

THE WAR-TRAIL!

CHAPTER LXXXI—(CONTINUED).

Talk not to me of the noble savage, of the simplicity and gentleness of that condition falsely termed a state of nature. It is not nature. God meant not man to be a wild Ishmelite on the face of the earth. Man was made for civilization— for society, and only under its influence does he assume the form and grace of true nobility. Leave him to himself—to the play of his instincts—to the indulgence of evil impulses, and man becomes a brute—a beast of prey. Even worse, for wit and tiger gently consort with their kind, and still more gently with their family. They feel the tenderness of a family tie. Where is the savage upon all earth who does not usurp dominion—who does not practice the meanest tyranny on his weaker mate? Where can you find him? Not on the blood-stained Karees of Africa—not upon the forest plains of the Amazon—not by the icy shores of the Arctic Sea—not on the prairie of North America. No man can be noble who would, in wrath, lay his finger upon weaker woman, talk not then of the noble savage—fancy of poets—myth of romance! The tracks of riderless horses, the footsteps of walking women, tender girls and children, upon that tiresome trail, had for me a cruel significance—those slender tiny tracks of pretty feet—pobres ninos!

There was one that fixed my attention more than the rest. Every now and then my eyes were upon it. I fancied I could identify it. It was exactly the size, I thought. The perfect symmetry and configuration—the oval curve of the heel—high instep—the row of small graduated globes, made by the impression of the toes—the smooth surface left by the imprint of the delicate epidermis—all these points seemed to characterize the footprints of a lady. Surely it could not be hers? Surely she would not be toiling along that weary track? Cruel as were the hearts of her captors—brutal as were their natures, surely the would not inflict this unnecessary pain. Beauty like hers should command kind treatment—should inspire compassion even in the breast of a savage! Alas! I deemed it doubtful.

We rode slowly on, not desirous of overtaking the foe, we were allowing them time to depart from their noon resting-place. We might as well have stopped for a while, but I could not submit to the repose of a halt. Motion, however, slow appeared progress; and in some measure hindered me from dwelling upon thought that only produced useless pain.

Notwithstanding the incumbrance of their spoils, the Indians must have been travelling faster than we. They had no fear of foes to retard them, naught to require either spies or caution. They were now in their own country, in the very heart of the Comanche range, and in dread of no enemy. They were moving fresher, and without fear. We on the contrary had to keep our scouts in the advance. Every bend of the road had to be reconnoitred by them, every bush examined, every swell of the ground approached with extreme care and watchfulness.

These manoeuvres occupied time, and we moved slowly enough. It was after midday when we arrived at the noon camp of the savages. They had kindled fires and cooked flesh. The smoke, as before, warned us, and approaching under cover, we perceived that they were gone. The bones, clean-picked, were easily identified, and told that the midday meal had made no change in the diet of these hippopotamuses, dinner and dejeuner had been alike drawn from the same larder.

Again I searched the ground; but as before, the eyes of the trapper proved better than mine. "Hyr's a other billet dux, young fellow," said he, handing me the paper. Another leaf from the missal! I seized it eagerly—eagerly I devoured its contents. This time they were more brief: "Once more I open my veins. The council needs to-night. In a few hours it will be decided whose property I am—whose slave—whose—Santissima Maria! I cannot write the word. I shall attempt to escape. They leave my hands free, but my limbs are tight bound with thongs. I have tried to undo my fastening, but cannot. Oh, if I had but a knife! I know where one is kept—a keen blade. I may contrive to seize it, but it must be in the last moment—it will not do to fail. Henri, I am firm and resolute. I do not yield to despair, one way or other. I shall free myself from the hideous embrace of— They come—the villain watches me! I must!"

The writing ended abruptly. Her jailers had interrupted her. The paper had evidently been concealed from them in haste. It had been suddenly crumpled up and flung upon the grass, for so it was when found. We remained for a while upon the spot to rest and refresh our horses. The poor brutes needed both. There was water at the place, and that might not be met with again. The sun was far down when we resumed our march—our last march along the war-trail.

To the Electors of the Second District of King's County.

GENTLEMEN.—The first act of the present Government on assuming the administration of affairs was to appeal to the Electorate of the Province for an indorsement of the personnel and policy of the Ministry. A programme was then formulated, which received the cordial approval of the people, and to which the Government have faithfully adhered.

The usual number of legislative sessions constituting a General Assembly, having terminated, the Government take the earliest opportunity of again consulting the constituencies, and of soliciting at the polls a renewal of public confidence. On assuming office, the ministry found that the recklessness and extravagance of their immediate predecessors had resulted in imposing upon the Province a large amount of indebtedness. By amalgamating some of the Departments, reducing the salaries of officials, diminishing the cost of legislation and of administration, as well as by improved management in every branch of the public service, the Government have been enabled to remove the legacy of debt bequeathed to them by their opponents, and there is now a considerable surplus to the credit of the Province. In view of this state of things, and knowing that they shall have sufficient revenue, for some time to come, to meet the public requirements and amply provide for every interest, the Administration, in pursuance of their policy of lightening the burdens of the people, have felt justified in repealing the Assessment Act.

The Government have, by every means in their power, fostered agriculture and stock-raising, as the leading industries of the Province, and they intend to continue increased encouragement in the same direction. It is much to be regretted that the measures framed by the Ministry for the abolition of the Legislative Council, failed to meet the approval of a majority of that body. The Government have done every thing they could accomplish to give effect to the wishes of the people as expressed at the last General Election; and it is their intention to submit to the Legislature next Session measures providing for the constitution of one legislative body, and otherwise calculated to reduce the cost of legislation. The Ministry are now engaged in endeavoring to secure for this Province a portion of the Fishery Award, with other compensation respecting the use of our fisheries by United States' citizens, and the business shall be diligently prosecuted to its termination.

The attention of the Dominion Government has been called to the failure of Canada to carry out the Terms of Confederation with this Province, by providing efficient steam communication, winter and summer, between the Island and the mainland. The question is now under the consideration of the Privy Council, and it will be the duty of the Provincial Administration to adopt such measures as shall secure to Prince Edward Island a complete and satisfactory fulfillment of the Terms of Union.

On the subjects to which I have alluded, as well as on all other public questions, the policy which the Government submitted to the people at the last general election, remains unchanged, and shall be pursued.

During the term of office of the present Ministry, the blessings of contentment, happiness and peace have prevailed throughout the Province, and it is the desire and determination of the Government to contribute towards a continuance of this pleasing state of things, by the practice of economy and retrenchment in every department, and by an honest and faithful administration of public affairs.

I have the honor to be, Your obedient servant, W. W. SULLIVAN. April 20th, 1882. pres no kea sf pat li

To the Electors of the City of Charlottetown, Common and Royalty.

GENTLEMEN.—I have been requested by a number of the Electors of this District to offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages at the coming Election for the Local Legislature in opposition to nominees of the present Government, and have accepted the nomination. The most important question at present affecting your interests, and the interests of the whole Island, is that of the proper prosecution of our undoubtedly just claim to a share of the Fishery Award. In my opinion the Government have not taken adequate means to press our demand. If elected I shall use every constitutional means to obtain a proper recognition of our rights on this question.

With regard to the administration of the finances of this Province, my views are that the strictest economy should be practised in every department, but at the same time due regard should be had to the efficiency of all branches of the public services. Another question which must soon be settled is that of the reduction of the now excessive cost of legislation, and, if elected by you, my best efforts will be directed towards effecting such a reform as will best check the lavish expenditure in this respect.

Owing to the suddenness with which this Election has been forced upon the country, it will be impossible for me to make a thorough personal canvass of the City and Royalty, and I therefore take this means of asking you for your votes. FRED. PETERS. April 20, 1882.
