Continuation of the Budget Debate

MESSRS. J. A. MACDONALD AND GILBERT DESROCHES.

Ablly Arraign the Government on Many Points.

TUESDAY, MAY 29.

Mr. John A. McDonald on rising to address the House said he would speak for only a few minutes. Referring to the opening remarks of the Government on the budget he said the Leader of the House had no right to blame the Opposition for the disgraceful scenes that occurred during the first two days of the session as it was clear to every one that it was a family quarrel. The whole trouble seemed to be between the Leader and his colleague. As far as the Opposition were concerned they gave no advice to Mr. Wise in the matter. But he (Mr. McDonald) was strongly of the opinion that if Mr. Wise brought his case before the courts he would be awarded the seat he had been tricked out of. Mr. McDonald referred to the Belfast and Murray Harbor Railway and said he was glad that the people living in those sections of the country were about to receive the benefits of railway communication with other parts of the province. But it seemed to him that it would have been very much better for the Government to have surveyed the whole line from Southport to Murray Harbor and have the matter settled and not keep it dangling over the people for political purposes. He thought a great mistake had been made in regard to the bridge across the Hillsborough. To make the bridge of any use to the people of Southport it should have been built from Southport ferry wharf to Prince Street wharf on the Charlottetown side. The present site would involve a distance of about three miles from the village of Southport to the City of Charlottetown, and for those crossing on foot he thought they would still prefer the ferry to the new order of things. He remarked that the Leader of the Government took great credit to himself for making a saving in the Administration of Justice. But he (Mr. McDonald) could not see how the Leader could claim any credit in that respect as the whole expenditure would depend on how much crime might be committed in a year. When very little crime was committed the expenses in that respect would be very light. On the other hand, if a great deal of crime should happen to be committed the expenses in that respect would naturally increase. He might just as well claim credit for the good crops we had last year as for the saving made in the Administration of Justice. He noticed that the sum of fifteen thousand dollars had been placed in the estimates for roads. That amount he considered, ought to be enough; but looking at the estimates as tabled as nothing more than a farce, as the Government or the Commissioner of Public Work did not adhere to them. For instance in 1893, when there was a local election in the country, $15,000 was voted by the House; but when we got hold of the Public Accounts we found that instead of $15,000, the Government spent on roads and for no other purpose the sum of $42,971.42. In the Fort Augustus District one Supervisor, for District No. 8, spent $3,621.54. The previous year a few hundred dollars did the work. But in the year of the election it took the above sum which makes it suspiciously like as if the moneys were used for other purposes than that of putting the roads in repair. In that year the sum of $16,821.51 was spent in Queen's County alone for roads, or as much as was spent for the whole province in the previous year. The other counties had their proportionate share of the moneys spent in that year, but not in such a lavish manner as in Queen's County. In regard to the roads in the District that he had the honor to represent he might say that some of them were fairly well attended to; but some of them were allowed to go to wreck and ruin, more especially the small trunks and culverts which in many cases are in a deplorable condition. In regard to the condition of the Main Western Road or that part of it lying in the Third District of Prince he said it was in very bad condition, as the drains were allowed to fill up, and in consequence some fields or parts of fields along those parts of said road were flooded at times to the great disadvantage of the farmers whose farms are so affected. The Supervisor for that section of the District does not do his duty very well, as great complaints are made to the representatives of the District. The attention of the Commissioner of Public Works has been called to this matter several times, but all to no purpose. The Supervisor is allowed to do the business according to his own sweet will although the people may suffer every inconvenience on that account. In Lot 18 our roads are fairly well kept, and are pretty generally in good repair. Our Supervisor seems inclined to do his work fairly and well, and he thought that if the Government would allow him to use his own judgment there would be very little cause for complaint. Some of our culverts are in a bad state, and should be at once attended to. If this is not done it will be more the fault of the Government than that of the Supervisor. Mr. McDonald also referred to the proposition made by the member for St. Peter's in regard to bur schools. He (the member for St. Peter's) said that thirty-five or forty schools would be quite sufficient for the whole province. Now the whole number of schools in the Province is something over 500, so the electors can see at a glance that if Mr. A. Peters, the member for St. Peter's, had his way the system of education would be destroyed, for if we were only to have 40 schools, people in the Third District of Prince could not expect more than two schools under the new order of things. But as will be seen, the whole scheme of the member for St. Peter's would bring our school system into ridicule, and it is to be hoped that he is not serious, at least for the sake of the young and rising generation. After expressing the hope that a better state of things would come into effect in regards to our roads and bridges, and that the Commissioner of Public Works will see in future that his officers will be made to do their duty fairly and impartially more especially the supervisors, he resumed his seat.

Mr. G. DesRoches took exception to the Premier's reflections upon the Opposition regarding the scenes of the first two days of the session. We are here, said he, to do business, and it is time to get down to business. The farmers are taxed and they expect their roads, wharves and bridges to be kept in good order. We collect yearly $30,000 or $40,000. The farmers of Queen's County pay $11,000 per year, Prince $9,000 and King's $6,750. He advocated the levying of a poll tax on the floating population, which really holds the balance of power but pays no taxes. Prince County received for wharves $104, and for roads $4,534. He condemned the road machines as they are at present utilized. If the money spent on road machines were spent on the Western road it would be a boon to the province. We must first consider that our revenue must come from the tillers of the soil. The Government is piling up a debt against the province at the rate of $30,000 or $40,000 per year. If the debt keeps rolling up we will soon have to pay $50,000 a year interest. It is all very fine to issue debentures and pile up such a debt as will drive our young men away from this country. The parties were 13 to 13 when we came into this House as compared with 7 to 23 a few years ago. The people are watching the representatives of the people. The people know the wrongs that are being perpetrated by the men whom they entrusted. Since meeting here a little speculation had taken place. He supposed the smartest men got the prize and would continue to hold the government.
