Annual Meeting Of Little Theatre Guild Lions Service Club Organized Prince Edward Island's first Lions Service Club was organized in Charlottetown this week with Ernest H. Lord as president. Other officers chosen at the meeting were Messrs: Joseph Sturdy, 1st vice president; Arnold Callbeck, 2nd vice president; William Warren, 3rd vice president; Robert Yonker, secretary; Stewart Johnston, treasurer; Directors, Dr. I. Rachmel, Messrs. Maurice Block, D. A. MacCannell, and Louis Bagshaw. The club, which was organized by Mr. S. D. Innes, international representative, becomes a part of District 41-C, embracing the three Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland. Already 38 clubs have been organized in this district. The youngest international service clubs, the Lions are thirty-four years old and were first organized in Chicago. Today they have clubs in thirty-eight different countries. The local club will meet twice monthly, and already has a substantial number of members. Joe Agnello found King out front 6-4. The AP card had King on top 5-4-1. There were no knockdowns in the struggle with King's shaky left jab and accurate counter hook to the jaw matching the wild but continuous stream of punches from the New Englander. King, a 21-2-1 underdog who upset highly-ranked Paddy Demarco in his last start, almost pulled off his second successive surprise win. Although puffed around both eyes from Araujo's busy fists his shots were more accurate. The 25-year-old King countered beautifully while Araujo tried to swarm inside his flicking jab to carry on his usual tommy-gun attack. Public Health (Continued From Page 4) ministered previously by various other Departments of the Government during the fiscal year 1946-47 the administration of: (1) The Falconwood Hospital and Infirmary Act, (2) The Pre-marital Health Examination Act, (3) The Venereal Disease Prevention Act, good to the other duties of this Department noted above. In 1948 this Department entered into an agreement with the Department of National Health and Welfare to avail itself of Health Grants approved by the Government of Canada to assist in planning and developing a health programme which would utilize these grants to the best advantage, a Health Planning Commission was established in September, 1948. This Commission consists of nine members, of which three are members of the medical profession. One representative of the nursing profession is also a member. One of the medical members and the public health nurse are employees of the Provincial Government. Returned From Memorable Trip To Mexico City Rotary Governor Edwin C. Johnson, accompanied by his wife, arrived home on Wednesday after enjoying a trip across the continent to Mexico City and return by a devious route that carried them more than 8000 miles. The Rotarians at San Diego, Texas, who are mostly of Spanish descent, on hearing that Mr. Johnson was a Rotary Governor from Canada, insisted on him taking over their meeting and conducting it in "home style". He took advantage of the opportunity to talk about Prince Edward Island, of which many of his listeners had never heard, and according to Rotarian Avar, he "put the island on the map" in that part of Texas. At Houston, Texas, a city of 700,000, Mr. Johnson had the good fortune to run into an old class-mate at P.W.C. in the person of Dr. Les Crozier, formerly of Darnley, P.E.I., who holds an important and responsible position as Managing Director of Herman Hospital, one of the largest institutions of its kind in Texas. The party made brief stops in Boston, the guests of Mr. Avar's brother Lewis, and at Gloucester, Mass., where they met his sister, Mrs. Ralph Dahlmer. At Atlantic, Georgia, they were guests of another brother, Angus Avar. In travelling through from Washington to the Mexican border, Mr. Avar found the variations of crop development and other growth most interesting. In some places reaping of the grain was already in progress. The hospitality of the people in Georgia, Louisiana, Tennessee, was very much in evidence on every hand, and their musical voices a constant source of pleasure as they welcome the party as from "Canada". At Monterey and Mexico City the travellers remained a week attending Rotary meetings which were highly instructive and enjoyable, with 8000 representatives from all over the world, outside the Russian sphere of influence, fraternizing in the Rotary manner.
