

Islanders Chalk Up 19th Victory Of Season

Outplay Moncton For 5-3 Verdict; Goalie Les Colvin Sensational

Leo Lamoureux and his Charlottetown Islanders chalked up their 19th victory of the season here last night when they outplayed and outskated Moncton Hawks for a 5-3 verdict.

Les Colvin

Sensational goaltending by Les Colvin in the Hawks cage turned what might have been a landslide victory for Islanders into a slim win by two goals. Withstanding terrific close-in onslaughts by the Islanders, Colvin was picking pucks out of the air like a magician to turn aside 40 shots on the night's play while Gordon handled 14, two less than Colvin kicked out in the first period alone. The count on that frame was 16 to 1.

Coming from behind Moncton's game opening goal, Islanders drilled home two before the frame was over and after splitting one each in the middle session, outshot the Monctonians 2-1 again in the closing period for their victory.

Danny Horeck and Walter Pawlynshyn were the leading goalgetters for the Islanders, shooting a brace each, while Moushey Dowling, playing his first game against Islanders on Charlottetown ice, led the scoring for Moncton with two tallies. Marcel Clements accounted for the other Islanders' score, while Larry Dunville was the other sharpshooter for Hawks.

It was a cleanly played game with minor penalties being handed out all for minor infractions. Hitting a fast, rugged clip right from the opening whistle, the Islanders took the play almost completely away from their rivals to hammer away consistently inside the opposing blue line to fire 12 shots at Colvin by the midway mark in the frame. Gordon was called upon to make his only stop of the period during that time.

Dowling Opens Scoring

Moushey Dowling opened the scoring for Moncton at 11:25 while Bruno Favaro was off for kneeling. Hawks were forcing the attack at the Islanders' blue line when Dowling broke away in the clear from a loose puck during a scramble. He sailed right in on Gordon all alone to beat him cleanly. Favaro was no scorer back on the ice, however, when the locals garnered the equalizer fifty-five seconds later, Marcel Clements finding a hole in Colvin's armor during a power attack around the net with Favaro and George McLagan.

Pawlynshyn made the red light blink again for Islanders at 15:59 on another smart attack around the net with Favaro and Trainor to end the period scoring. Playing closer hockey in the second period, both teams kept the game wide-open but again Islanders held the balance of the offensive to outshoot their opponents 14 to 9, but split even on the scoring with a goal each. It was Moncton who again opened the period scoring. Forcing the attack in the Islanders' defensive zone in the early stages of the frame, Larry Dunville banged home a screened shot. It came from about 20 feet out from an inside the blue line attack, Mike Demchuk and Dalton Barkwell garnering assists.

Sniping his second goal of the night, Pawlynshyn put the Islanders out in front again when he teamed up with Bucko Trainor and Larry Travis in a powerful attack around the net at 11:35. Colvin had turned aside about three shots before Pawlynshyn finally banged one past him.

D. Horeck Gets Pair

Two of the prettiest goals of the night came off the stick of Danny Horeck in the final session on smart passing attacks with brother Johnny and Frank Bathgate. The first came at the early mark of 1:02. Taking the puck down the left boards from centre ice, Bathgate slipped a pass to Johnny after crossing the blue line, he in turn snapping a relay across the front of the net to Danny who came flying in off right wing to slap it home. A classy effort notched up the other at 8:10. Putting the puck on Johnny's stick with a short pass in front of his own net, Bathgate started the play rolling. Driving straight down centre ice, Johnny carried in over the opposing blue line with Bathgate and brother Danny on either wing, slipped a well-directed pass to the latter coming in hard on right wing to drill home the payoff shot from close in.

It was in between these two scores that Dowling racked up Moncton's final tally of the night at 3:59 unassisted, intercepting a passout just inside the Islanders' blue line. Dowling sent the puck back in with a backhand shot, the puck bouncing and rolling through a maze of legs and sticks to trickle into the net past Hal Gordon.

St. Mary's Score 6-2 Victory Over Beavers

HALIFAX, Nov. 28 (CP)—Halifax St. Mary's strengthened their second-spot hold in the Maritime Senior Hockey League tonight, controlling the play throughout to down Saint John Beavers 6-2.

Beavers only tallies came after the 19-minute mark with Saints a man short.

Saints marked up their first goal before the half-way mark of the opening period and added two more before the period ended.

Then they pumped two more past Beavers goalie Dennis Brodeur in the second and added another in the third before Beavers scored two to spoil Eddie D'Aoust's shut-out bid.

High point-getter for the night was Phil Digeur with three assists. Digeur had two goals for the local squad, the others being by Gordon Miller, Bill Ford, Danny Wilkes and Muckle Hollett.

Tommy Brennan and Buck Whitlock each collected two points to pace the Beavers. Brennan had a goal and an assist and Whitlock had two assists.

Pul Platz, a former Cape Breton performer, scored the initial tally for Beavers, slipping the disc past D'Aoust on a ganging play with Brennan and Whitlock getting assists.

That was at the 19-minute mark. Seventeen seconds later Brennan duplicated Platz's play with Whitlock and Roger Jodoin helping.

One feature of the scoring was that every goal was a three-way affair with two players getting assists. Besides Digeur, Frank Grabowski and Billy Watson each collected two assists for Saints and single assists were garnered by Peanut McLaughlin, Eddie Brown, Ford, and Miller.

Line-ups:

ing playoff positions. It creates a greater appeal to the fan who realizes that every game may be a big deciding factor to the teams involved.

With an increased league set-up, such dropping of teams in the lower brackets at playoff time would be almost a necessity. But of course there doesn't need to be an interlocking schedule to accomplish that end. The Big Four circuit could do this itself. For the most part, fans seem to be of the opinion that it should, too. It is a subject that is brought up continually where fans gather to talk "hockey", and the general opinion always seems to be the same — "what is the sense of playing a big schedule if it doesn't mean anything when it is all over."

Vanquished Blue Bombers Given Victor's Welcome

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28 (CP)—The vanquished Blue Bombers came home today—but they received a victor's welcome.

Hundreds of noisy football fans crowded into the C. P. R. station rounda to say "well done" to the blue-and-gold despite their 13-0 defeat last Saturday in the Grey Cup final against Toronto Argonauts at Toronto.

Bomber president Ralph Misener promised a better team next year. But he wasn't communicative when newspaper men asked whether coach Frank Larson will be back in charge.

"No comment," he said, grimaced.

From an equally downcast Butch Larson came the comment: "It would be better all around if I didn't say anything—at the moment."

News stories have been printed recently in Winnipeg saying he will resign soon. Rumors circulated Monday that he would issue a press statement on his plans some time today. But at the station he said he wouldn't.

A huge banner was strung across the station entrance for Bombers' arrival: "Welcome Home Blue Bombers."

Only railway employees were on the station platform when the train arrived about 11:15 a. m. CST. From there the players were escorted by the Winnipeg Police. The Band-home earlier than Bombers from the Grey Cup game — to a raised platform in the station.

And then the crowd began to sing their welcome song: "We're starting a new relief fund and not for the Winnipeg flood."

"We're going to buy a tarpaulin to cover Toronto's mud."

Official welcome to the team was given by Acting Mayor C. E. Simonite. He praised the team for sportsmanship, then said: "We're not disheartened. We're not discouraged. When we see the spirit displayed here today, we know the Grey Cup will soon be on its way to Winnipeg. It's just a matter of luck—and perhaps weather."

The players were introduced, one by one, by Dr. Bert Oja, one-time Bomber player and a club official. Probably the loudest ovation was for centre John Brown.

Pete Felton summed up the type of welcome Bombers got. "I wonder what the reception would have been like if we'd won that cup?" he said.

From the station, the team went to a downtown restaurant for an official luncheon.

Joe Louis Is Favorite In Betting On Bout Tonight; Faces Tough Opponent

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Joe Louis, former heavyweight champion, who didn't quit when he was ahead, will try to make it from behind tomorrow night when he renews a projected ring comeback against a 13-year younger, once-feared Brown Bomber, now 36, will battle the Argentine heavyweights, Cesar Brion, at Chicago Stadium, in a bout scheduled to go 10 rounds or less.

Although a 4 to 1 betting favorite, there were strong suspicions that Louis may have picked too rough a trial horse for his second comeback try.

Louis was soundly defeated last Sept. 27 by champion Ezzard Charles in a 15-round title bout at New York. Tomorrow night's bout will be Louis' first start since he was pummeled by Charles and announced for the second time he was retiring.

Cape Breton Anxious For Link With Big Four

SYDNEY, N. S., Nov. 28 (CP)—The Cape Breton Senior Hockey League said today it is "most willing" to co-operate with the Maritime Senior Hockey League in working out an interlocking schedule "to improve League calibre and public interest in Maritime hockey."

In a prepared statement the three-team league said it would accept "the most practical plan offered" for such a schedule with the four squad M. S. H. L.

The statement said Cape Breton League officials felt there should be a meeting between the two Leagues to discuss the issue.

"It is considered a foregone conclusion that either a three-team league or a four-team league is doomed to failure in a comparatively short time because the public tires of watching the same players every night," the statement said.

The statement outlined a suggested formula of games between teams of the two leagues. Each league would maintain its identity and each M. S. H. L. team would come to Cape Breton once a month for two games. Each Cape Breton team would go to M. S. H. L. ice once every three weeks for two games each trip.

Veteran British Golfer Dies

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—James Braid, grand old man of British golf and five times British open champion, died at a London nursing home Monday.

Although he was 80 years old, he had been active as a professional at the suburban Walton Heath Club until a few months ago. He underwent an internal operation last month.

Braid was born at Earlsferry, Scotland. He won his first open title at Muirfield near Edinburgh in 1901. He won his four other open crowns on courses in his native Scotland.

In recent years he played a special round of golf on his birthday, always aiming to beat his age. At 67, he shot a 66, and at 68 he carded a 64. His only failure was last June 2, on his 80th birthday. He took 81 strokes over his own course. He played his last round five weeks ago.

One of Britain's most famous golf instructors, he taught the Duke of Windsor when the latter was Prince of Wales.
