U. S. STEEL

CLEVELAND, Oct. 5 (AP) - United States steel production is at a new all-time high, Steel magazine reports today. "The United States steel mills added another point to their production rate last week to hit 103.5 per cent of rated capacity or 2,150,000 net tons of steel. Mills distant from big consuming areas, Steel says, are noting a reduction in buyer pressure as the supply builds up. Consumers save on transportation costs by buying close to their own operations. Steel says a survey by the National Association of Purchasing Agents indicates that only 47 per cent of the consumers have any steel supply problems now. Forty-four per cent expect an easy supply condition by the end of the year. (Only nine per cent predict critical shortages running into the second quarter of 1953, compared with 42 per cent a month ago.

Simpsons' Merger With Sears, Roebuck Company Approved

TORONTO, Oct. 5 (CP) - Shareholders of Simpsons, have approved plans for a $40,000,000 merger with Sears, Roebuck and Company to form a new mail-order organization in Canada. Simpsons and Sears, a United States firm, will have equal $20,000,000 investments in the new company, to be known as Simpsons-Sears Limited. Addressing a shareholders' meeting Friday, E. G. Burton, president of Simpsons, said the company will be the basis for "a large group of Sears type retail stores in many locations throughout Canada." "In order to give clear title to the assets which are being sold," Mr. Burton said, "we are retiring our presently outstanding first mortgage bonds and secured term notes, aggregating $20,950,000 and we propose to replace them with $30,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent 20-year debentures. "Some of the proceeds of this issue will be used as additional working capital and to retired bank loans resulting from the increasing volume of credit business. Sale of these debentures has been arranged and a public offering will be made."

Moscow Attacks On "Nationalists" Need Second Look

By WILLIAM L. RYAN Associated Press News Analyst There has been an inclination among people in the West—particularly those in officialdom—to shrug off the Moscow attacks on "bourgeois nationalists" and on spies and saboteurs within the Soviet Union. The reaction has been that these attacks were nothing more than a means of dangling phantoms before the workers to keep them producing. But these blasts now deserve a long second look. Above all, in the Soviet Ukraine, the violence of the denunciations hints there is more to this than just crying "wolf!" "Bourgeois nationalism," a pet bogey of Moscow, is a sin that can happen only outside Great Russia. In the 15 other Soviet republics, it is a serious offence to forget that the Great Russians are the masters of all the Soviet Union. Along with "bourgeois nationalism," the Kremlin's organs of education and enlightenment also are discovering spies, saboteurs and agents of the American imperialism. A suspicion is justified that this is not all hogwash. While Moscow has indoctrinated its people to believe the fellow next door may be an enemy of the state, it is a serious admission for the Kremlin to say that the Americans have been treating with their agents on such a grand scale. The "agents," of course, would not be Americans at all. The people the Kremlin fears now are the nationalists, in the Ukraine and in other constituent republics of the U.S.S.R. There has not been such a concentrated attack in the Ukraine for some time. Two years ago the ruling Communists let it be broadcast that they had liquidated "the worst enemies of the people," the apparently unkillable Ukrainian nationalists. Moscow has just published an account of a Ukrainian party congress. L. D. Melnikov, Ukrainian party chief, rallied once again against the nationalists, calling them spies, saboteurs, agents, etc. Meanwhile the Soviet press has been full of criticism of the Ukraine—of coal miners, heavy industry workers and workers (many of them likely slave laborers) on the hydro-electric programs of the Southern Ukraine and Northern Crimea. Perhaps the Ukrainian nationalists have risen, Phoenix-like, from their ashes to plague Communist rulers again. Ukrainians exiled from their native land insist that the nationalists still are a potent force, stabbing from hideouts at tender spots in the Communist hides. What happens in the Ukraine could also happen in other Soviet republics, particularly among the nomadic and fiercely-individualistic peoples of Central Asia. This would be one more reason why the U.S.S.R. would move cautiously to avoid a third world war. The Kremlin might be watching its subjects with a nervous eye.

Railways Offer Seven Per Cent Wage Increase

OTTAWA, Oct. 5 (CP) The Railways have offered their non-operating unions a seven-per-cent wage increase in settlement of union demands on behalf of 125,000 employees, it was learned Friday. The 17 unions seeking a 45-cent-an-hour general increase and other concessions have rejected the railways' proposal but have not yet made a specific counter-proposal. Earlier, informants said the railways offered up to 11 per cent, but it was made known authoritatively Friday the smaller figure is as high as the railways have gone. They advanced it in negotiations directly with the unions and have maintained it before a federal conciliation board under Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada. The board is recess for a week, is due to reconvene at Montreal Monday for what is expected to be the final series of hearings on the $150,000,000-a-year issue. At private hearings, it was learned Friday, the railways told the board it was offering the seven per cent as full settlement for labor demands that include: A cost-of-living bonus of one cent an hour for every point rise in the cost-of-living index after last Sept. 1, the union shop; company check-off of union dues, and removal of a clause in the last contract providing for elimination of certain penalty and overtime pay in the event of a national emergency. As offered by the companies, the proposed increase would take effect Sept. 1. On a cents-an-hour basis, it would amount to slightly over nine cents—about one-fifth the unions' main wage demand.

Exchange Reserves Are Boosted To New High

OTTAWA, Oct. 5 (CP) - A big world demand for Canadian dollars has boosted Canada's official exchange reserves to a new high of $1,856,000,000—more than the exchange reserves of the entire sterling area. Finance Minister Abbott Friday announced that the reserves, held in gold and United States dollars, climbed to the peak on Sept. 30 after jumping $28,000,000 in the last three months from the previous quarterly high of $1,828,000,000 on June 30. Figures are expressed in U. S. dollars. This fattening foreign-exchange account, used to prevent any sudden and sharp fluctuations in the exchange rate of the Canadian dollar, compared with the sterling dollar, is the holdings of $1,872,000,000 of the Canadian dollar, compared with the sterling dollar, many of them rocked by financial crisis. Canada's reserves have been continuing to rise since the dark economic days at the end of 1947 when they fell to a low of less than $500,000,000 and brought drastic import and exchange devaluations to plug the drain on American currency. Now the flow of foreign money, mostly from the United States, to
