Marvelous New Plant Dry Cleans Your Coal!

NOW there's an advertising catch phrase that really understates the actual facts. It does not mention that our Stephens-Adams Dry-cleaning machine actually inspects the coal, rejects the slate and inferior coal and selects only PURE coal for your bin.

Here's how it works—the raw coal floats over a stream of silica sand made to act as a fluid by low pressure air currents. The flowing sand is held in suspension by the air currents to a predetermined specific gravity so that pure coal FLOATS on top, while the slate and inferior coal, being heavier, SINK to the bottom and are drawn off and discharged as rejects to the waste dump.

So you see, there's nothing left but coal, the whole coal and nothing but the coal—Bras d'Or Stoker and Domestic coals in fact. And then these are oil-treated to prevent dust formation. Your dealer has Bras d'Or or can get it for you.

May Be Prosecuted

A former United Church minister, James Endicott, is seen with his wife in Toronto following their return to Canada after a four-month visit to Communist China. Tight-lipped and coy when cornered by reporters, Mr. Endicott ignored every question put to him on statements attributed to him by the Communist press that Canada was breeding germs for use of United Nations in Korea. He did, however, prove forceful when sticking to his charges that Americans are using germ warfare in Korea. The former charge may prove to be Mr. Endicott's undoing, as it has been reported that if he persists in pressing this charge, he will be prosecuted by Canadian government.
