

Saskatchewan Bombs Winnipeg Bombers

By JIM NEAVES
REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders, playing before a record 20,000 fans, Sunday took a decisive 38-14 Western Football Conference victory over the league's 1965 champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

The previous Taylor Field attendance record was 18,360, set two years ago in a game against British Columbia Lions.

The win gave the Roughriders top spot in the early season standings with four points. The Bombers have two points.

Ron Lancaster threw three touchdown passes, to flanker Hugh Campbell for Saskatchewan, playing its first home game this year.

Other Saskatchewan touchdowns were scored by guard Al Benecick on a fumbled punt reception and George Reed on a 42-yard run. Jack Abendschan converted four touchdowns and added a single and a field goal.

Winnipeg touchdowns went to fullback Art Perkins and halfback Dave Raimy, who completed a 95-yard pass-and-run play to score. Norm Winton converted both.

FAILS ON THIRD DOWN
The Bombers failed on three third down and short-yardage situations, twice when Saskatchewan stopped them at the line and the last time on an interception by linebacker Ken Reed.

The only other interception of the game also went to the Roughriders, defensive halfback Gene Wlasiuk grabbing it near the end of the contest.

The Roughriders went ahead 14-7 in the first quarter, 22-7 in the second, and were up 29-14 after the third.

Lancaster gained 192 yards in the air on 10 of 16 pass completions.

Ken Ploen was good on 17 of 29 passes for 326 yards, 96 of them coming on Raimy's touchdown run when he got a short sideline pass and went all the way. Raimy gained a total of 166 yards on six passes. Farrell Funsten grabbed five passes for 79 yards.

The Roughriders had 19 first downs, Winnipeg 15. The Blue Bombers gained only 31 yards rushing, 30 of them in the last half. Saskatchewan made 279 yards rushing.

The Riders were penalized seven times for 55 yards and the Bombers lost 35 yards on five infractions.

UN Commission Summons Experts

By GEOFFREY ATKINS
GENEVA (AP) — Pills and tranquilizers, daily strengthening their hold on modern society, now are regarded by experts as a menace on a par with notorious drugs such as opium and heroin.

The United Nations narcotics commission is so alarmed by the massive misuse of pharmaceutical preparations that it has summoned experts from 110 countries to deal with the problem.

They open their five-day meeting here today. The experts will discuss the possibility of securing international control, if necessary through treaties, of a wide range of tranquilizers, stimulants and barbiturates.

They will also discuss the problem of hallucinatory drugs, such as LSD 25, which has recently hit the headlines in the United States, Canada and elsewhere.

It is virtually impossible for unauthorized persons to secure such a drug from a reputable manufacturer, who supplies it only for legitimate research purposes. But the problem is that LSD 25 is so simple to make that any unscrupulous chemist could prepare and sell it secretly.

"DESTROY ILLUSION"
Above all, the United Nations commission wants to destroy the illusion that such preparations can permanently improve the mind.

The gathering is an unprecedented step on the part of the UN commission which has hitherto dealt only with narcotic drugs.

A spokesman for the commission explained:

"This modern age is completely mechanized. For the basic essentials of life we depend on mechanization. But all machines are operated and supervised by man."

"A man under the influence of a drug—whether a pep pill or a sedative—is undergoing a change of mind. And this change obviously influences his control over machinery."

EFFECT COUNTERS
"Every day a man under the influence of barbiturates, driving a car, kills himself or somebody else. The fact that he is not addicted to the drug or that his health is not impaired is utterly irrelevant. It is the eventual effect on society which counts."

The experts have a series of recommendations before them:

- These substances should be available, in all countries, on medical prescriptions only.
- There should be a full accounting of all transactions from production to retail distribution.
- Limitation of trade to authorized persons.
- Prohibition of non-authorized possession.
- Establishment of an import-export authorization system.

Official Expresses Opinion
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ambassador William C. Herrington, special assistant to the under-secretary for fisheries and wildlife, says he feels the Russians are willing to cooperate with the United States on fish resources.

Herrington says the Russians are as concerned as the United States over potential damage to fish resources.

Herrington was recently named an ambassador by President Johnson to meet with the Russians on conservation matters.

Soviet negotiators agreed last week to recommend to Russian fishermen that they stay at least 12 miles off the Washington-Oregon coast and not fish for salmon.

Although the United States claims territorial water rights only three miles from shore, Russia and many other countries claim more. Efforts have been made to have Congress increase the United States' claim to 12 miles or more.

Herrington, who was in Moscow last week, told the Commonwealth Club Friday: "I don't believe the Russians want to antagonize all the coastal states where they intend to be fishing. There are too many of them."

Cyclists Create Turmoil
MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Unruly motorcyclists raced their machines through bonfires, invaded taverns and swam in the nude early Sunday at the site of the national motorcycle hill climb.

Eleven men and a girl were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. Muskegon County sheriff's men said some were swimming nude in Lake Michigan near the site of the event and others took a motorcycle away from a man and used it for joyriding.

Hundreds of riders, part of the estimated 1,000 spectators who came to see 100 top cyclists compete in the 25th annual championships on Mount Garfield in the west Michigan community, roared through Muskegon streets.

Deputies said about 20 riders invaded a private country club, the Pontaluna Country Club, at about midnight Saturday night and toppled chairs, grabbed food and drinks from patrons and barged out without paying for drinks.

Seven other taverns reported trouble.

About 50 deputies and police officers, armed with tear gas, riot guns and rifles, watched over the area Sunday.

WESTERN FUNERALS
GALLANT FUNERAL — The funeral for Ephrem Gallant was held Sunday from the Compton Funeral Home to St. John's, the Baptist Church, Miscouche, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated at 4 p.m. by Rev. John D. Kelly. Pallbearers were Gerald Poirier, Tilma Des-Roches, Grant Travers, Charles MacDonald, Gusse Blaquiere and Phil LeClair. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Winnipeg Bombers
The Bombers failed on three third down and short-yardage situations, twice when Saskatchewan stopped them at the line and the last time on an interception by linebacker Ken Reed.

DANGEROUS

AMMUNITION

ARSENAL BURIED AT TIGNISH?

The sign shown above is erected at Little Tignish River, a few miles southeast of Tignish, on the scenic Lady's Slipper Drive. Reports indicate that a fisherman at the popular trout fishing river first spotted what is apparently buried World War II ammunition, when workmen were building a new bridge over the river. Apparently nothing has been done to remove the ammunition. Local rumor has it that the ammunition was placed in the area when the Air Radar Base at St. Felix was closed about 20 years ago.

WRONG KIND OF BULL
PAURI - GARHWAL, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi is in trouble with some cow-worshippers. Local members of her ruling Congress party, on hearing by radio that she hit a bull's eye with a carbine on a weapons factory election as constable in this she had just inaugurated, condemned her for a "dastardly act."

CONSCIENCE MONEY
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The local recreation department received $3 in cash in the mail. With the money was an unsigned note which said: "I stole a football a long time ago."

BEAT HAS BEEN LONG
SUPERIOR, Ariz. (AP) — Alex Arnett, 86, is running for reelection as constable in this mining town. He's been town sheriff or constable for all but a few years since 1906. "In all those years I never killed a man," he said. "A few were shot up pretty bad, though."

Oyster Festival Very Successful

SUMMERSIDE — The choosing of Millicent Ramsay of Tyne Valley as Oyster Queen for 1966, a fireworks display and a dance in the Tyne Valley Community Sports Centre climaxed this year's Oyster Festival Saturday night.

A total of 22 districts took part in the Festival, which began Thursday night with a boxing extravaganza featuring Blair Richardson, Canadian middleweight boxing champion and a world middleweight contender, who sparred six exhibition rounds with Ron Brothers, Maritime heavyweight champion.

The main event on this card saw Walter "Peanuts" Arsenault of Summerside take a unanimous decision from Bud Ramsay of Alberton.

Friday's features were an old-time fiddling and step-dancing competition and the preliminary judging of the Oyster Queen contestants from 12 districts.

Saturday a track and field meet was held at Ellerslie Legion field in the morning followed by the big parade in the afternoon.

Featured every day at the festival were lobster and oyster dinners, the midway, and displays by the federal and provincial departments of fisheries.

Mishaps Claim 54 Persons
By THE CANADIAN PRESS
At least 54 persons died in accidents across Canada during the weekend.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Friday to 11 p.m. Sunday local times shows 41 died in traffic accidents, seven drowned, one died in a fire and five in miscellaneous mishaps.

Ontario had 13 accidental deaths, nine in traffic, three drownings and one woman who died after she was struck by a boat propeller.

Five died on Quebec roads: two drowned, a father, son and daughter killed in a plane crash, and a young boy died when hit by a train.

British Columbia had nine deaths—eight in traffic and one drowning.

Four persons died in traffic in Saskatchewan, three in Alberta and one in Manitoba. There was also a drowning in Alberta.

Six died in New Brunswick in traffic: two in Nova Scotia and three in Newfoundland. One person died in a fire in Newfoundland while Princes Edward Island was fatality-free.

The survey does not include natural or industrial deaths, known suicides or slayings.
