2 Houses Burned In Tignish Area

TIGNISH — The severe electrical storm which raged through this area Thursday night and early Friday morning caused a fire which destroyed one house while a second house was damaged by a bolt of lightning. A third home burned in the Tignish area but that was before the electrical storm began.

A large home belonging to Wilfred and Bert Phee, Norway, four miles from Tignish, was levelled by fire Friday morning. The house was struck by lightning at about 10 o'clock Thursday evening wrecking the chimney and cable end and knocking Bert Phee from a chair in the kitchen of the home.

The two men checked for fire before retiring and about 2:30 a.m. Wilfred was awakened from a sound sleep by the crackling of wood and discovered the upper storey of the house in flames.

Some furniture was saved from the ground floor. The Tignish fire department, called out during the afternoon when fire destroyed the home of Lynus Christopher three miles south of Tignish, attended the Phee fire but found the blaze out of control when they arrived.

The severe electrical storm which lasted three and a half hours caused extensive damage to the home of John James Perry, Tignish Shore.

A lightning bolt damaged both the outside and inside of the home. The storm was considered one of the worst in Tignish for many years.

Newspapers here were deluged with calls throughout the day from anxious people, desiring the names of persons killed in the tragedy.

Yugoslav pilot, Aleksander Blagojevic, was seen as he flew the railroad station in north-western Yugoslavia to ferry rescue terms and medical supplies.

SEARCH RUBBLE
At nightfall, rescuers still were digging through the rubble from which screams and calls for help could be heard.

Tens of thousands of persons strolled in the ruined streets, some weeping, others just staring blankly at the wreckage of their homes. Many still were in their night clothes.

As a safety precaution, all citizens were ordered to stay out of their homes for the next 24 hours.

Yugoslav army units set up emergency distribution centres for water since the city's supply—as well as its telephone and telegraph lines—was knocked out.

The first shock hit at 5:17 a.m. Skopje time (1:17 a.m. EDT).

Witnesses reaching Belgrade from the stricken city reported seeing buildings collapse before their eyes among the destroyed here for a second time.

"We left the hotel shortly after 5 a.m. to catch the airport bus," said one, Ingeborg Weiss. "We were barely 20 yards from the hotel when the ground began to rumble. It was a horrifying rumble. We were trembling with fear."

"Then we saw our hotel collapse like a house of cards. . . . A cloud of dust sprang up around us and we couldn't see anything for a full quarter of an hour."

Farewell Party At Tignish Honors Bloice Ellis Family

TIGNISH — A popular Tignish Mr. and Mrs. Ellis both exemplified sincere appreciation to their many friends assembled, prior to their leaving for London on Friday where Mr. Ellis will be in the place they have known as home and where they would be transferred.

An address expressing regret at seeing this active young couple leaving the village was read by Mrs. Earl Macdonald and the presentation. Co-hostesses "bought money" on behalf of the group for the evening were: Mrs. E. C. Gaudette, Mrs. Joseph Dorsey, and Mrs. E. C. Gaud- Mrs. Earl Macdonald and Mrs. Atwood Gavin.

Non-Aggression Pact Suggested By Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev, a partial nuclear test ban treaty initially called on the west Friday to press ahead with negotiations for a non-aggression pact between NATO and the Communist bloc.

He called the treaty a step toward ending cold war tensions, adding that Britain and the United States had agreed in the talks to negotiations on the non-aggression question.

Khrushchev's views were released to the newspapers in Paris and L'Express as he conferred in the Kremlin with state Undersecretary W. Averell Harriman on the treaty and plans of Laos. The United States wants Khrushchev to use his influence to get the fighting stopped in that Communist-threatened Southeast Asian kingdom.

The Toronto visitors flew to Yugoslavia June 17 and were to spend two weeks in Skopje before returning home.

President Tito decreed Friday and Saturday days of national mourning and messaged his sympathy over the "catastrophic earthquake."

Rescue squads rushed to Skopje, a city of minarets and mosques 210 miles southwest of Belgrade. From all over Yugoslavia trucks and buses were pressed into service to evacuate victims.

Taking reported a mercy airplane, the official Yugoslav news agency, said all 300 guests at the hotel were killed.

Mrs. Christoff said her mother was also visiting Skopje. Many of Toronto's 30,000-40,000 residents of Macedonian origin have relatives in the Skopje area.

TORONTO (CP) — Twenty-nine Toronto residents were believed to be in the earthquake-stricken city of Skopje, Yugoslavia, where a violent earthquake Friday toppled buildings and killed an estimated 5,000 and injured thousands of persons.

The Toronto visitors, all of Macedonian ancestry, flew to Yugoslavia July 17 and were to spend two weeks in Skopje before returning home.

Mrs. Hope Christoff of suburban Dan Mills, organizer of the trip said many of the party were booked into the Macedonia hotel-levelled by the earthquake.

Mrs. Christoff said her mother was also visiting Skopje. Many of Toronto's 30,000-40,000 residents of Macedonian origin have relatives in the Skopje area.

In search of "so new and costly efforts of understanding and imagination are necessary."

"More parts of the world face difficult and revolutionary situations which raise problems about the role of the churches there."

Finally more contact with the Roman Catholic Church, "which puts questions to the rest of Christendom," meant the conference could "only touch the fringes," of the problem.

SEEK UNDERSTANDING
Calling for all Christians to seek understanding of other churches, the message said God's gifts "cannot be shared by us in our local churches until we become the one people of God in each place and are prepared to realize this by shared and bold ventures in living faith."

"We invite our churches to continue in every way that can manifest the unity of life which is hidden with God in Christ."

The report that touched on racial discrimination said that Christians everywhere should fight it "whatever the cost."

It said that to God "all men everywhere are of one blood" and called for "common protest against unjust laws which create or enforce racial divisions."

The conference closed with a special service of worship at the Anglican Christ Church Cathedral in downtown Montreal.

Rev. Dr. Willem A. Visser 't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council, said in his sermon that Christians must not think they will ever have inner peace unless they identify themselves "with the radical and total pacification which God has initiated himself."

HALIFAX (CP) — The weather office says very hot air circulating from the Gulf of Mexico through Louisiana to Ohio and across the Appalachians, brought a heat wave to the Maritimes on Friday.

Many new high temperature records were set.

Cooler air over the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Newfoundland is not expected to break this heat wave, and so high temperatures and humidities are forecast for the weekend throughout the Maritimes.

A few isolated showers or thunderstorms may be set off along the northern edges of the district.
