Moose Views Saint John

SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 25—(CP)—A young cow moose ambled along Saint John streets for three hours today as residents and office workers rubbed their eyes in non-belief. Appearing more substantial than some reports of flying saucers and foreign submarines, the moose apparently entered the city from the Rookwood Park area. She cantered along Cranston Avenue and down to the railway station before taking a look at Prince William Street. Then the animal became frightened and jumped into Courtenay Bay, where occupants of a motor boat guided her toward East Saint John and the woods of Loch Lomond.

Junior Farmers and Junior Club News

The final debate of the Junior Farmers' Debating Competition will be held July 26th at the Vocational School. This competition was begun in March but due to many postponements, bad roads, and other delays, it is only now being completed.

The topic to be debated is: "Resolved that the future well-being of Maritime agriculture depends more on adequate marketing regulations than on economy of production." A team of three members, Floyd McLaugh, Marina Hughes and Tommy McLaugh from St. Margaret's Junior Farmers are upholding the affirmative side, while William C. Ruth, Wright and Margaret Carruthers from Beedee-Freetown Junior Farmers are on the negative side.

Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture has agreed to act as chairman and to contribute a few remarks to the evening program. Several musical numbers will also lend variety to the program.

The firm of Simmons & MacFarlane has very kindly donated a trophy for this competition which is to be carried on a year. At first the trophy was intended for the winner in Prince County but representations were made by the executive of the Junior Farmers' Federation and it was agreed that the trophy be put up for the Provincial winner. Mr. Leslie Simons will be present to present the shield.

A full house is expected and the program will get under way at 8:30.

MEMORY OF

Continued from page 1 still a pioneer land but which is rich in heritage and tradition. People lived close to the soil and to the sea where they are inevitably exposed to those forces of nature on which we must all ultimately depend for food, sustenance and communication. There was no intervening veil of artificiality that so isolates modern life from what is simple and sincere. Above all there was the powerful and persistent influences of a deeply religious faith.

Distinguished scholar At the University of Edinburgh Dr. Falconer abandoned himself to the study of the ancient classics in which he became a distinguished scholar. He did not specialize as the undergraduate of that day had to pass through the whole range of liberal learning on his way to a degree.

It has been said that one of the chief Canadian exports has been brains—and this is particularly true of the Maritime Provinces. Frolon Falconer, however, elected to come home to his native land, and to his own native part of it at Pine Hill College, Halifax, and there he remained as lecturer, professor and principal from 1892 to 1907. He lectured on Sunday afternoons to student and popular audiences on the new learning in relation to the Bible and religious faith.

Dr. Thompson suggested that it should never be forgotten that Canada repeated the general history of western civilization in that religion was the moving force of educational advances. Only after the Church had done its pioneer work did the State enter upon the scene.

At the age of forty Dr. Falconer began his life work at Toronto University. He became the personal embodiment of the University in which he believed, winning the respect and esteem of all who came under his influence.

In addition to Edinburgh, Dr. Falconer studied at the universities of Leipzig, Berlin and Marburg. He received degrees from the University of Glasgow, Princeton, U. S. A., Toronto and other Canadian universities. He was elected to the Royal Society of Canada and was knighted in 1917. In 1927 he published "The United States as a Neighbor," and in 1928 "Citizenship in an enlarging world."

In his opening address, Chief Justice Campbell stated that the purpose of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board is to preserve the memory of historic events in the history of Canada, and to perpetuate the memory and work of outstanding Canadians by the erection of tablets. He said that it was the policy of the Board to erect tablets in the community in which the person to be honored was born.

Chief Justice Campbell said that the meeting was being conducted under the shadow of a cloud created by the death of the late Mr. Mackenzie King. During the evening the audience was asked to stand during a two minute period of silence in his memory.

It was also stated that it is hoped that two other tablets will be erected in this Province in honor of Messrs. J. G. Schurman and J. C. Pope.

Dr. MacKinnon read a telegram from the University of Toronto expressing appreciation of the work done there by the late Dr. Falconer, and congratulating Prince of Wales College on the placing of the tablet.

Upon the conclusion of Dr. Thompson's address, Mr. Large expressed to him the gratitude of everyone present for the rich, intellectual treat received from his inspiring talk. He commented on the excellent work of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board, and the need in Canada of the monuments they are erecting in commemoration of outstanding Canadians.

Distinguished guests present included the Hon. J. Walter Jones, Premier, Dr. L. W. Shaw, Director of Education, Hon. Dr. W. J. F. MacMillan, and Senators J. P. MacIntyre and G. H. Barbour.

Following the unveiling of the tablet, the speakers and audience were guests at a reception held in one of the class rooms.

Jews Face Hard, Cold Winter

TEL AVIV, Israel, July 25—(CP)—It looks like a cold, hard winter ahead for the Jews in Israel. They're certain to take a few more notches in their belts. Many may have no shoes or clothes to wear.

That's the gloomy prediction of Israeli Government chiefs from Premier David Ben Gurion on down. There's only one way to stop the hardships now in prospect. That's hard, more efficient work, the boosting of exports and the slashing of imports.

Dr. Dov Joseph, Minister of Supply and Rationing, said: "If the gap between exports and imports is not narrowed, we may soon be faced with a situation when there will be no clothes and no shoes to wear."

That's sad news for the 1,260,000 people of Israel. They've had many long months of "austerity" since the state was proclaimed on May 16, 1948.

Holmes Family Holds Reunion

Stanhope Beach was the scene of a happy occasion recently when there was a reunion picnic of the family of Mr. Jas. A. Holmes, of Freetown and Charlottetown.

Mr. Holmes, hale and hearty at 87 years of age, was the centre of activities. Members of the family from a distance were Mr. Charles R. Holmes, his wife and daughter Barbara, of Orlando, Florida; and Mr. Ira L. Holmes and his wife, of Saskatoon, Sask., also their daughter, Mrs. Jean Haugen, and her little daughter Fern, of Swift Current, Sask. These brothers are meeting in Prince Edward Island for the first time since the funeral of their mother in 1925.

Others present at the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Holmes and son John, well known residents of Charlottetown, and Mr. and Mrs. Colby Lewis of Freetown, P. E. I., and their sons Ira, Claude and Edwin, with their wives and families, and their daughters Shirley and Mary.

Mrs. Colby Lewis, Charlie, Ira and Gordon Holmes are the living children of Mr. Jas. Holmes, another son, Harry, having died in 1934.

Mr. J. B. Lewis and his mother, Mrs. Will Lewis, Freetown, were present. Mrs. Lewis is also mother of Colby Lewis, and she too has attained the age of 87, still hale and hearty and enjoying the festivities.

A happy feature of the occasion was that the 36th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Holmes was celebrated by a suitable gift from the family.

Many of those present enjoyed the rare luxury of a dip in the salt water, and during the afternoon group pictures were taken including three different arrangements of four generations.

Canada's World Trade Expands

OTTAWA, July 25—(CP)—Canada increased her exports to the United States by more than $60,000,000 during June and pushed ahead in her search for bigger sales to achieve a total export trade of $291,800,000 during the month.

This total, said the Bureau of Statistics today in a preliminary statement on June exports and imports, was greater by $34,000,000 than the June, 1949, exports of $257,400,000.

In sales to the United States, Canada's shipments rose from $117,850,000 in June last year to $179,850,000, boosting the U. S. share of the Canadian export pie from 45 per cent to more than 60.

Trade with the United Kingdom slumped. Exports slipped to $32,520,000 from $61,100,000. Canada's appetite for foreign goods increased from $250,500,000 in June last year to $282,000,000 with the big increase in purchases from the United States.

Canada increased her buying in the U. S. from $178,900,000 to $189,800,000, a step-up of $12,900,000.

The U. K., seeking to increase her supply of dollars, shipped $36,800,000 worth of goods to Canada. An increase of $9,800,000. Other Commonwealth countries boosted their sales from $19,200,000 to $23,000,000. From other foreign countries Canada took $32,800,000 worth of commodities, compared with $27,400,000 last year.

The over-all effect of this buying and selling left Canada with a favorable balance of trade of $9,000,000, a climb from last year's $6,900,000.

U. S. URGES

Continued from page 1 armament schedule to two years. The original 1954 target was set on the theory that Western Europe could rearm by then without cutting into its rising standard of living.

Both President Truman and Secretary Acheson consider Europe the major front in the conflict with Russia, even though the Korean fighting has focused attention on the far east.

The council will begin canvassing the defence requirements and potentials of the members tomorrow. It is working toward laying a formal plan before the next meeting of the 12 foreign ministers, to be held some time in September.

The question of what use to make of West Germany's men and resources was reported not under consideration as yet.

FORCE MAY

Continued from page 1 was whether to lengthen the 18-month term which the country's conscript army now serves, to two years.

Majority opinion in the cabinet seemed to have been that lengthening service was not dictated for the moment.

To provide British services with the most-up-to-date equipment there may have to be some changes in industrial deferments so that key armaments workers are not lost to the industrial effort.
