CONSUMPTION cure would be a truthful name to give Dr. Pierce's golden medical discovery, the most efficacious medicine yet discovered for arresting the early development of pulmonary disease. But consumption cure would not sufficiently indicate the scope of its influence and usefulness. In all the many diseases which spring from a derangement of the liver and blood the discovery is a safe and sure specific. Druggists.

TWO young lads named Henderson and Lane had a row on Richmond Street near Hillsborough Park, yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Lane struck Henderson on the back of the head, near the left ear, with a heavy stone, and knocked him senseless. Henderson was immediately picked up and Dr. Johnston was summoned. On the doctor's arrival he found the lad suffering from many of the symptoms of compression of the brain, and his right side completely paralysed. There was a large protuberance on the head where he had been hit, but there was no cut and no external bleeding. The lad continued unconscious for several hours, and his life was in great danger. However, it is progressing favorably, and that this morning, when Dr. Johnson called, he found him much improved. This practice of stone throwing is altogether too prevalent in this city. Passing teams and pedestrians are often the victims of the small boy's love of mischief. It is to be hoped that the authorities will take hold of this nuisance at once and stamp it out. The narrow escape of the lad Henderson should spur them on.

LONDON, June 22. Among the presents received by the Queen was one of £75,000 subscribed by three million women. Her Majesty accepted this and graciously thanked the donors. The Queen left Buckingham Palace this evening and went to Windsor Castle. At different stations along the route she was cheered by enthusiastic crowds. At the children's fête in honor of the Jubilee to-day in Hyde Park 30,000 little ones were present. The Prince and Princess of Wales, their sons, daughters and a number of Royal guests visited the Park. The children freed themselves from restraint, broke the rope barriers, rushed pell mell towards the visitors, and packed themselves in solid groups around them. The Prince and Princess, who seemed delighted at their position, mixed among the children with perfect freedom.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Dramatic.

SIR,—It is so evident that the criticism you published last night of the "Lady of Lyons" was written or prompted by a professional actor, the source of it is not difficult to trace. You have doubtless entrusted the task to one whom you considered to be by training capable of the work, and have not detected what is very evident to many—that animus taints the writer's remarks. I am in no way interested in either the actors, nor the cause for which they acted; I care nothing whether they acted well or badly as judged from a professional standpoint, but two facts cannot be challenged, viz: that the public generally think that Mr. Coburn, Miss Scott and Miss Kate Scott acted splendidly (erring as they may seem to be to the enlightened writer of yesterday) and that it is very bad taste, to say needlessly unkind things about those who did so well in a charitable cause. I grant it is unfair to praise indiscriminately. I grant it is absurd to gloss over imperfections, but when professional actors undertake at great trouble, inconvenience and loss of time to help along a local charitable cause which clashes with nothing more deserving, I express but the general opinion when I say that a needlessly adverse and possibly untrue criticism from a rival professional is out of place, ungentlemanly and certain to produce the very opposite result to what was intended by the writer. Kindness for kindness, charity for charity, good will for good will.

INDEX.

[Our correspondent is wide in the mark as to the writer of the criticism in THE EXAMINER, and also as to the animus complained of. There was nothing "unkind" in our criticism of yesterday—nothing but what those concerned may take to heart and profit by.]

MISS JENNIE MCGARRY arrived from Montreal via Point du Chene last evening, and is staying at the Bevere House. Her entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Hall to-night, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, should draw the elite of Charlottetown, as Miss McGarry's evenings have always done in Montreal, Toronto, and all the leading cities in Canada and the New England States. Mrs. Percy J. A. Lear will sing amongst other songs "The Scottish Blue Bell," a favorite "air, suitable for all, including Scotchmen. Remember, Y. M. C. A. Hall, at 8 o'clock sharp, this (Thursday) evening.

AMONG the freight by steamer from Point du Chene to P. E. Island yesterday was a car load of harvesting machinery. During the course of each season an immense quantity of farm machinery, almost wholly from Ontario, is sent to the Island. Why is it that with coal and iron in abundance, and superior facilities for manufacturing, not only the Island but the other maritime provinces should so largely depend upon Ontario for farm machinery? Surely this need not be and would not be if the matter was energetically taken hold of by maritime capitalists.—Moncton Times.

THE PEOPLE SAY

—That those who intend flying their colors on Jubilee days had better look after their flag poles and halyards in time. —That there were more bare poles than colors on the 21st. —That a big run is soon expected on beaver hats for the mammoth procession. —That the Militia and Firemen are expected to join said procession. —That as the milk gets poorer the milkman gets richer. —That the Summerside Pioneer, the Pietou News and the Moncton Transcript have formed a mutual admiration society. —That it's a clear case of you praise me and I'll praise you. —That—well, such is vanity. —That one of our embryo Blackstones went fishing on Tuesday. —That he got one trout. —That a certain tinker is working a horse which is badly injured about the neck. —That the truckman has promised to give the animal a rest. —That up to the present he has not kept his promise. —That it is time some action were taken in the matter.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

HOW IT WAS CELEBRATED.

THE Queen's Jubilee celebration commenced in Halifax on Tuesday. The weather was beautiful. An immense number of strangers, among whom were many Islanders, were in the city. The proceedings commenced with a turn-out of the British veterans which was followed by a gathering of the pupils of the public schools. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the Mayor and other gentlemen delivered appropriate addresses, and a jubilee ode, composed by City Auditor Bell, was read. There were upwards of 3000 pupils on the grand stand, and the proceedings, which was witnessed by an immense number of people, were one of the most pleasing attractions of the celebration.

Next came the military review on the Common. All the forces in the city, both militia and regulars, were on hand. At twelve a salute of fifty guns was fired by the war-ships in port, and soon after a feu de joie from the regiments on the field made things pretty lively for the space of five minutes or more. Marching and counter-marching was then proceeded with for upwards of an hour and a half, the many thousands of spectators returning to town about two o'clock.

A baseball match and trotting races were among the attractions of the afternoon. The proceedings closed with a grand concert in the gardens.

The war-ships in the harbor were decorated with bunting. The U. P. Co.'s hall was beautifully illuminated and decorated. Picnic was celebrated Her Majesty's Jubilee in a becoming manner. At 10 o'clock the academy students and school children dressed in white and carrying wreaths, banners, etc., mustered at the academy square and formed themselves into a large circle, and headed by the band and hook and ladder company, marched through the streets to the custom house square. Then came singing, the firing of a salute, and a jubilee address by Mayor Elliott.

During the afternoon most of the people witnessed the horse races at the park. In the evening there was a grand display of fireworks and other illuminations, and a torchlight procession, in which all the various societies took part. Many of the stores were beautifully decorated, and flags were flying from several public and private buildings, and also from the ships in port. The whole celebration was a magnificent success, and to the committee who had charge of it is due great praise, for they worked hard. The children's procession was said to be the grandest sight ever seen in a city in Canada. In St. John the proceedings consisted of a grand military display, polymorphian procession, fireworks, etc.

"The Mikado."

A sparkling and rattling performance of this opera last night pleased a very large audience. Frequent and warm applause marked the delight and amusement which every one felt. The company is a good one. Mr. Alfred Whelan is particularly good as Koko, keeping the fun going from beginning to end with his facial versatility, his comical mode of speaking a song, his activity and general drollery. He danced, he skipped, he jumped, he wiggled, he waggled, and the people laughed, shrieked and applauded—and so he went on through both acts. Miss Lulu Stevens is a very fetching and pretty Yum-Yum, with a way about her that is very taking. Miss Hattie Starr's Pitti-sing is capital. Poo-Bah is particularly well sung by Mr. Douglass Flint, who has a fine, rich voice, and plenty of it. Mr. C. Harris is about as pleasant and facetious a Mikado as one wants to meet, while Kati-ash is successfully personated by Miss Augusta Roche, who has a sweet and very pleasing voice. Mr. George Travermer's Nanki Poo is good. Mr. Travermer has a pleasant tenor voice, and uses it to advantage. All through the performance was most entertaining, the choruses were good, and the concerted pieces went smoothly. The scenery was very pretty and fresh, and the costuming above the average.—Halifax Herald, 22nd.
