State Dept. Takes Issue With Dean Acheson Remarks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The state department today disagreed with some remarks made by former state secretary Dean Acheson in a speech this week but refused comment on an Acheson observation that Britain's role in world affairs "is about played out."

Lincoln White, the department's spokesman, was asked to comment on the speech Acheson made Wednesday at the West Point Military Academy. White, who made it clear his comments were based on news stories and not the state report he did not get a text of the Acheson speech, declined to comment on a new low evaluation of Britain as a factor in present world affairs.

Bulb Campaign Reported Successful

William Campbell, reporting on the Christmas light bulb campaign, informed last night's meeting of the Charlottetown Junior Chamber of Commerce that the campaign had been very successful.

Weather Could Close Fishing

SOURIS — A possibility existed last night that the high wind and rain might terminate the fishing season for this year. Last night all fishing drags were tied up in ports in the Souris area.

Float Arrives Home Today

Fresh from its Grey Cup Parade triumph, the Charlottetown float is expected back in town this afternoon. Now making its way through northern New Brunswick, it is expected in Chatham today, and the boys accompanying it believe they will cross on the ferry at noon today.

Inspectors Not Federal

None of the inspectors who examine the products being brought in to food processing plants here are from the Canada department of agriculture, it was learned yesterday from Gerald Harrison, acting provincial inspector, fruit and vegetable department, though federal men do sometimes inspect the finished product.

The LIBERAL PARTY Believes

1 Family incomes can be increased by modern trading and modern selling methods for the Island's farm and fisheries producers.
2 Modern trading methods and modern selling techniques can create the markets so essential to Island prosperity.
3 The Liberal candidates campaigning under Alex Matheson's experienced leadership have the interests of the people at heart . . . they will do the job!

The LIBERAL PLAN For Action

1. Schools books up to and including Grade 10 will be a Government Responsibility.
2. Standards of Education should be at a uniformly high level across the Province.
3. Hospital Insurance Premiums should be paid by the Government.
