A Radical Improvement.

In his Ottawa address last Friday, Sir John A. McDonald called public attention to a most radical change which has been brought about by the tariff policy of the present government. Not only has the readjustment of the tariff proved beneficial to our home industries and given employment to Canadian labor, but it has opened up a more extensive and more profitable home market for those engaged in agricultural pursuits.

The importation of articles of food and drink during the Grit regime was nearly $269,000, or close to $52,000,000 a year. The importation of articles of food and drink during the period from 1880 to 1885 was in round millions $106,250,000, or nearly $18,000,000 a year, about one-third as much as the average yearly import of these articles during the Grit regime. The balance, the other two-thirds, were produced by our own people. In other words, two-thirds of the whole consumption which formerly was imported from foreign countries are now produced by the people of Canada. The farmer and the farm laborer in Canada has benefited by that large amount. Taking these engaged in agricultural pursuits in Canada at 700,000 persons, the result of the present fiscal policy in its effect on food and drink imports was to put $50 in the pocket of each one of those 700,000. Then taking the raw material for manufacturing purposes. During the period from 1874 to 1878 the import was $45,750,000, or $9,200,000 a year, while during the Liberal-Conservative period from 1880 to 1885 the imports of raw material for manufacturing purposes were $105,500,000, or $17,600,000 a year. This increase shows the extent to which the artisans of this country have been benefited by our present tariff policy every year, an increase of 93 per cent., and may be taken to mean that for every hundred artisans who found work under the Grit policy, 193 can and do now find profitable employment.—Halifax Herald.

Losses of American Fishermen.

The experience on the Canadian coast of Captain Blake, of the Boston fishing schr. Andrew Burnham, as detailed in a letter to the Boston Herald, is interesting reading. Captain Blake had many times to come in contact with the Canadian officers whose duty it was to prevent infractions of the law, and bears testimony to the uniform courtesy with which he was treated, whether in the customs houses or on board the cruisers, which he seems to have come across with a frequency not at all in keeping with the reports that have been given out by opponents of the Government, that nothing was being done to preserve to Canadians the rights that unmistakably belong to them. The most interesting part of Capt. Blake's letter, however, is that in which he states that had the old privileges been continued he would have several thousands of dollars better off, and that "all the fishermen in the bay would have been in the same boat" with him. This is not in accordance with Senator Frye's ideas, but it is plain that that statesman is more intent on making things straight for the next election than in discovering the true facts of the fishery situation. Besides the privileges they enjoy under the treaty of 1818, there are others of much more importance than the American fishermen desire. They want, in Captain Blake's words, to go anywhere and everywhere, use the Canadian harbors, to ship men and purchase provisions, to land and repair nets, buy salt and transfer their catch to other vessels or to the railway for shipment home. The inability to do these cost Captain Blake $5,000, much more than the enhanced price of his catch through the restriction of Canadian competition by a heavy duty would bring him. Such arguments should soon convince the Americans that it is to their interest to secure a renewal of the privileges accorded them under the Washington Treaty, which the Canadians stand ready to grant, provided that they are allowed reasonable compensation advantages.—Montreal Gazette.

Pull Down That Flag.

Advices received at the Department of State corroborate the published report of the hauling down of the American flag on the American schooner Marion Grimes at Shelburne by Capt. Quigley of the Canadian cruiser Terror. The action of the captain of the Grimes in running up the colors while the vessel was in the custody of the Canadian officers is deprecated at the department as likely to needlessly complicate the department in its efforts to reach a satisfactory settlement of the fisheries question. It appears that when the United States cutter Corwin seized the British sealing vessel in Alaskan waters the first official act of the captain was to haul down the British colors. The ground for taking such action is found in the claim that until the seized vessel is released she is technically in possession of the Government making the seizure. This last incident is not regarded at the State Department as one likely to cause any serious trouble and may be passed over without further notice.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little shrub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing-Syrup, and take no other kind.

Boston Markets.

OCTOBER 13.

Eggs—The demand for Eggs the past two days has been light, but prices hold about the same as last week. Sales of Eastern extras at 23½ and 24c; P. E. Island at 22½ to 23c; and Canadian at 22 to 22½c per dozen. Market closes with a quiet tone for all kinds.

POTATOES—Receipts of Potatoes are not so large this week, and prices are firmer. Houlton Hebrons command 55 to 58c., and Houlton Rose move off at 53 to 55c. Potatoes are selling at 50c., and Burbanks at 48 to 50c. per bushel. Northern Rose and Hebrons range from 45 to 48c. Sweet potatoes continue plentiful, and sales range mostly from $1.25 to $1.50 per bbl.

CHEESE.—The week opens with an easier tone in the Cheese market, and buyers are holding off for future developments. Receivers still name 12 1-4c for fine September factory, but no sales of any account have been made at over 12c, and that is now an outside price for round lots. The sales in the country indicate a decline of about 1-4c. Liverpool quotation holds at 56 cents.

FISH TRADE.—There has been a steady demand for all kinds of Fish, and prices are well sustained. Mackerel continue in light receipt and all offering command full prices. Receipts at Boston for the week foot up 2,531 bbls, of which 1,910 bbls came from Provincial ports and 630 bbls from domestic sources. The fleet landed 2,624 bbls at all ports, against 6,465 bbls for the corresponding week last year. Total catch to date by the New England fleet 63,235 against 278,767 bbls in 1885, and 374,389 bbls in 1884. Sales of P. E. Island Mackerel at $11 to $12 per bbl for un-cured, $9 to $10 for No. 3; $11 to $13 for No. 2; and $15 to $16 for ordinary No. 1. A few extra 1's sold at $20 to $25 per bbl. Very few Bay cargoes have been offered this week. Last sales at $14.25 to $14.50 per bbl, sea packed. Inspected lots from dealers' hands rule $9.50 to $11 for No. 3; $12 to $14 for No. 2; and $18 to $23 for No. 1 and extras.

Codfish are meeting with a ready sale, and prices are firm. Sales of large pickled Bank at $2.37½ to $2.50, and medium at $2 to $2.12½; large dry Bank at $2.25 to $2.50 per qt, the outside for prime retailing, and pickle cured Shore at $3.25 per qt. Hake are selling at $1.25 to $1.40; and Haddock at $1.50 to $1.75 per qt.

CANNED GOODS.—Mackerel continue scarce and lots from the Provinces command full quotations. Lobsters meet with a ready sale. We quote—Mackerel per doz 1 lb cans, 90c to $1.10; lobsters per doz 1 lb cans, $1.50 to $1.75.

Sir John and the Chiefs.

CROWFOOT AND HIS COMPANIONS HAVE AN INTERVIEW WITH THE PREMIER.

The Indian chiefs Crowfoot, Three Bulls, Red Crow and North Axe recently visited Sir John and Lady Macdonald, whom they style respectively "Kistomonin" (brother-in-law), and Assarkel (Sippo) (the good hearted woman). On their way to Edmunds they were brought past the Eyward Market, where the usual busy Saturday morning presented itself, and with which they were very much surprised. In the parlour of Sir John's residence Crowfoot made an eloquent speech which was subsequently interpreted by Father Lacombe. In concluding he said—"We have come a long way to see you at your house, and our own are far, far off. We remember you both. When you came to us in your land this summer we had good feeling there, and the lady gave our people money and presents. We hope the great chief will think of our people. Since the white men come, the buffalo have gone away, and now we need to be helped by the white chiefs. We want big farms, but what will we do with what we can't eat? I see this morning that you do not forget your own people, as they sell what they don't want (referring to the market). That is what our people want to do." Sir John made a gracious reply, presenting each chief with $25, and promising to send more presents and clothing to their people. He exhorted them to remain peaceful, and not grow impatient if time elapsed before all their demands were granted. Sir John, in conclusion, said he would see that Mr. Dewdney looked after them, and concluded by promising to find a market for their surplus productions. The Indians were then conducted to the lawn, where they were photographed. Crowfoot, on bidding his adieu, said that he was homesick for his people now, that he had seen the land of the white men, and begged to be permitted to return at once. Sir John told him his request would be granted, and the chief will leave for home on Monday night along with Father Lacombe. The other Indians will remain for the unveiling of the Brant monument at Brantford.

To the Antiseptic Inhaler Co.

GENTLEMEN.—According to promise I write to inform you that your Inhaler has worked wonders in my case. I have only used it about two months and I find my difficulty entirely removed. I was troubled very much with a bronchial affection, accompanied with nasal catarrh which prevented me from singing—a part of my profession. I tried various nostrums without relief, until I heard of "Butcher's Antiseptic Inhaler" through a friend who had proved its efficacy. I shall do all in my power to recommend a remedy which, to my own knowledge, has been so beneficial in every case coming under my observation.

Yours truly,
JOHN HOWARD,
Prof. of Music.
