THIS WEEK AT SDU

Easter Recess Is Hailed With Feeling Of Liberation

By Charley McMillan

The long-awaited Easter recess descended upon the hallowed halls of St. Dunstan's this week amid a feeling of liberation and sleep. For this holiday break it is a time to relax, to take a break from classes and exams and somewhere around the first week of May. Thus come Tuesday, there will be an all-out effort along academic lines to make up for time lost during the frills of busy extra-curricular semester. Believe it or not, there are only two days before final exams start, and exams have a habit of being not easy. However, there is no reason to enjoy the holidays while they last. Not all of the students here come home. Many Americans are visiting friends and relatives in various parts of the Maritimes, while most of the other students living outside the Maritimes are staying on campus.

SDU STARS NAMED

Congratulations go out to the distinguished Saints who have won the Intercollegiate hockey all-star teams. Billy MacMillan and Vince Mulligan were named by team captains and coaches for the first team at centre and defence, respectively. Billy MacMillan, left winger on Billy's line, made the second team. For Vince it was a close race in a row that he has been on the team. Billy, of course, was the outstanding performer in the circuit this year, and this is a well-deserved honor by any means. University student papers all around the circuit testified to Mr. MacMillan's stupendous feats, and it is only natural that he would get the most valuable player award, the trophy for top scorer, and an all-star position. In his first year of intercollegiate hockey, he performed with the best of them. Although not a smooth skater, he is an excellent playmaker and scored his share of goals too. It is possible that next week, when the statistics are returned, there will be a public presentation of these awards.

The St. Dunstan's entry in the Maritime Intercollegiate Girls' Debating League finished the year with a 1-1 record. The team ended the season last week at Windsor, N.S. against King's College. Representing St. Dunstan's were Catherine Duffy and Patsy MacDonnell, both Junior 2 students from Kinross. SDU won its first debate of the year in the first round of the tournament from Dalhousie University of Halifax. Mary MacCardie and Kathleen MacDonnell were the St. Dunstan's debaters.

Dr. Brendon O'Grady is the moderator of the Girls' Debating League. According to sources on campus, the method of scoring in girls' debating is a bit of a change. There is every indication that next year there will be a change. There is every indication that next year there will be a change. There is every indication that next year there will be a change.

RED AND WHITE

The next issue of Red and White will come out on Tuesday, according to Editor-in-Chief Peter Foster. This will be the second edition under Mr. Foster's management, and reports are that it will be every bit as good as the first. There are 12 pages in this issue, an increase of two over the last. The Red and White staff has increased considerably and a strange sort of infighting has taken over. The idea, of course, of the paper is to promote journalistic education on the campus and to serve as a medium of student expression, not as an organ of superstitious propaganda, as some people might expect.

Traffic Case Set Over A Month For Decision

SUMMERSIDE — Magistrate W. Chester MacDonald adjourned the case of John Ronald MacLean, Middleton, till April 30, in Prince County court on Thursday. Mr. MacLean is charged with passing on a solid white line. Two witnesses for the defence were heard before the adjournment.

The charge was laid by Cst. Alan Burchill of the Bowden detachment RCMP who said it was the accused's car passed him on the posted speed limit, he said.

MacLean, giving evidence in his own behalf and represented in court by J. Melville Campbell, said he knew that road very well and knew when he pulled out to pass that there was a solid white line at that point. He said he did not look at the white line and it had been obscured by fog most of the way away.

He said he went to the scene later and checked the road for markings and where he pulled out to pass the line was broken. He said he pulled in just opposite the road sign on the left side of the road and the line was still broken there.

Cst. Burchill, cross examining MacLean with taking figures that would read just the way he wanted them, but this was objected to by the defence and not admitted as proper. Cst. Burchill's evidence showed that the accused had passed on the w. a. p. Green's Hill but MacLean said he passed on the incline to the right and not the hill itself. A passenger in the car, Ralph Newell of Charlottetown, was called as the second witness and was to be heard before the adjournment.

In his report Mr. Ramsay thanked all committee chairmen for carrying out the year's activities.

Airmen And Boy Killed When Bomber Crashes

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A U.S. Air Force B-47 bomber crashed into a barn and burned near here Friday, killing the four crew members aboard and a nine-year-old boy who was playing near the barn.

A playmate of the boy was critically burned.

The dead youth was Richard Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Butler of Jacksonville.

The crew members were not identified, pending notification of next of kin.

Gary Hanover, 16, was taken to hospital with injuries. The plane crashed and burned about a mile from Little Rock Air Force Base on a routine training mission.

Capt. Douglas Wood, chief of the information office at the air base, said the plane, on a normal training mission, flew about a mile down the runway and came almost straight down.

He said it looked as though a section of the tail broke or burned off.

The air force said no nuclear weapons were aboard the Strategic Air Command plane.

CNR Renovations Said Progressing

Work being done by the Bridge and Building department of the CNR on a renovation program at the Charlottetown station is progressing favorably.

According to superintendent Edgar Taylor, alterations are being made to the waiting rooms and offices.

Plans have yet to be finalized for the new freight building, and it is expected tenders will be called as soon as the plans are approved.

It is planned to level the old freight shed on Water Street and express office in giving a 'new look' to the terminal.

Reaction To Blast At Jews Embarrasses Soviet Gov't

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has clearly been embarrassed by the future sighted in the West by a Soviet booklet depicting Jews as money grabbers.

The text of the booklet also attacks the Jews violently. One passage says: "Trade and business is the very essence of the Jewish cult. No matter what they are doing, selling matzo or chapters of the Torah, performing rites of burial or circumcision, wedding, and Judaism in particular, plus cartoons depicting bearded men squabbling about money and collaborating with Germans."

The booklet is virtually unobtainable in Moscow, and the Soviet book contains the usual Soviet propaganda about religion.

38 Look On In N.Y. As Woman Is Stabbed

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-eight respectable citizens according to a police court—looked on but did nothing as a killer stalked and stabbed a woman in three separate attacks spread over more than half an hour in the Kew Gardens section of Queens.

The sound of the householders' voices and the sudden glow of their bedroom lights interrupted the slayer twice and frightened him off. He returned each time, sought the woman out and stabbed her again.

No one telephoned police during the assaults. One witness phoned after the woman was dead.

Assistant Chief Inspector Frederick M. Lussen, in charge of police detectives in Queens, says he still is shocked by the events of two weeks ago today.

Lussen, a veteran of 25 years of homicide investigations, told a New York Times reporter: "As we have reconstructed the crime, the assailant had three chances to kill this woman during a 35-minute period."

He returned twice to complete the job. If we had been called when he first attacked, we might have saved her."

Relations Warning Peshawar

PESHAWAR (AP) — The Soviet ambassador to Pakistan, A. E. Nasterko, told a public meeting here Soviet-Pakistani relations have been improving and would become very friendly "sooner than some people think." Pakistan recently has warmed up to Red China.

ings or divorce; everywhere above all they keep in mind in n e y, despatching productive work.

Protests have come from: 1. John Golan, secretary of the British Communist party, who said the booklet "has shocked all those in Britain who have consistently campaigned against anti-Semitism."

2. The French Communist newspaper L'Humanite, which reprinted an attack from the left-wing French Yiddish newspaper Vais Press. Vais Press said the booklet's caricatures of Jews could stir up anti-Semitic feelings and the pamphlet "enriches the Soviet Union itself."

3. Jewish groups in the United States who have held angry meetings.

Taking note of the criticism, the Soviet news agency Novosti issued a statement which complained:

"The publication in Kiev of a booklet by Trofim Kichko, Judaism Without Disguise has given rise to the Western countries, and particularly in the U.S.A., to a spate of fresh fabrications about anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union."

Attempts are being made not only to scotch the Soviet state the persecution of Jews, but even to declare it a policy that is pursued by the U.S.S.R."
