

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

DECEMBER 5, 1889.

Notes and Comments.

Pictou, N. S., says the Monetary Times, gives token of more activity of late than usual. The shoe factory employs 40 to 50 hands, and turns out 150 pairs per day. The directors, finding the building too small, purpose to enlarge it. It is stated by the Eastern Chronicle that Mr. Hamilton's new building, 80x40, is in course of construction, and will employ about 100 hands; D. Fullerton & Sons' sash and door factory is quite extensively occupied, and J. D. Fullerton is putting up a building for a machine shop, to be in operation by the new year. The iron foundry has been put into good order, and machine shop and foundry are all busy.

The Rev. Alfred Osborne, a few years ago Curate of St. Paul's, in this city, has written a letter from Markham, Ontario, to the Empire, in which he remarks that: "If to go on thinking is the very essence of agnosticism, then many of us are at sea as to the meaning of the term. The existence of God is a fact, and accepted as such by the church, but much of the theology which surrounds the fact is revolting, and, in the light, ever increasing, of grace, and of nature, cannot stand. The final word was not said by writers of the past, nor did the 16th century place the top stone to the edifice of theological science. We grant, the faith cannot be changed, but theology is ever subject to scrutiny and re-adjustment, and must be from the very nature of things. The church has one faith required of all men, but to say that men should not think, or that any set of men should impose schools of thought, or theology, as final conditions of salvation, or even of membership, is to say that she ceases to be a living body at that point of her history. It is just this idea, that the final word has been said by some sectarian, that has rent the body of Christ. If men would fight as earnestly for the faith as they do for man made systems of theology, we should soon approach that unity for which we pray and hope."

A representative of a Philadelphia paper has been making a tour of Canada to ascertain the extent of the feeling in the Dominion favorable to annexation. After visiting various provinces of the Dominion and interviewing leading men, he says: "The result leaves no room for doubt. There has been discontent in Ontario; there is still discontent in sections of the east and north-west; but it is infinitesimal and is of a nature that will disappear as Ontario disinterestedly disappeared in the sunshine of prosperity. Their grievances never had the effect of impelling real Canadians to seek relief in annexation. The only known British advocates of that policy to-day are G. Edwin Smith and Erasmus Wiman. The former has by his attitude on this question succeeded only in curtailing his circle of admirers. The latter is hated and despised as a 'renegade.' The wives of the scholar and the piles of the speculator have, as far as could be discovered, had the unexpected effect of fostering royalty to Britain connection. The talk is now of Imperial Federation; two years ago the idea was scouted. Patriotic leagues are forming. As he crossed the Niagara river the other day, the writer met numbers of young men reading pamphlets descriptive of the battle and wearing badges, inscribed 'Lundy's Lane.' The pulpit, the platform and the press vie each with the others in inculcating patriotism. The rapid development of material wealth, the 'pride of possession' of an immense land, are beginning to tell. Canadians are satisfied to rule their own household and farm their own patch. Mr. Dewey has been misinformed. Canada is not the 'willing maiden' described by him, and if this country would avert the pain of a refusal it will be better not to ask her hand in marriage."

ICE AT SUMMERSIDE.—Reports state that there is a good deal of ice in Summerside harbor; but the steamer got out this morning all right.

SHE STOPPED THE CAR.—The Halifax papers tell of a plucky lady passenger who probably saved a street car from wreck the other night. In turning a corner a passenger fell off, and while the driver was looking after him the team ran away. The lady passenger put on the brakes, tightened the ribbons and soon brought the team to a halt. She was plucky and she wore a seal skin sash.

PATENT RESPIRATORS.—The Montreal fire department invested a considerable amount in procuring patent respirators for the men. It was claimed that the respirators would enable the men wearing them to enter an atmosphere impregnated with smoke that they could not otherwise live in it. The respirators proved all right, as far as the smoke was concerned, but as soon as it got hot they melted. The department will now sell them at half price. A respirator that won't stand the heat is not much good for a fireman.

WEDDING BELLS.—On Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, the marriage of Mr. Milton C. Baker and Miss Carrie D. Pipkin was celebrated at the home of the bride's father, Hon. W. H. Pipkin, 1109 Bonville Street. Rev. J. M. Haggins, from Kansas City, a brother-in-law of the bride, performed the ceremony. Relatives of the bride and a few of the groom's most intimate friends were present. Mr. Baker is one of our best young business men, and his bride is as fair as ever the sun shone on. Mr. and Mrs. Baker are keeping house at 712 South Street, and are "at home" to their many friends.—Springfield, Mo., Herald. [The Mr. Baker referred to in the foregoing extract is a son of John F. Baker, Esq., now Charlotte town. He has been in Missouri for some eight years past, and is now a partner in a large dry goods store. We wish Mr. Baker and his bride every success in life.]

AN ISLANDER KILLED.—The Oakland, Cal., Times reports that Mr. W. D. Ross, a young switchman employed in the railroad yard at the foot of Peralta street, that place, was run over and fearfully mutilated by a train of cars shortly after six o'clock on the 22d November. Ross was taken to the hospital where both legs were amputated at the hips. He did not, however, survive the operation, dying at ten o'clock on the same night. He bore his sufferings with the greatest heroism, and shortly before his death wrote loving messages to his mother and sweetheart. Mr. Ross was a son of Mr. Alexander Ross, of Grand View, and was about 25 years of age. He had only been in Oakland a few months, but had been engaged in railroad work in different parts of the country the greater portion of his life. He made many friends wherever he went.

That Christmas Money.

In the next few weeks people will talk Christmas more than all other subjects combined. And very many will count their pennies to see if they will go around. And some will realize for the countless things offered for sale, "that money talks." Yes and many a poor tired clerk will wish that they could talk—back. To give unselfishly without thought of return is the true Christmas spirit; but how many times, oh human nature, will the thought occur this month "Now if I make so and so and so a Christmas present, I wonder if I will get a return next year." The growing Christmas present custom comes hard upon certain classes, who do not always have plenty of ready money; among farmers and people near towns, who keep poultry the "egg supply" is a great source of Christmas money, because prices are always very high at this season. If the old hens will only shell out the eggs now, thinks many a mother, I can soon get back all the money taken for Christmas. The surest way we have heard of to get it back is this—E. A. Hubbard of Hatfield, Mass., says, "about one year ago I sent $5.00 for six cans of Sheridan's Condition Powder to make hens lay and in January my 24 hens laid 29 dozen eggs. I have sent $5.00 this year for six more cans and the Farm Poultry monthly." Certainly that Christmas money came back in short order. Mrs. Warren DeLano, Hampton, Me., said recently to the manufacturer of this wonderful Powder "I send $6.00 for Farm Poultry two years, and six large eggs of Sheridan's Powder. It is the very thing needed. Last winter my hens did so poorly I almost lost heart, but this year 50 hens have cleaned me $125.00. All for a little courage and Sheridan's Powder, her hens paid her more than double the average usually allowed per hen, so that her Christmas money returned manifold. Husband, a word to the wise is sufficient; Make your wives a Christmas present of six cans of Sheridan's Powder and let it go no other. For 50 cents I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send two 25 cent packs; five packs for $1.00; or for $1.20 one large 24 pound can of Powder, postpaid; six cans for $5.00, express pre-paid. The best poultry paper, Farm-Poultry, one year, and a can of Powder for $1.50.

Personal.

Dr. Bagnall returned from Amherst last evening.

Mr. H. W. Anderson, locomotive foreman of the P. E. Island Railway, is at present at Moncton superintending the snow plow service of the I. C. R. Mr. Anderson is well and favorably known here, and it is highly complimentary to his mechanical genius that he should be chosen by the Minister of Railways and Canals to take charge of this very important work in the interests of the Government railways of Canada.
