A WONDERFUL SOUVENIR—Souvenirs of many kind have been brought back from the battle fields by returned soldiers and are well good reason cherished by their possessors but there is one war memento in the possession of Capt. H. R. Stewart, city, which he took with him to France and which became by degrees more and more precious until today it possesses a unique interest all its own and is valued altogether beyond price. This souvenir is a plain chamomis leather waistcoat upon which is inscribed in ink the names of every camp and billet, every village and battlefield through which its wearer passed during training days in Canada and England and the more strenuous campaign days in France and Flanders. Besides these names, over two hundred in number, the waistcoat bears many autographed signatures of soldier comrades of the 1st Canadian Contingent, many of whom are numbered among the heroic dead. Other autographs include those of General Currie, Canon Scott, Col. W. G. Barker V.C. D.S.O., M.C., etc., (victor of a combat with over sixty enemy aircraft) Lieut. Col. J. Scott, M.C., A.F.C., A.D.C., (officer commanding Canadian Air Force) General Perreut, (late Commandant Royal Military College) Col. Robert Lockie, D.S.O., D.S.C., D.F.C., (one of Canada's foremost airmen, who destroyed two Zeppelins and sank two submarines) and many other names high on the roll of Canadian valor. Not the signatures alone, but the time and manner in which they were inscribed and the recollections connected with them and with the names of billets and battle-fields throughout the campaign give to this little souvenir a charm and interest which will grow richer with the passing years. It has been worn by its owner since the early training days at Salisbury Plain in 1914 and has seen service all along the line from Ypres to the Somme. Only recently General Currie's autograph was secured to enrich the collection by Capt. Stewart while on a visit to Ottawa, and as the great man read over the names already there his eyes shone, and he wrote his own with the eagerness of a school-boy.

"What bitter cruelty, what deep tenderness are hidden in the mysterious of a great City! In this narrow street hope, fear, love and death fight again their age long battle."

A picture of all the things that rise in your mind when you hear the old tunes of "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" and "The Sidewalks of New York."

A picture that tells of "East Side, West Side, All Around the Town," with boys and girls together on "Dear Old Saturday Night."

A picture that enters the humble lives of a mother, a lad and a girl and lifts them out of the slatter to the shining light of romance.

A picture of Bowery and dance hall and Chinatown and lowly places that tenement folk call home.

A picture that has no shimmer of silks or flash of wealth, or fashion dressed to parade on the Avenue.

BUT a picture that takes from the heart of mankind all the big fine beautiful things that really count and weaves them into an hour of pure delight.

Just a tired slip of a girl! Crushed by a burden at home too big to carry. Filled with a love too big for the man who had won it. Lured by dreams too big to come true.

Around her the night—and New York. What awaited her just around the corner?

Another great warm slice of life by the author of "Humoresque."

THE DURANT CAR

"Just a Real Good Car."

Everybody knew he wouldn't fly off and build some OFF-PRICED OUT-OF-CLASS Automobile that would be a drug on the market. BUT— They didn't think he could put long-grained genuine leather and real curled hair in the cushions and back, and the highest grade top material and trimmings, in a car priced at $1375.00 f.o.b. Charlottetown. They didn't think he could put on honeycombed radiators, beautiful walnut-finished dash boards, heavy crown fenders, and give truly fine paint and enamel finish for $1375.00. They didn't think he could build a car so simple and accessible with a motor that can be taken out without removing the radiator or the transmission; with pistons that can be taken out through the lower part of the cylinder block; with a clutch removable by detaching only four bolts; a frame designed to eliminate all rocking and squeaking of body; chrome nickel ring; spiral cut rear and pinion ADJUSTABLE TO WEAR, and the ALEMITE SYSTEM OF lubrication— A car beautiful in design with DURANT'S name on the front. Would it be there if the car wasn't right? Plan for more than you can do, then do it— Bite off more than you can chew, then chew it— THAT'S DURANT It will pay you to see the Durant before placing your order for your 1922 Car.
