CORRESPONDENCE.
We do not hold ourselves responsible for the

To the Editor of the Examiner.
MY DEAR SIR,—I beg to thank your correspondent "Vox Populi," for the complimentary salute accompanying his thrust in carte. I have no means of knowing whether the Prince of Wales be, or be not, "a jolly good fellow," whatever merit or demerit that epithet may imply. I have yet to learn what "Vices are merely those of position." I believe that the Tares of Vice are scattered, by the great enemy, indiscriminately over the whole world of of human life, over hill and valley, high and low; the growth of that bad seed will not be gathered in, until the great day of harvest, when some good grain, that grows on very low ground at present, may and will be exalted, and vice versa. "V. P." alludes to two Stuart Monarchs, who, as he is of opinion, "walked over the will of the people, the one on to a scaffold, and the other, after long years of confinement, found rest in a bloody grave." I presume that "V. P." alludes to Mary Queen of Scots, and to her grandson King Charles the First. Neither the one nor the other of those two Sovereigns died "by the will of the people." Queen Mary was murdered by Elizabeth, the illegitimate daughter of King Henry the VIII. (vide his own declaration.) The other, (King Charles) was murdered by Oliver Cromwell, whose evident insanity is the only excuse which christian charity can plead for his bloodguiltiness. It is too probable that Queen Mary had faults, incident to a very bad education in the school of vice, which France was, in her early days. King Charles was guilty of being accessory to the judicial murder of the noble Earl of Strafford. The wicked ear, as King David tells us, a sword in the hand of the Almighty, for the earthly punishment of the evil doers; King Charles was certainly an evil doer in being accessory to the murder of Strafford. As to the loss of the life of the flower of the British Army at Sabastopol, that war was not caused by Russian ambition, but by that "public opinion" which drove the British Government on pain of losing their officers and salaries, into a war with the Emperor of Russia, on his attempting to carry into effect the arrangement which he had made with the said British Government when he was last in England.
"First to agree to Russia's wish, and then the deed ignore!
How changed is England of to-day, from Tory times of yore!"
"V. P." reminds us that "God made of blood all nations of the earth." Is this fact any cause, or reason, why one man should not accept an invitation to visit another? In a book which I value next to the Bible, I find it written: "Ye know how gracious and unkind a thing it is, when a man hath prepared a rich feast, decked his table with all kinds of provision, so that there lacketh nothing but the guests to sit down; and yet they who are called (without any cause) most unthankfully refuse to come. Which of you, in such a case, would not be moved? Who would not think a great injury and wrong done unto him?" With all reverence, "sic parvis componere magna solemus." I apply the above words to the subject before me, and "V. P.," adding that when peril surrounds either a mere individual man, or an Emperor, his friends and connections (if they deserve the name of MEN) will not take that as a cause, a reason, or an opportunity for deserting him.

I am, my dear Sir,
Your constant reader,

Notes from Vernon River.
It had been announced that the Rev.
Professor Burwash, of Charlottetown, would deliver his popular lecture on "Modern Science" in the Bible Christian Church, Vernon River, on March 7, at 7 p. m.
The people were anxiously looking forward to the day, and were not a little disappointed when the morning opened with a storm considerably blocking the road. This led many, perhaps more than half, who intended to be present, to conclude that the rev. gentleman would not be present. At the time appointed, however, the pastor of the circuit and the lecturer arrived, and more people were assembled than either expected under the circumstances. All who were present enjoyed a treat, and received instruction that they will not soon forget.
At the close of the lecture, a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. L. Hayden, seconded by Mr. L. Furness, and carried unanimously. If, at any future time, Professor Burwash should visit the neighborhood, weather permitting, a crowded house will meet him.
The Scott Act has been, and still is, systematically violated by an individual at Vernon River Bridge. He was fined $50 some time ago, but has since said that it was not collected from him. If not collected, why? Can the public be enlightened on this matter? We understand that information was again laid against him some weeks ago, and the names of parties given, one of whom bought more than one bottle of whiskey on the Sabbath day. But nothing has yet been done. It is time for Mr. H. H. P., of Charlottetown, to rise and explain.
The people of this neighborhood are very busy at the mussel mud. Over 50 diggers are on the river.
As Mr. Charles Vickerson and company, were returning from church, on Sabbath, the 11th, the horse fell into a springhole on the river. After some difficulty, it was taken out without sustaining any damage.

All the preliminaries for placing the bust of Longfellow in Westminster Abbey are arranged. The bust will occupy a central and conspicuous place in the Poet's Corner.

Railroad Meeting at Centreville.

On Saturday, the 17th instant, a public meeting was held at Centreville, to consider the location of the Cape Traverse Branch Railway. The meeting was organized by calling Major Wright, Esq., to the chair, and appointing the undersigned secretary.
Hon. Stewart Burns, M. L. C.; A. E. C.
Holland, M. P. P., and G. W. Bentley, M.
P. P., were present, and each addressed the meeting. The meeting was a large and interesting one. Several of our local men spoke, all of whom argued that the Freetown route, via Bedeque, was the shortest, and least route yet proposed, as well as the likeliest to yield the greatest amount of local traffic to the road.
The following resolution, moved by Hiram Trueman, Esq., and seconded by Alfred Schurman, Esq., was carried unanimously:— Whereas, The Dominion Government have expressed their intention of commencing the Branch Line of Railway from Cape Traverse to the Main Line early in the incoming spring; and as surveys will require to be made to ascertain the shortest distance and best location for the said road; and Whereas, A line passing through Bedeque up the valley of the Dunk River, to connect with the main line at Freetown, would be found much shorter than by any other route—the country being level—besides passing through one of the finest farming districts on the island, which would materially increase the traffic on the said road;

Therefore resolved, That it is the opinion of this meeting that, if a survey of the route be made, on account of the shortness of the distance, the levelness of the country through which the road would pass, it would be built much cheaper than by tapping the main line at any other point; and felt satisfied that the Government will adopt this route if brought before their notice; Further resolved, That, for the carrying out of the object of this meeting, a committee of five be appointed to communicate with Sir Charles Tupper, the Minister of Railways, asking for a survey to be made of this route.

The following committee were then appointed:—A. M. Wright, Major Wright, Alfred Schurman, Hiram Trueman and Stephen Black, Esqrs.
The usual vote of thanks was then tendered to the chairman, after which one of the largest and most influential meetings of the kind ever held in Bedeque was brought to a close.
ALBERT SCHURMAN,
Secretary.
Bedeque, March 17, 1883.

A Necessity of the Day.
Few minor inventions have been so readily appreciated and come so quickly into general use as the stylographic pen. None who have used one will ever be contented with any less convenient apparatus for writing, and in a short time there will be few who have occasion to write at all who have not adopted it. The general principle of the stylographic pen is so familiar as to require no explanation. We have made trial of various kinds, but have found none to equal the improved Liver-more Stylographic Pen, which combines all the advantages of other makes. It is convenient to use, writes with any kind of good ink, and is practically indestructible.
Sold at first for $3 each, the price has recently been reduced to $2 for plain pens, with fifty cents extra for gold mounted. By sending that amount to Louis E. Dunlap, Manager Stylographic Pen Company, 290 Washington Street, Boston, a pen, together with a package of superior ink, will be sent by return mail, and the money will be at once refunded if they do not prove to be perfect in every respect.—Morning Mail, Lowell, Mass.

Personal—Gossip.
Sir John Macdonald has been elected a member of the Athenaeum Club.
The Prince of Wales has denied the rumor of his intended visit to America.
The German Prince Imperial is to be created Field Marshal of the British army.
Mme. Sara Bernhardt is writing her memoirs, which a publisher in Paris is to pay her $20,000 for.
Count de Chambord, in replying to a deputation of workmen, said the Republic was infallibly leading France to ruin.
A cable dispatch says it is probable that Earl Spencer's successor as President of the Council will also be Minister of Agriculture.
Cardinal Manning has obtained from the Pope a plenary indulgence for all Catholics who abstain from saloon bars or tasting of liquor during the remainder of Lent.
Prince Bismarck is negotiating for the purchase of several million acres of land in Mexico for the settlement of German immigrants. The land selected is said to be rich in ores and plants.
The physician who attended Prince Gort-schakoff in his last illness states that there are sufficient grounds for suspecting that his patient was poisoned. In his will, made on his death-bed, the Prince requests the authorities to suppress any inquiry as to whether he had been poisoned.
It is said that Mr. Gladstone, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, used to make it his business, in days when he was not so universally known by sight, to enter common public houses in many parts of the town and to call for a glass of beer, in order to test the working of the excise laws.
