

Evidences of the Deluge.

There is a mountain in North Wales called Moel Tryfan, which is part of the Snowdon Range, and upon which there is a very valuable slate quarry at a height of 1,390 feet above the present level of the sea. In opening that quarry an immense bed of gravel was found upon the top. This gravel could not have been formed by mere disintegration of the soil, because it is full of sea shells as perfect as they can be found on the sea shore, dead shells, that is, not shells that apparently ever lived there, but shells both of the shore and the deep sea, which had been drifted there in the middle gravel. These shells are heaped pell mell on the gravel on the top of this mountain, and I believe that every geologist admits that this is marine gravel. I take it that it is quite a sound conclusion that the sea had been up to the top of that mountain in very recent times, or that the mountain had been down to the level of the sea. I draw a second conclusion from this fact; that the sea was not a permanent sea. It was not the case that the mountain formed the bottom of the ocean for many years because we should then have had deposits with shells living and dying, as in the case of the sea terraces described by Mr. Smith, of Jordanhill. The sea has been essentially transitory to its operation. The second of the conditions of the Deluge is in this way fulfilled. Thirdly, it is tumultuous. It has no marks of quiet bedding. These being facts, what are the conclusions that follow? It is probable that the mountains of Wales alone were 1,400 feet lower than they are now? There might be very local, very partial submergence of volcanic mountains under the sea. But what I have described happened not in a volcanic district, and Moel Tryfan is not a volcanic mountain. But we are not left altogether to presumptive evidence upon this subject. We have similar gravels all over the counties of Lancashire, Cheshire, Staffordshire and Worcestershire. In Cheshire they are found near the towns of Macclesfield at 1,200 feet above the level of the sea, and very much under the same conditions. I think, therefore, that there is fair evidence that the submergence of the land, which in North Wales amounted to about 1,400 feet, extended over the whole of the British Islands.—Duke of Argyll in Good Words.

The Millionaire.

Who is the hard working man? This is the millionaire, the man who wanted to be rich and has got rich, and is getting richer every day. Is he the happier for it? Happy? Bless your soul, he's more miserable, fuller of cares and anxieties and harder work than ever. He is the veriest slave of them all. He is pushed with business and business is pushing him. He has so many irons in the fire that some of them are burning his fingers while others are getting cold. His present life is a rush from the meeting of this board to that board, and from thence to some other board. He is director of this company and trustee in that and silent partner in another, world without end, and more coming. He hasn't time to eat and hardly time to sleep, and when he does lay his poor head on the pillow he can't stop business plans and schemes, hopes and fears from whirling and whirring through it. He can't take a day to spend in quiet out of town, and if he could he would take all of his business with him into the woods. He is a slave and a victim. His millions in bank don't bring him so much enjoyment as does a new ten-cent piece given to a boy 10 years old. He's infected with the mania for getting and the more he gets the more he wants. If you could see him just as he is and where he is inevitably going, and how he is going there, you would only pity him. He is one of the coming victims of dementia paralytica, the prevalent ailment among so many Wall street men.—Graphic.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE. The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows: "78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882. MESSRS. J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen: Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good. Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. CURE SICK HEADACHE. Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles attendant on a bilious state of the system, such as indigestion, Nausea, Dizziness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing HEADACHE, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, which is the source of all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured Ache their good effects would be felt; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City. MRS. SOPHIA POTTER'S Bone Rheumatic Liment IT is a fact worth knowing that Mrs. Sophia Potter's Bone Rheumatic Liment cannot be excelled for removing pain and soreness. It is no worthless trash, as some may suppose, simply because they have been imposed upon by others, but is positively the "King of Pain." Sore throat cannot stand before its power. All we ask is a trial that you may be convinced of the truth of our statement. Our experience is that one bottle tried also sells many more. See circular for particulars and testimonials, and try a bottle—it will not fail to do all that is promised. R. V. BARKER, St. John, Wholesale Agent W. R. WATSON, Charlotte-town, P. E. I. J. A.
