A MONSTER IRRIGATOR.

The Highest Overflow Dam In the World Building In California.

Stanislaus county, Cal., is to have the highest overflow dam in the world. It is called the La Grange dam and is being constructed for the Modesto and Turlock irrigation districts. Its location is in the canyon of the Tuolumne river, three miles from the town of La Grange. Work on the project was commenced in June, 1891, and has been prosecuted continuously ever since. A force of 200 men has been employed on the work, the total cost of which will be $600,000.

The annals of engineering have hitherto recorded as the highest the Vyrnwy dam, which retains the water supply for the city of Liverpool. Its height from base to summit is 127 feet, but the La Grange will be two feet higher. Other celebrated dams, such as the Bear Valley, in San Bernardino county, and the Sweetwater, near San Diego, are properly known as reservoirs, and the protection of their basins as retaining walls.

The La Grange is being built by R. W. Gerrill and will be 360 feet long on top, the plan being curved on a radius of 320 feet. Its maximum height above the foundation will be 127 feet 9 inches. The front face of the wall is made to conform to the curve described by the water in overflowing, and to deflect it into the basin in front of the dam.

The dam is built of "cyclopean rubble" and is a model of solidity. Huge rocks, weighing from six to ten tons, were first laid on the bottom. All their projecting pieces were cut off, and a flat but rough surface was prepared for the lower bed. Before being placed in the bottom, all stones, whatever their size, were scrubbed and subjected to the action of numerous jets of water under pressure of 75 feet.

The process of construction was as follows:

"A level bed was first prepared in the rock and covered with a two inch layer of cement mortar, which was beaten to free it of air. A large stone was then lowered into position by a steam crane, and was beaten down into the mortar by blows from heavy handmauls. Other large stones were similarly placed, but so as not to touch each other. The spaces left between them were filled with concrete, which was thrust into the narrow spaces with tampers.

"The work within the reach of each crane was brought up from six to eight feet before the crane was moved. In each course the immense stones were laid so as to bind with those in the course below. No horizontal joints passed through the wall, as the top of each course was left with projecting stones and hollows, which permit it to be well bound with the next course. To make the back face thoroughly water tight, the vertical joints were filled with mortar alone, and into this broken stone was forced."

The La Grange dam will distribute water over a territory embracing 276,000 acres. The Turlock district comprises about 198,000 and the Modesto district 78,000 acres. The water will flow over the dam into two ditches. One will be 30 miles long and 100 feet wide, the other 28 miles long and 80 feet wide. The waters of the Tuolumne river will be banked up by the dam in the rocky canyon. A lake will thus be formed four miles long and half a mile wide. An idea of the solidity of the dam may be gathered from the fact that at its base it is 117 feet 9 inches thick, and that of solid stone, forming an indestructible barrier to the lake of water behind.—Pacific Lumberman.

Mrs. Inchbald.

She was very beautiful, and gifted with original genius, as her plays and novels testify. She was not an actress of any special merit, but of respectable mediocrity. She stuttered habitually, but her delivery was never impeded by this defect on the stage. Mrs. Inchbald was a person of a very remarkable character, lovely, poor, with unusual mental powers, and of irreproachable conduct.

She had a singular uprightness and unworldliness and a childlike directness and simplicity of manner, which, combined with her personal loveliness, and halting, broken utterance, gave to her conversation, which was both humorous and witty, a most peculiar and comical charm.

Once, after traveling all day in a pouring rain, the dripping coachman offered her his arm to help her out, when she exclaimed, to the great amusement of her fellow travelers: "Oh, no, no! Y-y-y-you will give me my death of cold! Do bring me a-a-a-a dry man." Coming off the stage one evening, she was about to sit down by Mrs. Siddons in the greenroom, when suddenly, looking at her magnificent neighbor, she said: "No, I won't s-s-s-sit by-you. You're t-t-t-too handsome!" in which respect she certainly need have feared no competition, and less with my aunt than any one, their style of beauty being so absolutely dissimilar.—"Records of a Girlhood," Fanny Kemble.

Not a Lost Art.

Archæologists and antiquarians in their writings frequently refer to the manufacture of flint arrowheads, etc., as a lost art. That is a great mistake. The art is probably lost to the Indians because they have no use for it. The stone implements have given place to those of iron and steel, and the rifle and revolver have supplanted the flint ax and arrowhead. The art of making them is not lost, however. There are many collectors of relics of the aborigines who have studied the art of working in flint and have become adepts. In Chattanooga a gentleman has become so proficient in the art that he has not only manufactured magnificent specimens of arrowheads from flint, but also from the far more brittle obsidian, and even from ordinary glass.—Chattanooga Correspondence.

From Earth to Moon.

What is the smallest light on earth that would be seen on the moon? We will suppose that the sun has set a place on this side of the moon; the earth then appears as a thin crescent of light, and the light which is to be noticed is placed in the dark portion of the earth. Now, as are lamp of 400 candle power with suitable reflector can be seen plainly at a distance of 20 miles on the surface of the earth on a dark night. If there were no absorption of the light by the atmosphere, it would be seen plainly 30 miles. From these data, and remembering that the mean distance of the moon from the earth is 240,000 miles, we easily find that the light must be 28,000,000,000 candle power.—Yankee Blade.

The Contrasts of Life.

It seems odd to read of a church official vested in a magnificent cope of cloth of silver, with a golden miter on his head, marrying a couple who knelt upon beautiful white satin prie-dieux near the altar, while other people, poverty stricken to the very verge of desperation, beggar persons on the sidewalk in front of the stately edifice.—Joe Howard.

He wanted More.

In enclosing an order for three bottles of Dr Manning's Germain Remedy, E. W. Barlow, of Montreal, a well known commercial man, writes to The Hawker Medicine Co: When in Summerside, P. E. I, I received from your Mr. Chestnut a bottle of Dr. Manning's German Remedy, and have used it for Neuralgia, and found great benefit from it. I cannot speak too highly of your remedy, for I believe it is a good one." Dr. Manning's German Remedy is a positive cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sprains, Strains, Bruises, Colic, Chills, Cramps and all pains and aches, either internal or external. An invaluable household remedy. Sold everywhere. Price 50 cents.

The public is becoming a little sceptical about waterproofed goods, whether for men or women. Claims have been made which were never substantial. And at the best they had a waterproofed look about them which was too often embrassing. It is the distinguishing merit of Priestley's Cravenettes that they are precisely like the same goods not waterproofed. They are absolutely rain proof and yet porous, though there is nothing to show the rain-repelling quality. Priestley's trade mark. "The varnished Board" will always be found in these goods.

THE THREE WISHES.

Three girls sat idly on the beach—
One like a lily tall and fair,
One brilliant with her raven hair,
One sweet and shy of speech.

"I wish for fame," the lily said,
"And I for wealth and courtly life,"
Then gently spoke the third: "As wife
I ask for love instead."

Years passed. Again beside the sea
Three women sat with whitening hair,
Still graceful, lovable and fair,
And told their destiny.

"Fame is not all," the lily sighed.
"Wealth's futile if the heart be dead."
"I have been loved," one sweetly said,
"And I am satisfied"

THOUGHT IT WAS A FAKE.

A Letter from a Prominent Kingston Man—A Story of Deep Interest to Everybody—Told in His Own Words—Dodd's Kidney Pills Again.

"I would consider it a favor if you would allow me to add my testimonial to the many hundreds you no doubt have in praise of the wonderful cures effected by your Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have been a great sufferer from kidney trouble and sciatica for the last 15 years, and have paid out hundreds of dollars for treatment, but to no effect. Seeing your pills advertised I thought it was a fake to catch the poor unfortunate and took no notice of it. But when I saw the testimonial of Dr. Rose, a well-known physician of good standing and whose reputation I am well acquainted with, I inquired of my druggist if there were any in our vicinity who had been cured by them. He named over several remarkable cures in Kingston and amongst others a lady whom I knew. I consulted her husband and he verified the statement. I at once procured six boxes which I found gave me relief I had not felt in years. I took six more boxes and I am now able to kick the hat off a man's head with the leg I could hardly drag along, and my back feels as strong as a board.

I would consider I was doing wrong to the public if I were not to allow my name to appear in testimony of the worth of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and further, I will be happy at any time to answer any one who wishes to write me with regard to the above.

Sincerely yours,
J. H. BRICKWOOD,
Fishery Inspector.

Kingston, Jan. 4th.

The impression steadily strengthens that the industrial situation in the States is returning to a normal state. Already a very large proportion of the lately suspended machinery of the country has resumed work, and the still unemployed is gradually starting up. At the same time, we notice less complaint of the anticipated disturbance of production through the new tariff. This change of tone seems to be due principally to the fact that the new conditions in which the changes of duty will place our industries are becoming better understood. Something is due also to the widespread reduction of wages in almost every employment, which enables employers to re-ume work on lower prices and upon safer conditions. The distinct revival of demand, as indicated above, has also a direct tendency to encourage production. Thus, in industrial and commercial affairs, everything seems to be drifting towards a resumption of operations, not immediately upon a scale of normal activity, but on conditions deemed safe and which may be expected to lead to a steady expansion of business.

The World's Columbian Exposition.

1. The whole civilized world has been interested in the Great Celebration. The crowned heads of Europe, the governments of all the famous nations of the globe, the lands of the Orient and the Islands of the sea have all been co-operating to render the Exhibition worthy of the greatest event of modern times. Its magnitude and marvelous character can only be described by saying that it has comprised all the rarest products of land and sea, the most dazzling wonders of nature and the grandest productions of human genius.

2. The Great Fair which celebrates the discovery of America by Columbus has never been equalled. It was larger and more magnificent than any similar exhibition ever held. Over twenty million dollars was expended in its grand spacious buildings, and the result was the most attractive Exhibition the world ever saw.

3. This gorgeous display is vividly portrayed in our PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION. This captivating volume is a brilliant panorama of the Great Fair which has awakened such a world wide interest.

This wonderful work is a royal octavo volume of over 800 large double-column pages, 10½ inches long by 7½ inches wide, and contains nearly twice the amount of matter in an ordinary quarto book, and is therefore equal to a large volume of 1600 pages.

It contains a complete history of the World-renowned Exposition at Chicago, captivating descriptions of the magnificent Buildings and marvelous Exhibits, such as Works of Art, Textile Fabrics, Machinery, Natural Products, Latest Inventions, Discoveries, etc., with a full description of Chicago, its wonderful Buildings, Parks, etc., by ex-Governor Wm. E. Cameron, of the World's Columbian Exposition History Co., with an Introduction by Hon. Thomas W. Palmer, ex-U. S. Senator and ex-Minister to Spain, including a chapter on the Women's Department by Frances E. Willard, President of the World's and National Women's Christian Temperance Unions.
