

Lineup In International Scene Is Given Shake-Up

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
The international lineup, so neatly arranged for so long, has been thoroughly shaken up.

A writer in the New York Times put it this way: "Within the short space of less than two weeks, both Washington and Moscow, which dominated world events for the first decade of the post-war era, have seen their wishes and policies defied by nations heretofore regarded as their most co-operative allies."

ISRAEL STARTS IT
The Middle East blowup began Sunday. Israel ordered general mobilization. The same day President Eisenhower sent a warning to Israel against any "forceful initiative."

Monday the Israel army invaded Egypt, thrusting to within 20 miles of the Suez Canal. The U.S. requested — and obtained — the calling of a meeting of the United Nations Security Council for the next day.

BRITAIN ACTS
Before the Security Council could get to grips with the problem, Britain and France dispatched an ultimatum to Egypt and Israel, demanding a cease fire and withdrawal of both sides to a distance 10 miles from the Suez Canal. Further, permission was requested for a temporary occupation of the canal zone. Israel accepted. Egypt rejected the ultimatum.

BRITISH YET
In the Security Council Tuesday night, Britain for the first time used the veto, for so long a Soviet specialty. France also vetoed the U.S. and Soviet resolutions for an immediate ceasefire between Israel and Egypt.

The Anglo-French ultimatum expired. There was a lull through most of Wednesday. Then RAF and French aircraft began an offensive against Egyptian airfields and military installations. The British cruiser Newfoundland sank an Egyptian frigate.

The UN General Assembly was called into special session. President Eisenhower in a broadcast address called the British-French action one "taken in error."

CANADIAN PLAN
The General Assembly sat for nearly 12 hours Thursday night and early Friday and voted 64 to 5 for a ceasefire. Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson abstained in the vote but put forward the only concrete proposal for a solution. He suggested a UN police force to take over. Ottawa said this might amount to 10,000 men, with Canada possibly contributing about 900.

As the week ended, British-

French landings in Egypt seemed imminent. Israel had conquered the Gaza Strip and had occupied the city of Gaza.

HUNGARY'S REVOLT
Events moved swiftly in Hungary, too. Premier Nagy demanded that Soviet forces quit the country and announced Hungary's withdrawal from the Warsaw pact. The imprisoned Cardinal Mindszenty was freed.

Soviet forces did in fact seem to be withdrawing. Then, on Thursday, a new alarm sounded. Reinforced Russian units, including two tank divisions, were reported advancing on the capital. Nagy appealed to the UN. A special meeting of the Security Council was called.

N.S. ELECTION
The Progressive Conservatives scored an upset election victory in Nova Scotia. The Tories, led by 42-year-old Robert L. Stanfield, ended 23 years of Liberal rule by toppling the government of Premier Henry Hicks.

MINE DISASTER
Tragedy engulfed the Nova Scotia town of Springhill. A coal dust explosion Thursday trapped 113 miners in the pits some 3,000 feet below ground level. Thirteen others were killed. Nearly every one in the town of 8,000 had a relative among the trapped men.

Rebekahs Commemorate Noteworthy Anniversary

Rebekahs in Charlottetown celebrated in gala fashion on Tuesday evening, on the occasion of the sixtieth Anniversary of the institution of Alpha Rebekah Lodge, No. 10, I.O.O.F. Members of Willey and St. Lawrence Oddfellows Lodges were special guests, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent in the Lodge Rooms on Richmond St.

Highlight of the evening was the appearance of a beautifully decorated Birthday Cake which was presented in pageant form, with Reader Mrs. J.G. Dennis Soloist Mrs. S.H. Burhoe, the cake being cut by Mrs. Paul Hansen, Noble Grand of Alpha Lodge.

At the close of the regular meeting, Mr. J.A. MacNair, P.G.M., acted as Master of Ceremonies for the joy program which followed. Mrs. Robert Acorn gave a humorous reading, after which Mrs. Lloyd Moore and Mrs. J.G. Dennis attire in costumes of by-gone days sang a medley of Old Time songs.

A Pantomime Game, in which many of the members participated provided much merriment, and Mrs. Eva MacMillan and Mrs. Wilfred Cadmore won prizes for their splendid characterizations. Since the Anniversary date and Hallowe'en coincided, many of the members came in costume, and prizes were awarded by Judges Mrs. Ruby Houle, P.P.R.A. and Mr. D.F. Bethune P.G.P. as follows: Most Original, Mrs. Clayton Shaw; Funniest, Mrs. Matthew Watson and Mr. Robert MacKinnon.

Arrangements for this delightful party were under the direction of a Committee headed by Mrs. Wm. Warren and refreshments were served by Mrs. R.T. White and her Committee at the close of the festivities.

Delegation Stresses Need For PEI Museum

A delegation from the P.E. Island Historical Society waited on the Premier and members of the Government recently to stress the urgency of need of a Provincial Museum.

The President, Judge H.L. Palmer, ably presented the facts on behalf of the people of this Province, pointing out that every other province has had enough pride in its history and the achievements of its people, to provide museum facilities. Prince Edward Island has as much, if not more reason to be proud of its past, and the passing of precious time is depleting many outstanding historic relics. This is especially true where an old home breaks up and anything of historic value goes to relatives outside the province.

The delegation which comprised Judge Palmer, R. Earl Taylor, Major T.E. McNutt, J. Elmer Blanchard and Mrs. W.M. Brehaut was supported by Mrs. Murdoch McGowan, President of Women's Institutes for the Province, who stated that a resolution had been passed at the last provincial convention asking the Government of P.E. Island to establish a Provincial Museum.

The delegation was informed by Premier Matheson that the request would receive consideration.

The gathering will include the members of the Basilica and Ligurian Youth Clubs as well as young people from nearby parishes.

Talking about Hallowe'en, it has been noticed lately that there is a peculiar inky smell mingled with giggles and groans, drifting throughout the hallowed corridors of learning. After much investigation and almost being run down by a ghost in short sleeves, after teams of searchers arrived at the door, marked "Danger, Wild Men."

One brave soul investigated the ghoul sounds emitting, and found to our delight that "College Times were reading their" material in preparation for publication.

While we are on inky stories, much to the joy of our teenage male population a college directory not only listing her name and address but phone also, was put on sale by the student council. Due to space the morale effect of this deed can not be discussed thoroughly, but, maybe this was the proverbial adrenalin.

Well, must save fifteen cents so guess we'll dress up for the dance. So until we meet again, remember, "Studying is contagious!"

Respected Citizen To Spend Winter In N. B.

His many friends are delighted to see Mr. John T. Pyke visiting old friends after being laid aside for a few days with a cold. At present he is with his niece, Mrs. Lawrence Jarvis and Mr. Jarvis from where he visits scenes and friends of his younger days.

Coming to Sydney as a lad of eight with his father, mother and family of nine he recalls many happy occasions. At fifteen he west with "Malletts," unsmilhs, where he learned a trade and remained for twelve years.

His father passed away, and he had to come home with his mother until the rest grew up. Then he went to Sydney, C. B., bought a home, married and raised a family. One of which is the Rev. Arthur Pyke, well known on P. E.I. and now of London, Ont.

In Sydney he was employed by Thompson and Sutherland, for forty-one years till he retired. He was respected and honored by that firm.

"Uncle John," as he is familiarly known, altho in his eighties has a wonderful memory. He can converse on any subject and is able to recall events for over seventy years. To say that he is a man of sterling ability is no exaggeration. His wisdom is profound and his example and influence wholesome. The law of the Lord was his delight and to do His will his chief joy. His cheerful smile made him welcome wherever he goes.

He will soon be leaving to spend the winter with his daughters in Glen Falls, N.B., and Dartmouth, N.S. 't is the wish of his many eastern friends he will keep well, and return next summer when a hearty welcome awaits him.

Lower Montague Summer Resident Dies Suddenly

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wright, Lower Montague, of the sudden death of Mr. Paul Hervey Fox on November 1st at his home in Swathmore, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Fox was well known in this area, having a summer home in Lower Montague where he vacationed for the past ten years.

He was a versatile writer and the author of many well known books, among them being: Anno Domini, a Biblical story; The Four Men, Sailor Town and many others.

Mr. Fox was an ardent Island supporter, having previously owned a home in New London, P.E.I. before moving to Lower Montague.

Besides his wife he leaves to mourn four children, Jamie, Keith Bruce and Louise, all at home.

P.W.C. NEWS

Somebody or something has shot the necessary adrenalin in to the college heart once more and things are reviving. Maybe it's because the tests and hours of studying are over or maybe these spurts of activity come in intervals.

In the sporting world, things are really picking up. First for mention is the girls' soccer team which although the score of some of the games is heart-breaking, have promised the student body a championship. Football is quiet on their front but practice is still the watchword. The boys hope to fight at least one battle of the gridiron before the season ends.

Basketball is in need of a touch of spinach for pep, but like a feeble light in a dark room, the game is keeping up its end and we should see some first class hoop games before the term is over.

Socially, after the report was received, the relief or groan, drowned out the sound of music but Friday was the day of our Hallowe'en Social, and one may notice the return of chivalry to the halls and

WILL JUDGE

Mr. H.L. MacLaren, District Inspector of Seed Potatoes for Prince Edward Island, will be one of the three judges of seed potatoes at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. He leaves Nov. 3 for Toronto. MONTAGUE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The 1956-57 term began on September 4, with a record enrolment of some two hundred students in Grades VIII to XII. The increase is due largely to the expanded bus service being offered to the district by the Department. At present, three buses are arriving daily from Dundas, Lower Montague, and Murray Harbor North. In addition to this, many students use the family car or truck as their means of transportation. In all, approximately sixty students from the surrounding districts are in attendance at Montague High School this year.

The combined increase for both years has resulted in extending the High School. When completed, it will provide six new classrooms, but since three are so urgently needed, it is expected that work on these will be nearing completion by early December. The new wing will be occupied by Grades VI, VIII and the main building by Grades IX-XII.

MANY ACTIVITIES
A very active Student's Council held its first meeting early in September and already has proved its capability in conducting affairs. The yearbook committee has been at work since the beginning of the term. The first issue of the Montague News is being prepared for publication. A get-acquainted dance was held in the auditorium, and plans for a masquerade dance were completed today.

The committee representing the Athletic Association are busily engaged in securing materials and equipment for a basketball court which will be set up in the auditorium.

To date, the biggest undertaking of the Student's Council is that of sponsoring a monthly show in our own auditorium. Their shows come to us direct from Saint John, N.S., they are all class A, entertainment suitable for production on a 16 M.M. projector. The student body and staff from both schools have enjoyed seeing "Little Nellie Kelley," and are looking forward to having more of this first rate entertainment.

CADETS
The Army Cadets have resumed their training and it is evident that a keen interest is being taken in this movement. Cadet training is voluntary, nevertheless, some fifty boys appear on the parade square each Wednesday evening. The uniforms have just been received from the dry-cleaners and

Sudden Death of Cardigan Boy

The untimely death of Allison Henry Joseph Shepard, of Cardigan, Head, occurred on Thursday at the Kings County Memorial Hospital, Montague.

The young man had been ill several weeks ago but had improved in health until stricken Wednesday night when he was removed to the hospital for examination. An operation was performed but to no avail the young man passed away several hours later.

Besides his sorrowing parents he leaves to mourn. Two sisters and brothers, Viola, in Ontario; Louise, Junior and Bernely at home.

Wood Islands Ferry Traffic

A general decrease in traffic is evident in the recent report of the Wood Island-Caribou Ferry service compared with that of last year. This trend is more pronounced when the six months period from May to October is compared with the similar period of last year.

The following figures are given for October only with 1955 in brackets: passengers-7894 (7852), a decrease of 158; autos-1928 (2135), a decrease of 2823; autos-20592 (21317), a decrease of 325; trucks-5495 (5577), a decrease of 32.

For the six month period from May to October the figures are as follows: passengers: 75237 (78,080), a decrease of 2823; autos: 20592 (21317), a decrease of 325; trucks-5495 (5577), a decrease of 32.

MIGHTIEST OF THEM ALL

are now being issued, so that each cadet will be in readiness for the Armistice parade.

The student body and staff of Montague High congratulate John McGowan and Boyd White, former M.H.S. graduates in their outstanding success at the Prince of Wales track and field meet.

School has been in session now for almost three months which means that the first-quarterly examination will soon be posted. It has already been announced that they are on scheduled for Nov. 12, 13, 14th. Throughout the year four sets of exams are held. The average of these exams is the major factor in deciding certificate winners for graduation in June. For this reason then, it should be the aim and desire of every student in Montague High to obtain as high an average as possible in these, our first-quarter exams.
