Maritime Junior Final

OLD Spain Penguins are playing Hoyt's Movers today in Dartmouth and Sunday in Halifax in the first of a best-of-five series for the Maritime junior hockey championship and the right to represent the Maritimes in Eastern Conference playdowns against the winners of the Ottawa and District loop.

The locals came through with flying colors Thursday night in Fredericton. They had gone to the New Brunswick capital with a scanty one-goal lead but they showed the New Brunswickers they were no 'homers' as they beat the Monarchs 5-3 before a surprised Fredericton crowd.

TO be absolutely truthful, we were a bit skeptical about the Penguins' chances in the tussle Thursday. They had missed so many great opportunities here on Tuesday that we were beginning to wonder if it was in the books for them.

We talked with coach 'Bucko' Trainor and public relations man, Ivan Doherty, by phone after the game and both had volumes of praise for the way the locals played on enemy ice. Trainor had special praise for goalie Carl McQuaid and defenceman Lloyd 'Toy Toy' Gallant. According to "Bucko" these two boys were the big cogs in the Penguins' machine Thursday. McQuaid, getting his baptism in junior competition, was nothing short of sensational and 'Toy Toy' rocked the opposition every time they ventured over that Charlottetown line.

It was a great victory to rack up. Folks were not too optimistic when the Birds managed only a one-goal bulge here in the opener. But the Penguins insisted they'd play better on Fredericton ice and they were as good as their word.

Doherty Is Happy

IVAN Doherty tells us that he got a terrific thrill out of this Old Spain triumph. He maintains the boys fought like trojans all evening and the victory was surely well merited. Doherty has gone to Dartmouth and Halifax with the club and Ivan figures his outfit can at least gain a split on the ice of the Nova Scotians. If they can they should be able to come back to The Sports Arena and wrap up the Maritime crown.

However, things will be tough in Dartmouth and Halifax. These Movers are said to be a hard hitting outfit and they're going to be hard to conquer. This should be especially true in Dartmouth and Halifax where the Nova Scotians know every nook and corner of the ice surfaces.

But the locals are not going into this series with any notion of defeat. If they can't win the Maritime crown, they are going to give it a terrific battle before letting Hoyt's grab the Moncton Transcript trophy, emblematic of junior hockey supremacy in the Maritime provinces.

Quite a few folks are making the trip to see the Juniors in action in Dartmouth and Halifax. Today's game in Dartmouth starts at 2 o'clock and Sunday action in Halifax Forum at 7.30.

Two Players Hurt

THE Penguins lost the services of Ronnie Dawson in Thursday's game in Fredericton. Ronnie suffered a leg injury that will likely keep him out of any further action this season. Gary Bursey, the Moncton junior, was injured in Tuesday's action here, and coach Trainor doesn't think the New Brunswicker will get into action in the series with Hoyt's Movers. That's a big blow to the Old Spainers and it will put an extra load on the rest of the boys.

However, sometimes youngsters like playing under pressure and the Birds may be able to overcome the opposi ion despite these injuries.

Prince Edward Island sports fans are pulling for the Penguins to bring a Maritime crown to the province.

On Stanley Cup Front

AND before we chat with you again, two more semi-final games will have been played in the Stanley Cup competition.

On their play Thursday night, we look for Montreal Canadiens to break into the victory column over Toronto Maple Leafs and we think Detroit Red Wings will put a stop to these winning ways of Chicago Black Hawks.

The Leafs-Canadiens game in tonight and Hawks and Wings tangle Sunday evening.

Leaf Club Plans Disappearing Act

By BILL MacDOUGALL

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs plan a disappearing act between the third and fourth games of their Stanley Cup semi-final against Montreal Canadiens.

Wary of over-zealous fans in Montreal where the teams play tonight's third game of the best-of-seven series, Toronto manager-coach Punch Imlach said he'll keep clear of that city after the game.

"I don't know yet where I'm going," he said Friday before the Leafs flew to Montreal. "I've got places to go but I'm not naming them."

"Frankly, I just don't want the players to be bothered. They (visiting teams) have a real easy time of it here compared to Montreal."

He also indicated that the Leafs, leading the series 2-0, won't be given the key to the city or to whichever community in which he decides to encamp.

BANS PHONE CALLS

"They're going down there to play a hockey game and that's all they have to know. 'I'm not going to let any phone calls into their rooms so if they want to talk to anyone it will have to be in the lobby."

The shift out of town is a strategy that reaches occasionally adopt during playoffs. New York Rangers tried it last spring, setting up residence 38 miles east of Toronto in Oshawa, and soon gave it up as not worth it. With a smaller hotel and a smaller city the street outside was often flooded with autograph - hunting youngsters. And there was considerable noise from an adjacent railway siding that was used once daily —at about 6 a.m.

There was some speculation the Leafs might return to Toronto to await the fourth game Tuesday night in Montreal, but this could not be confirmed. After Thursday night's second game, which Toronto won 3-2 Imlach said his between-games residence "might be Granby or Mont Tremblant or I don't know where."

Forward Johnny MacMillan out of action for the last 1½ weeks, with an elbow injury, skated without equipment Friday but Imlach said he likely won't dress tonight.

GETS EXTRA PRACTICE

He shied away from discussion of the performance of Frank Mahovlich the star left winger who has been playing poorly lately and was benched for parts of the third period Thursday night. But Mahovlich was one of a handful of Leafs who stayed on the ice for extra skating after most of the club finished practice Friday.

The Leafs coach played his usual cat-and-mouse game with reporters who asked whether Johnny Bower, who played the first two games, or Don Simmons will be in the nets. He refused to name his choice.

"You know that's something you won't find out" he said. "I've got no comments about the goaltending—I'm just happy with the way they're playing."

A few minutes earlier he was more talkative on that subject. He said that if the puck goes in to the net no matter what the circumstances "you can only blame the goaltender."

Asked whether he believes there is no such thing as a shot a netminder can't stop, the Leafs coach said: "Absolutely."

Volleyball Series Opens Today

At 1:30 this afternoon at Civic Auditorium Summerside the Charlottetown YMCA Micmacs and the Summerside Y Triangles meet to play a best four of seven series in the semi-finals of the Prince Edward Island Senior "A" Volleyball League.

The winners will meet McKenzies of Summerside next week to decide the league championship in the finals.

The Charlottetown entry goes into the semi-finals listed as favorites to down the Triangles on the strength of their strong finish in league play although the Summerside team, playing better everytime out, has other ideas about the matches today.

Both teams are expected to be in good physical shape with no serious injuries reported. The Micmacs will be relying mainly on the strong right arms of spikers Stu Lavers and Wendell McLean while Summerside depend on Ron Duggan and Gerry Hopkirk to do their hard hitting.

All three Senior island teams will be leaving next Friday for Moncton, N.B. where they will represent Prince Edward Island at the Maritime Volleyball championships. It will be the first time P.E.I. has been represented by three teams of such a high calibre and volleyball fans are looking forward to the possibility of the Maritime Championship coming to P.E.I. for the first time.

Toe Blake Still Maintains Habs Better Than Leafs

By BRUCE STOVEL

MONTREAL (CP) — Coach Toe Blake still maintains his Montreal Canadiens are a better team than Toronto Maple Leafs.

Everybody says they've got a much better team than we do," said Blake Friday. "But I don't see it. When I take two sheets of paper, and write down all the players' names, I don't see how they're better than we are in any department—goaltending, defence or whatever."

Canadiens are down 2-0 in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final against Leafs going into tonight's game here. But Blake says the series is "far from over."

"Our spirit is good. If we'd played another bad game like Tuesday, we'd be in bad shape.

"But now we know we can stay with them. We outskated them in the last two periods Thursday, and we could have beat them if it wasn't for that lucky goal."

GOAL WON GAME

The "lucky" goal was Leafs' winner in the 3-2 game, a slow-motion nudge by centre Dave Keon that beat Montreal goalie Jacques Plante.

Blake said Keon has been Toronto's "big man, no doubt about it." He said Leafs' high-scoring left winger, Frank Mahovlich, seems to be "off in one of his moods again, and as long as he stays that way, it's fine with us."

He praised Toronto's 38-year-old goalie, Johnny Bower, as "a tough clutch player."

Blake, growing more optimistic as he spoke, pointed out the Canadiens had held the same 2-0 edge over Chicago Black Hawks in last year's semi-final and dropped the next four games.

"If they can do it, we can." Blake said, "I don't think so," when asked whether defenceman Tom Johnson is likely to return in the two games in Montreal tonight and Tuesday. Johnson is recovering from a fractured neck bone.

LAUDS ROOKIES

"I don't see any reason for it anyway," said Blake. "Those two young kids (rookies Terry Harper and Jacques Lapierre) are playing terrific. I'm going to keep in there killing penalties.

"The way they're playing, I don't have any choice but to keep J. C. Tremblay as my fifth defenceman. He isn't up to his usual game."

Blake also said he wouldn't hesitate to bench 32-year-old Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion unless he shows improvement.

"I'll give him another chance," he said. "But if he doesn't show something new, off he goes. I kept him off for the last half of the game last night, and maybe I should have done it earlier."

Canadiens' only injury worry is left winger Gilles Tremblay, who took a solid jolt in the mouth Thursday night. But team physiotherapist Bill Head said Tremblay seems to have only stiff muscles in the jaw and cheeks and "most probably" will play tonight.

"I don't see any reason for it anyway," said Blake. "Those two young kids (rookies Terry Harper and Jacques Laperriere are playing terrific. I'm going to keep them in there killing penalties.

Royals Top Caps 9-5 In Penalty-Filled Tilt

Sandy's Royals walloped Fredericton Capitals 9-5 in a much-delayed and penalty filled Maritime Intermediate 'A' semi-final playoff series game at the Sports Arena.

The game originally slated to start at 8:15, never got underway till more than an hour later due to Fredericton players arriving late.

Referee Jack Kane had his hands full keeping the game under control and as a result handed out a total of 23 penalties, including four ten minute misconducts and four game misconducts. Seven of the misconducts came in the third period and all of them went to the visitors.

This was the third game of a best of five semi-final series for the N.B.-P.E.I. crown and the Royals now lead the series 2-1, having split a pair of games earlier in the week at Fredericton.

The chain reaction all started when Fredericton goalie Charlie McTavish left his cage at the 1:15 mark of the final frame and headed for his team's dressing room. While skating towards his bench he started taking off his gear and flinging it. For his actions he was slapped with a 10-minute misconduct, his second of the night and as a result was automatically out of the game. Before the smoke had cleared three other Fredericton players had drawn game misconducts and at the 14.03 mark another Fredericton player, Burns Hovey, drew a game misconduct after he and Royal defenceman Eustace Reeves had tangled. Reeves drew a major.

ROYAL SNIPER

Jim MacLeod, Apps Arsenault and Buddy MacIntyre paced the winners with a brace of goals each while Alan 'Smelt' Gillis, Eustace Reeves and Angie Carroll added singles.

Fredericton snipers were P. Boyle, R. Wheaton, Nash, Baun and Cameron.

The teams meet again this afternoon in the fourth game of the series and rumors were that the Caps would have additional strength for this contest. Game time is 2:30 sharp.

Assisting referee Kane last night were Joe Coyle and Moe Goodwin.

PUNCH RELENTS ON THREAT

TORONTO (CP) — Punch Imlach, Toronto Maple Leaf coach and manager, snapped at his team Friday when one of his shoes mysteriously disappeared and threatened to fine each of them $10.

Later he relented and said he wouldn't go through with the penalties.

When he came off the ice Friday after sending his hockey players through a skating drill in preparation for Leafs' game with Montreal tonight, Imlach searched the dressing room but remained with one unshod foot hovering in the air.

Then he said he was too busy to play games and threatened fines if he didn't get the shoe back.

The threats didn't work and Imlach hobbled to his office on one foot.

Carlos Ortis, Is Favorite

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —A confident Carlos Ortiz was a 3-1 favorite Friday to retain his world lightweight title against the challenger of Cuban contender Doug Vaillant here tonight.

This is the second defence for the 26-year-old New Yorker who was born in Puerto Rico and went to the United States when he was nine years old.

"It's always been my dream to come back to Puerto Rico and fight for a world championship," said Ortiz. "Part of the dream is that I win and that I'm confident I will."

Puerto Rican officials, aware that the attention of the world will be focused on the island's first championship contest in 24 years, have taken extra safety measures in an effort to guard against any serious injuries.

The parks and recreation administration, which governs all sports in Puerto Rico, has assigned four doctors—one for each corner—to the fight.

N.B.-P.E.I. Title At Stake Tonight

This evening at The Sports Arena at 7 o'clock sharp, Charlottetown's Juvenile Abbies will be at home to Bathurst Juveniles in a sudden-death game for the New Brunswick - P.E. Island Juvenile title and the right to move on against Nova Scotia winner in a series for the Maritime Juvenile crown.

Bathurst boys come to this City with the reputation of being a strong club but Lorne Hennessey's Abbies are a determined and experienced group of puck chasers who will certainly give a good account of themselves so everything points to a bang-up tussle when these clubs meet.

Charlottetown fans like lots of fast hockey action so tonight will give them just this.

The teams have been giving a good account of themselves everywhere they show this year so fans are urged to turn out in good numbers and boost the Juveniles. Admission will be charged and there will be an hour's skate for all following the game..

Moncton Downs Sherbrooke 5-2

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Oscar Gaudet fired three goals Friday night as Moncton Hawks beat Sherbrooke Beavers 5-2 in the first game of their best-of-five Eastern Canada Allan Cup semi-final series.

Young Gaudet has scored 76 goals in regular season and playoffs so far this year.

The fast-skating Hawks outdistanced Sherbrooke all the way until the final period, when the Beavers got both their goals, one on a penalty shot.

Moncton goalie Jean - Guy Morisette was outstanding, particularly in the second period when the Hawks were outshot 15-11 and Moncton defenceman John Ford was sitting out the period's only penalty.

Sherbrooke went on a gang attack and Morissette was called on to make three stops in rapid-fire succession, flopping around the net like a fish out of water.

Alf Flanagan and Simon Nolet scored the other Moncton goals.

Sherbrooke's goals were by Rene Pepin and Roger Picard.

Picard made the penalty shot after he was hauled down from behind by Ford on a clean breakaway.
