

Selected Story.

The Woman Who Planned.

Fate decreed that she should be a woman, and so she was not a general. But if things had been different she would have had a career in a larger field than her own household and its quiet neighborhood.

Still she was fair to look upon with her sunny eyes of blue; her rippling hair of dusky gold, that never knew a curling pin nor felt the indignity of a hot-plate pencil.

Her taking a husband was thoroughly characteristic—which is an incident worthy of mention, inasmuch as the decisive "Yes-es" that are murmured, looked and taking for granted in the world of wooing, have about the same uniformity as the cooing of a cote of doves.

Young Marlowe admired her excessively, she was so strong and bright. He was handsome, amiable and true-hearted, but not "overstocked in his upper story," as the plain-spoken mother of F. ances put it.

She made a plan. Finding that James was likely to run on like the poet's book, to eye, with his punctual calls and excessive talent for sitting up—his inevitable invitations and unwearied but somewhat wearisome attentions—his coy love-making and provoking silences when she had frankly shown him that it would not displease her to hear him speak, the resolute girl's nature and habit asserted themselves.

The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind.

Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well known the effect of capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medical agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniment. After you have tried one of these plasters, and you have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will sell hundreds to your friends.

Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one; $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canada.

MANUFACTURED BY THE NOVELTY PLASTER WORKS, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A., G. E. MITCHELL, Proprietor, Manufacturers of Plasters and Plaster Composites.
