Mr. Lavandier will fly direct from the Pacific Coast to New York and from there to Charlottetown, after an absence of six weeks.
