

Viet Cong Fighting Spirit Is Praised By U.S. Soldier

By JOHN T. WHEELER
 PLEI ME, South Viet Nam (AP)—A grimy, bearded U.S. soldier who was on the winning side in the one-week battle of Plei Me paid his respects wryly to the Viet Cong guerrillas, who lost.

"If their morale is low and they're underfed and suffering from malaria, I'd hate to fight 'em when they're full," said Pte. Eugene Tafaya of Albuquerque, N.M.

The Viet Cong suffered 750 casualties, but displayed tough fighting spirit until their final withdrawal in midweek after the arrival of massive U.S. and South Vietnamese relief forces.

"Intelligence reports made public in Saigon sometimes tend to picture the Viet Cong jungle forces as haggard, hunted men suffering from low morale crushed by food shortages, sickness and repeated bombings by American planes."

Beckwith was referring specifically to the two captives taken in the fighting for the Plei Me special forces camp has malaria and he said the disease is prevalent in his regiment.

Beckwith called the forces which tried to overrun the camp "dedicated, well-trained, highly-motivated, excellent soldiers."

Jobless Claims Are Announced

OTTAWA (CP)—The Unemployment Insurance Commission paid $12,800,000 during August to claimants, compared with $11,800,000 in July and $13,200,000 in August last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday.

As a matter of fact, one of the reasons for the increase in the number of cheques estimated to be in the course of negotiation with the big month-end payrolls of the governments and the annual payment of Canada savings bond interest due next Monday.

Opening lead—king of hearts. This deal was played many years ago in a team of four match between two Stockholm teams. South was the Swedish star, Einar Werner, who wound up in seven spades doubled on the bidding shown.

The four diamond bid asked for controls in diamonds and hearts. The five heart response showed second round control of diamonds as well as the ace of the agreed trump suit, hearts. Five notrump was the grand slam force, asking West to bid seven if he had two of the three high heart honors.

Werner sacrificed against seven hearts (which would have been down one). He ruffed the heart lead and cashed nine trumps. When the last trump was led, dummy held the queen of hearts and A-J of clubs.

West, at this point, had the ace of hearts and K-10 of clubs. West was squeezed. When he discarded the nine of clubs, dummy discarded a heart and took the last three tricks with the A-J of clubs. So Werner made the vulnerable grand slam for a score of 2,420 points.

There were fireworks at the other table, too. Werner's teammates, with the East-West cards, reached seven diamonds doubled played by East.

South led the queen of clubs (his partner had doubled five clubs at one point.) Dummy's king brought out the ace, which declarer ruffed.

The play was comparatively simple. East drew two trumps and cashed the king of hearts. When South showed out, declarer had to pin his hopes on the club suit.

He led the ten from dummy, trapping North's jack. Declarer's hearts eventually went off on dummy's good clubs.

So the Werner team, after scoring a grand slam with the North-South cards, also scored one with the East-West cards (another 1,580 points). A diamond lead would have beaten both contracts.

All told, Werner gained 4,000 points on the deal—a lot of points in any league.

P.S.: The Werner team won the match.
