OFFICE:—MRS. MONTGOMERY'S COTTAGE INCE STREET, OPPOSITE BAPTIST CHURCH—

WEDDING BELLS IN THE NORTH.

St. Ann's Church, Hope River, was the scene of a very interesting event on the morning of the 1st, when Mr Patrick Lamb, one of Springfield's industrious farmers, led to the altar one of Hope River's fairest daughters in the person of Ellen Jane, fifth daughter of James McGuigan, Esq

The bride looked charming, and was neatly costumed in heliotrope novelty goods, steel trimming, ribbon and gloves to match a Dane Hat and carried a beautiful prayer book. She was attended by her Sister, Miss Angelina the popular teacher of Roxbury, Lot 6, who also wore Heliotrope, while the groom was ably support by Mr Patrick Murphy, of Emerald.

The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. P. D. McGuigan, brother of the bride, assisted by the Rev. James Æneas McDonald, P. P.

Mrs. G. H. McGuigan, of Hunter River, presided at the organ and rendered excellent music.

The bridal party was hospitably entertained by the generous pastor of the parish to an excellent wedding breakfast in Miss Anderson's best style, which is not saying a little, after which all repaired to the paternal home of the bride, where everything went merry as a marriage bell till the "wee sma' hours" of the morning.

The invited guests consisted of many of our prominent men and women from Skinner's Pond, Roxbury, Conway, Summerside, Kensington, Emerald, Springfield, Hope River, North Rustico, New Glasgow, Hunter River, Kelly's Cross, Charlottetown and Fort Augustus. The bride's presents were useful and costly.

MARKET TOLLS.

SIR,—What's the matter with the City Council. A short time ago they were demanding heavier market tolls in the form of market licences. Now it is proposed to abolish tolls altogether. If the City Council undertake to provide the best business stand in the city at the expense of the taxpayers for non-residents and non-taxpayers to do their business in I maintain that they have an equal right to provide a taxpayer and citizen with a suitable place of business and relieve him of the responsibility of paying rent. If the proposition was to allow dry goods and ready made clothing to be sold in the market, you could bet your Sunday suit that there would no deputation headed by Messrs Perkins, Prowse & Co, asking for abolition of tolls. You would have a different song then. Put hardware on the free list in the market, and you would soon find a modification in Councillor Crabbe's views. It is all right to stamp out small retailers of country produce, grocers, &c, from all parts of the city by providing a free business stand for farmers, but don't tramp on the corns of those magnates who are willing to sacrifice everyone else in order to bring grist to their own mills.

LUBRICATING THE ELECTORS.

The Crown Lands agent and the colonization road money distributor are to be reported by the judges for corruption in the Nipissing election. Now we know what the "machine" is for and what it does.

It lubricates the electors.

Ninety-six flasks of whiskey and six bottles of the same argument were evidently potent forces in the north.

How indignant the Ministers must be when they read of this official distribution.

It is temperance Government, you know, and the agent of the crown Lands Department was wrong at least in allowing the thing to leak out.

Stead and the Czar.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—W. T. Stead, writing to the Daily News from Sebastopol, after having had an interview with the Czar at Livadia, reiterates his conviction of the earnestness and sincerity of the Czar's purpose in proposing disarmament. Mr. Stead says it is impossible to repeat the conversation; but, he adds:—

"But my opinion is summed up in a remark which I made to a princess of the court, who, meeting me as I was leaving, asked me. Well, what is your opinion?'

"I replied simply: 'I thank God for him If he is spared to Russia, that young man will go far.'"

Mr Stead adds that he found the Czar possessed of exceptional rapidity of perception, united with a remarkable memory, and very wide grasp of an immense range of facts.
