The Quebec Daily Telegraph has a lengthy obituary of Mrs. Langlais, whose death occurred in that city on the 12th inst., after only two hours' illness. Mrs. Langlais was in her thirty-third year when called away. She was the wife of Mr. J. F. A. Langlais, of the firm of J. A. Langlais & Fils, wholesale stationers, Quebec, and a sister of Mr. E. E. Maloney, the well-known commercial traveller. Mrs. Langlais was a graduate of the Ursuline Convent, and was a highly accomplished lady. She possessed a voice of remarkable power and sweetness, and was a prominent member of the choir of St. Patrick's Cathedral. She also took a leading part in many of the concerts given in Quebec. Her bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of all.

All the World loves a Lover. And it is because the lover is generous. And a very considerable section of the world is discovering that the Bordeaux Claret Co's wines, sold at the incredibly low cost of $3. and $4. the dozen quarts, have that generous spirit which is so valuable in the strengthening of the system, in the making of blood, in the giving hope and courage. Just half the price asked by dealers for wines not so good. Do not pay for a label. Get a good, fruity, old wine for prices which considering how wine has been sold in this country, may fairly be called nominal. Address: Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital St., Montreal. 135 & w.

Entered Aug 19—SS Tiber, Delisle, Montreal; King, Roberts, Delisle, Susan, of the Davies; McPherson, Tataranogich, Rhinans, Henderson, Wallace, Tarnin, Lourie, Pictou; Speedway, Campbell, Brae.

Cleared. Aug 19—J. A. G. C. Langill, Wallace, Julia A. Finlayson, Pinette, Hyira, Boudreau, Pictou; George Harold, Bonnell, Sydney, Warrior, Jackson, Halifax; ss Tiber, Delisle, Montreal; Daniel, Roberts, Wallace, Speedway, Campbell, Brae.

DIED. At New Acadia, on the 16th inst., Thomas Curtis, infant child of Henry and Margaret L. Fitzgerald, aged 7 months and 15 days.

In Quebec, on the 12th inst., at the age of 32 years, Nora Maloney, beloved wife of J. F. A. Langlais, of the firm of J. A. Langlais & Fils.

THE CHIEFSHIP OF THE MACNEILS OF BARRA.

After the death of General Macneil, in 1863, the chiefship of the Macneils of Barra passed over to the lineal representative of Roderick Macneil, of Brevaig Roderick son of Gillean son of Roderick of Barra.

Roderick Macneil, of Brevaig, married Margaret Macdonald, by whom he had five children, Rory Og, Gallion, Lachlan, Catherine and Margaret. Roderick, the eldest son, was married to Margaret, daughter of Angus Macneil, of Barra, in 1802. He landed at Pictou, He lived during the winter of 1802-3 at Pictou, in Prince Edward Island. In 1803 he bought a farm of 300 acres at Vernon River in Prince Edward Island, and settled on it with his family. He divided the farm between Rory Og and Gallion. He gave 200 acres to the former and 100 to the latter.

Rory Og came to Prince Edward Island with his father in 1802. He was an educated and intelligent man. He taught school in Cape Breton and other places during several years. He married, in 1811, Catherine MacEachern, by whom he had eight children, Margaret, Roderick, Mary, Lachlan, Catherine, Janet, Ann and Donald. He lived at Vernon River. He was for some time a member of the House of Assembly. He was very highly respected. He died in 1850. Roderick, his eldest son, was a merchant. He was married. Lachlan, second son of Rory Og, married Isabel Macpherson, by whom he had four sons, Roderick, Angus, Lachlan, and Donald. He died October 24th, 1892, in the 73rd year of his age. Roderick, eldest son of Lachlan, married Catherine Ann Campbell, and has six sons. He lives at Vernon River.

Gallion, son of Roderick of Brevaig, came to Prince Edward Island with his father in 1802. He was a merchant. He married Margaret, daughter of Hector Og Macneil, of Earsary, by whom he had two sons, James and Roderick. He died in 1861. James, his eldest son, was married and had three sons, Gallion, Angus and Roderick. James died a few months ago. Gallion, his eldest son, lives at Vernon River.

Lachlan, son of Roderick of Brevaig, enlisted in the army at Quebec. He died without issue. Catherine, daughter of Roderick of Brevaig, was married in Barra to Angus Macneil. She came with her husband and family to Cape Breton. Margaret, daughter of Roderick of Brevaig, was married to Angus Chisholm, of Vernon River. Mr. Chisholm left Vernon River and went to live in Keppoch, in the County of Antigonish, Nova Scotia.

Roderick Macneil, of Vernon River, Roderick, son of Lachlan, son of Rory Og, tells me that Rory Og was the eldest son of Roderick of Brevaig, that he was born in 1777, that he was four years older than Gallion his brother, that he died in 1850, and that he was at the time of his death, 73 years of age. Gallion Macneil, of Vernon River, Gallion, son of James son of Roderick of Brevaig, tells me that Gallion was the eldest son of Roderick of Brevaig. Of course I am not in a position to settle the point in dispute. I think, however, there must be some way of arriving at the truth. On the one hand it is somewhat probable that Roderick of Brevaig, would have named his eldest son Gallion after his own father. On the other hand, I am informed by a disinterested person that Rory Og always maintained that in case General Macneil should die without male issue he himself or his lineal representative would be chief of the Macneils of Barra. But guesses and rumors are no proofs. There must surely be some old persons who could give such evidence as would enable us to know which of the two brothers, Rory Og and Gallion, was the elder. Until this point be determined I must bid farewell to the Macneils of Barra.

THE TAIL Should Go With the Hide

Is a homely saying, but evidently thought something of by the Customs authorities at Ottawa, as they have decided to charge (in addition to the duty of 3c per pound on barbed wire) an extra duty of 20 per cent on the wooden spools holding the wire. But it makes no difference in our price to the buyer, as we are still giving away the spools, and next thing to giving away the wire. If you want good wire, buy the American.
