

Marshall Wins National Safety Award

The ladies of the Marshallfield Women's Institute learned yesterday they have won a prize of $1,000 and a bronze statuette which is the first prize awarded in the national competition sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Council. It's the first time the award has come to the Maritime province.

The competition is known as the Carol Lane awards for traffic safety projects and the contest is underwritten by the Shell Oil Company.

The information was received from Mrs. Rupert Godfrey, chairman of the safety program committee. Mrs. Ray MacCallum was president of the institute in 1962 when the project was launched. The president now is Mrs. Ernest Foster.

Two members of the institute executive will get an all-expense trip to the annual meeting of the council which is being held this year in Halifax. It was learned from Inspector A.S. McNeil, RCMP, who was most helpful in the Marshallfield in his effort. The inspector remarked laughingly that the group just missed the plane in Columbia, where the annual meeting was held last year.

The announcement of the award was made jointly by the Prince Edward Island Hospital and the Charlottetown Hospital.

It was said that a number of school children and office workers are ill with influenza and the population has been taken to lessen the danger of its spreading to hospital patients.

Hospitals Ban Visiting

Visitors to two hospitals in Charlottetown have been banned as a precaution against spreading influenza. It was stated yesterday.

The announcement of the ban on visiting was made jointly by the Prince Edward Island Hospital and the Charlottetown Hospital.

It was said that a number of school children and office workers are ill with influenza and the population has been taken to lessen the danger of its spreading to hospital patients.

Legion Home Reported Sold For $40,000

Rumors were current last night that a decision has been reached to sell the old Canadian Legion home on Grafton street to the Father's of Confederation Memorial Foundation for an estimated $40,000.

It is understood that the decision was reached at an executive meeting of the Charlottetown Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion Monday night at the home.

The negotiations have been going on for some time as the site is needed to serve as a parking space which will be used for the construction of the Memorial Building on the Market Square.

The old home, which was purchased from Dr. Stephen Jenkins in 1929 by the legion, was torn down in order to make the parking facilities available. An adjacent lot was also purchased in a debate under the heading, "The Available Resources in Family Centre Care for the Atlantic Provinces."

Other members of the group are, from the department of social services, Miss Charlotte Ross, Miss Jean Dover, the P.E.I. Hospital, Miss Margaret MacLaren and Mrs. Marton MacRae; the Charlottetown Hospital, Miss Juanita MacDonald, Miss Hilda Reister; and the Provincial Sanatorium, Miss Gertrude Arsenault, Miss Agnes Ross, Miss Irene Dewar and Mrs. Vera Peake.

Art Society Plans Auction Of Antiques

Plans for a buffet supper and auction of art and antiques, the spring fund-raising event of the P.E.I. Art Society, were discussed at last night's meeting of the society in Prince of Wales College.

The committee reported ticket sales for the occasion almost complete, and urged members to make every effort in the collection of antiques, necessary for the success of the event.

Guests of the meeting were a Barry Bugden, an artist who has gained both national and international recognition. Mr. Bugden demonstrated his technique by working on a portrait of the hostess at the previous meeting.

Next working meeting will be April 2, when members will be preparing decorations for the supper and auction.

New Companies Given Charters

OTTAWA — Two new companies, with head offices in Charlottetown, have been granted letters patent, the current edition of the Canada Gazette reveals.

The road-e-o was to have been staged last year but was rained out on successive Saturdays and had to be postponed until 1963. Members of the RCMP and Hugh Lowry, Presbyterian church pastor were among those who helped instruct children in safety regulations and proper bicycle handling.

COVERED ALL PHASES
The safety instruction covered every part of the school-age children, with posters and essays being produced to spark the children's interest and test their knowledge of instruction received.

Adult members of the district also participated. There were safety films in the community hall where a flashing amber warning light was installed to be used when community gatherings are held. Care and control of motor vehicles was discussed and the value of seat belts explained.

P.W. Barlow who is in charge of testing for motor vehicle driving licenses, assisted in the safety instructing and gave written tests to the senior school pupils.

Mrs. John Stavner, Mrs. Altho Smith and Mrs. Altho MacBeth are members of the safety committee along with Mrs. Godfrey.

Legislature To Resume Debate Today

The Prince Edward Island legislature will not resume its sittings until this afternoon, owing to the storm-blocked highways and the inability of many members to get to the City yesterday, when the session had been scheduled to resume.

Resumption time is 3 o'clock. It was learned from the office of Premier Walter R. Shaw yesterday.

Keith Harrington, P.C. third prince, will have the floor when the sittings resume as he is the mover of the Throne Speech debate. Frank Myers, P.C. first prince, will second the motion, and Alex W. Matheson, Leader of the Opposition, is expected to begin his speech which traditionally follows the mover and seconder of the debate.

The legislature opened last Thursday afternoon and was adjourned at that time until yesterday afternoon.

Warm Welcome Is Given Pearson

A WARM welcome to St. Dunstan's University was given yesterday afternoon as the Nobel Peace Prize Winner Lester B. Pearson yesterday by Rt. Rev. J. A. Sullivan, rector of the university, as he greeted him on arrival to address the students. Mr. Pearson was warmly applauded for his ready acceptance of student questions and his explanatory answers.

Warm Welcome Is Given Pearson

Oozing confidence, a smiling Lester B. (Mike) Pearson arrived yesterday afternoon as a big Canadian Pacific Airlines chartered plane dropped into the local airport an hour over on the flight from Montreal.

There were 25 members in his party including 14 press reporters, mostly members of the Parliamentary Press Gallery at Ottawa.

On hand to greet him was a large representation of local Liberal party supporters headed by A. W. Matheson, leader of the provincial party. W. R. Jenkins, president of the P.E.I. Liberal Federation; and the party's Queens County candidates A/Avon Gillis and Ira Lewis, and Kings County candidate John Mulhally.

An RCMP escort led the long procession of vehicles from the airport to the Charlottetown Hotel with a chartered bus carrying press representatives and other members of the party.

The cavalcade, with Sherwood, Parkdale and City Police at almost every corner, moved through Charlottetown on Longworth Avenue, Weymouth Street, Grafton, Queen, Fitzroy and Powell to the hotel on Kent Street.

At the airport Mr. Pearson greeted many old friends among the welcoming group and on his way to his car bent over to chat with a little girl, Jacqueline Spencer, Sherwood, who was there with her father, John W. Spencer. Her smile was his reward. He also happily welcomed Mrs. B. Earle MacDonald who was present with Mr. MacDonald.

Ch'town Nursing Delegation Attending Health Conference

A group of 11 registered nurses from Charlottetown's four major health centers left the island yesterday afternoon to attend a three-day Maritime health conference to be held at Dalhousie University, Halifax, beginning March 20.

The annual institute, dealing with all major health problems. Miss Ruth Ross, Charlottetown, public health nurse, will be the sole member of the city delegation to take part in any of the panel discussions. Miss Ross will also participate in a debate under the heading, "The Available Resources in Family Centre Care for the Atlantic Provinces."

Other members of the group are, from the department of social services, Miss Charlotte Ross, Miss Jean Dover, the P.E.I. Hospital, Miss Margaret MacLaren and Mrs. Marton MacRae; the Charlottetown Hospital, Miss Juanita MacDonald, Miss Hilda Reister; and the Provincial Sanatorium, Miss Gertrude Arsenault, Miss Agnes Ross, Miss Irene Dewar and Mrs. Vera Peake.

NO CASES

Chief of Police Strens Webster announced that there was a clear docket before Magistrate J. Haslam in city police court yesterday.

CARS REMOVED

Four cars were removed from city streets this morning, for obstructing snow removal efforts. Towing charges will be paid by owners and one owner will have to pay an overnight parking ticket.

MACINTYRE FUNERAL

The funeral for Mrs. Tuesday MacIntyre took place Tuesday morning to St. Michael's Church, Curran Bay, where High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. P. Wood, who also conducted the services at the grave. Very Rev. P. F. MacDonald was present in the sanctuary. Pallbearers were Elmer MacQuaid, William Rattray, Peter Hughes, Bernard MacQuaid, Daniel Bradley and Fred Connick. Interment took place in the church cemetery.

Well Known Cornwall Man, Gordon MacMillan, 79, Dies

Cornwall lost one of its best known citizens and the province's male singing group's valued member, in the death Sunday of Gordon MacMillan at the Prince Edward Island Hospital, in his 80th year.

He possessed an unusually good deep bass voice and sang in many of the province's churches as a member of the popular Cornwall Trio. Mr. MacMillan has been a member of the Trinity Male Eight and of the Charlottetown Male Chorus in the past.

Mr. MacMillan was an elder and clerk of the session for many years in the United Church, a teacher in the Sunday school, a leader in young people's work and was the first president of the Cornwall AOTS (As that of Servants' Men's Club).

He was active in the cause of temperance and was a former president of the provincial temperance federation.

For many years he served on the executive of the P. E. I. Federation of Agriculture and the few years ago was made an honorary member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association.

Mr. MacMillan was a member of the civil service association of Ottawa from 1927 until his retirement 20 years ago. He travelled widely in this province and the Maritimes in the work of the seed branch and did special intelligence duty during the First World War.

He took a keen interest in community activity and was instrumental in building one of the first community tanks in the province. For many years he served on the executive of the Caledonia Club and cherished his Scottish heritage.

But it is in the home that his loss will be most keenly felt and his wife, the former Mabel Howatt of Tryon, and their two sons George and Jack mourn the loss of a dear husband and father, who was the grandfather of Gordie, Donnie, Jeanie, Miriam, Dianne and Bobby.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Cornwall United Church. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Spring Due Tomorrow Says Almanac

Tomorrow morning at 4:30 our time the sun enters Aries, which according to the calendar means that spring is here.

However winter's reminder is still with us as plenty and there's more on the way according to the forecasters but last night was too early to prognosticate just how much. At that time the snowfall wasn't due until this evening.

According to the old farmer's almanac, which has been battling around 750 over many years in predicting the weather, March and April will be going to be "bad." Well it hit March right on the head but everyone hopes it's away off in the April forecast.

MAPS WERE STRATEGIC

Maps were strategic weapons in the age of discovery and empire building. Spanish sea captains were ordered to destroy their charts if threatened with capture.
