

HIS HONOUR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR PROWSE PRESSES SWITCH

Starts Guardian Press At Formal Opening Ceremony

His Honour Lieutenant Governor Prowse turned pressman on Saturday when he touched a button which started the Guardian press rolling off copies of the special edition marking the formal opening and dedication of the new Guardian building on Prince Street.

The ceremony was held in the spacious newsroom of the building which was suitably decorated for the occasion. About 200 guests representing the Government, the Judiciary, the clergy, Agriculture and other activities throughout the Province were in attendance.

After the ceremony the visitors were taken on a conducted tour of the building during which they expressed keen interest in the newspaper's operation. Mr. Ian Burnett, General Manager of The Guardian, presided and welcomed the guests.

The special speaker at the opening of the new building was Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell. He was introduced by Hon. A. W. Matheson, Premier of the Province. Hon. Mr. Campbell's speech appeared elsewhere in this issue.

Lieutenant Governor Prowse brought greetings on behalf of the Province. His Worship Mayor Stewart extended congratulations on behalf of the City and other municipalities.

After the singing of the National Anthem, Rev. T. H. B. Somers, M. A., S.T.M., offered a prayer of dedication. Seated on the platform with the speakers were Rev. Monsignor R. V. MacKenzie, Mr. S. L. McCabe, General Manager of The Thomson Company and Mr. Frank Walker, editor of The Guardian who tendered thanks to the Chief Justice for his address.

Following the ceremony and tour of the building, the visitors were guests of The Guardian at an enjoyable buffet supper at the Charlottetown Hotel.

GOVERNOR'S GREETINGS In bringing greetings on behalf of the Province, the Lieutenant Governor expressed a hearty welcome to the distinguished visitors from outside the Island.

He noted that the Guardian which he described as a long honored institution in Prince Edward Island has been growing by leaps and bounds through the years since its first publication and was now literally "covering the island like the dew."

Fire Causes Damage To Icebreaker

MONTREAL (CP)—Fire broke out Sunday aboard the icebreaker C. D. Howe and burned for several hours before being brought under control. No one was injured.

The crew began busily unloading supplies destined for the Arctic shortly after the blaze was extinguished. Officials said estimate of damage will not be available until the ship is completely unloaded.

Cause of the blaze, on the second deck, was not known. The blaze was fought by the Montreal fire department and the ship's fire brigade.

The icebreaker was loaded last week and was to sail Tuesday for northern waters. She was to take 105 Eskimo patients to their homes.

Britain To Honor V.C.'s This Week

LONDON (Reuter) — Britain today will do honor to battle heroes from all parts of the British Commonwealth who have gathered here for week-long celebrations marking the anniversary of the Victoria Cross, the country's highest award for valor.

Observances begin on Monday with a Thanksgiving service in Westminster Abbey at which the address will be given by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher.

Other ceremonies are scheduled throughout the week. On Tuesday Queen Elizabeth will review a parade of VCs in London's Hyde Park. The same afternoon, the anniversary of the day in 1857 when Queen Victoria made the first presentation of the cross, Queen Elizabeth and other members of the royal family will attend a garden party for the medal-holders and their relatives.

For days now ships and planes have been bringing the VCs to London. In many cases the award was made posthumously, and sons and widows of the dead will represent them at the ceremonies.

Heading the Canadian contingent of 35 is Lt. Gen. Sir Richard Turner of Quebec City, 85 and one of the most decorated soldiers Canada has produced. He won his VC fighting in the Boer War and later was on of Canada's foremost commanders in Europe during the first World War.

Other Canadian VCs in London include Lt. Col. John Foot, Ontario minister of reform institutions.

Western Air Chiefs See Seven New Soviet Planes

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia showed Western air leaders seven new jet fighters Saturday—three of them triangle-shaped flying wings never seen before.

Howling low over grassy fields, the new jets stole the Soviet Aviation Day show from older bombers, elaborate mass aerobics, parachute jumping and a troop-landing exercise by 40 helicopters.

High British, American and French Air Force officers, who flew specially to Moscow for the 90-minute show, were among the crowd of 200,000 watching the display at Moscow's Tushino military airfield.

Western observers speculated that the three-delta-winged jets would be easily supersonic. One observer suggested a speed of about 680 miles an hour.

ALL EXPERIMENTAL The three delta-wings varied slightly in nose design but all had a wing design with a sharply-angled leading edge and straight trailing edge that gave them the look of flying triangles. All appeared to have conventional tail plane assemblies.

All three planes were clearly experimental, carrying test instruments in the nose. British officials compared them with Britain's Fairey Delta II which now holds the world speed record of 1,332 miles per hour.

The other four jets were new modifications of Soviet fighter designs seen in previous Aviation Day exhibitions.

Two were enlarged versions of the sonic "Farmer" jet fighter, a development of the MIG series. The other two were re-designed versions of the Soviet "flashlight," a heavy all-weather fighter.

Civil aviation was represented by the TU-104, the twin-jet airliner which, caused a stir in Western aviation circles when it flew to London during the Soviet leadership.

Dedication Prayer

Offered by the Rev. T.H.B. Somers at the formal opening and dedication of the new Guardian Building on Saturday afternoon:
"Almighty and Everlasting God, we invoke Thy gracious favour and blessing upon this institution at this milestone of our history. For all who have given of mind and heart and hand in days 'one by one' to make it a useful servant of the common good, we thank Thee. For all advance in the science and skill of communications, we bless Thy Holy Name."

"O God, we pray Thee for the place in which we dwell, the city and land of our love and pride. We rejoice in her spacious 'auty and her busy ways, where hand and heart in toil and heart joins heart in home for rest and love. Help us to make this land a fairer place in which to live—bind our people by the glow of neighbourly goodwill, by the thrill of common joys, by the pride of common achievement. May Canada go from strength to strength not only in the abundance of material possessions but in the justice of her institutions, the soundness of her undertakings, the wholesome brotherhood of her sons and daughters. Make her rich in the treasures of the mind, make her mighty in the things of the spirit."

"To this, end direct and bless, we beseech Thee, O Lord, those who in our generation speak where many listen and write what many read; illumine, we pray Thee, and inspire all thinkers, writers, artists and craftsmen, that they may do their part in making the heart of this people wise, its mind sound, and its will righteous; that in whatsoever is true and pure and lovely, Thy name may be hallowed and Thy glory set forth. Especially we pray Thee to grant the fulness of Thy wisdom and grace to those who direct the policies and administer the affairs of this newspaper—save them from all error and ignorance, from prejudice and lack of rational control. By their love of truth, by their striving after justice, by their following earnestly wherever light may lead may Thy kingdom be advanced and Thy name be honoured. Prosper this industry, we pray Thee, O God, that our community may be the richer for its success and our people the happier for its service. As Thy glorious Son, our Lord, plied toil and trade on earth so give to all that labour, pride in their work, a just reward, and joy both in supplying human need and in serving Thee, their God and Saviour."

"O Thou, who rulest in the Kingdoms of men, grant, we most humbly beseech Thee, honour and safety to Thy servant, our sovereign Lady, the Queen; peace throughout this nation and the commonwealth of her peoples; promotion to true religion; encouragement to learning and godly living; a patient service to the larger needs of all mankind; and by these and other means, glory to Thy holy name; for His sake, to Whom Thou hast given all power in heaven and earth, our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen."
